Yielding on Poland Partition Hit.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Protests against the President's agreement for American policing of Germany and approval of the forcible partition of Poland echoed on Capitol hill today as the results of the Crimean conference of the Big Three proclaimed yesterday were subjected to a closer scrutiny.

Rep. O'Konski.

The conference was widely viewed as a victory for Russian Dictator Stalin, who substantially gained all his objectives, and as a defeat for President Roosevelt, who backed down from the position he took on the Atlantic Charter and the rape of Poland less than two months ago.

In a speech in the house, Rep. O'Konski [R., Wis.] denounced the Crimean agreement as a "sell-out of Poland." Sen. Shipstead [R., Minn.], a member of the senate committee on foreign relations, called attention to the backdown by Mr. Roosevelt.

Position Recalled.

The President's position on the Russian proposal to annex the eastern half of Poland was stated by Secretary of State Stettinius Dec. 18 last.

"In the case of the future frontiers of Poland," said Stettinius, "if a mutual agreement is reached by the united nations directly concerned [Russia and Poland], this government would have no objection to such an agreement which could make an essential contribution to the prosecution of the war against the common enemy."

Sen. Shipstead said he failed to find in the bulletin issued by the Big Three anything about a mutual agreement between Poland and Russia on the cession of eastern Poland to the soviet union.

"Got What He Wanted."

"You may be sure," said Shipstead, "that if there had been such agreement between Poland and Russia the Big Three would have said so. Instead, the Big Three say that 'the eastern frontier of Poland should follow the Curzon line, which is what Stalin has demanded all along. Stalin got what he wanted in the Big Three conference and the President backed down from what he proclaimed as his position only last December. The President has assented to coercive territorial rearrangements containing the seeds of future wars. Why did he back down? I think he should tell us. Or must we wait to get our information as in the past from a Churchill report to parliament?"

Speculation on the Roosevelt surrender to Stalin took a wide range. It was recalled that Mr. Roosevelt described himself to the voters in the Presidential election campaign as best qualified to negotiate with Churchill and Stalin because he knows them so well. It was pointed out that Mr. Roose-

Ed Stettinius Takes a Night Off in Moscow

MOSCOW, Feb. 13 (AP).—Big Ed Stettinius, looking like the world's happiest salesman of good-will, turned up at the Moscow ballet tonight with a 3,000 ruble bouquet for its blonde star and received an ovation from the packed house, led by beaming Foreign Commissar Molotov. [At the diplomatic exchange rate 3,000 rubles would be approximately $566.]

The American secretary of state occupied the gold leafed imperial box of the capital's famous Bolshoi theater for the four act performance of Tschaikovsky's "Swan Lake," in which flaxen haired Marina Semenova was the prima ballerina.

Flanked by Molotov and Vice Commissar Andrei J. Vishinsky, the white haired American statesman was greeted by continued applause which was quieted only by the playing of the American and soviet anthems.

Budapest Fall Announced.

Just to make the evening perfect from an allied point of view, the final liberation of Budapest was announced from the stage after the first act. The reverberation of Moscow's hundreds of guns saluting the victory was heard within the theater.

American and soviet flags hung from Stettinius' box and a Russian newsreel camera ground a record of his visit to what, after decades, has become a shrine of the art of the dance—a shrine which, incidentally, Prime Minister Churchill, Gen. de Gaulle, and many other allied notables have visited the last year.

The audience was sprinkled with officers of the Red army as well as members of the American embassy staff, allied and neutral diplomatic missions and foreign commissariat personnel.

Edward J. Flynn, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, who is a guest at the American embassy along with Stettinius, also was a guest in the imperial box. Others included Kathleen Harriman, daughter of American Ambassador Harriman; Mrs. George F. Kennan, wife of the American minister, and Maj. Gen. S. P. Spalding, chief of the supply division of the American military mission.

In Wrinkled Suit.

Maxim Litvinov, former ambassador to the United States, shared the duties of host with Molotov and Vishinsky.

Stettinius wore a rather wrinkled gray business suit. Molotov likewise was in civilian garb, but the other soviet officials wore the gray uniform with gold braided trimmings of the foreign commissariat.

Stettinius' bouquet for Ballerina Semenova included lilacs and foxgloves, but no roses. The bill of 3,000 rubles is only nominal for such a luxury at this season.

Stettinius had indicated earlier today that his visit to the soviet capital was not so much for business as to gratify his long-held desire to see Russia and obtain first-hand information on its war time character. He was expected to remain for two or three days.

TAKE A SECOND LOOK!

JAPANESE SINK BABY FLAT TOP

Minesweeper Also Lost in Philippines.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13 (AP).—The navy disclosed tonight the loss of the Ommaney Bay and its brief gallant career that made the escort aircraft carrier a scourge to the Japanese.

Both the Ommaney Bay and the Long, a minesweeper, were sunk by enemy action in the Philippines area, the brief bulletin said.

Up until the final action, heavy destruction was achieved without loss in combat of a pilot or aircrewman of the vessel's air complement, known as composite squadron 75, the navy said.

The next of kin of casualties have been informed, the navy said, but the number was not disclosed. Both commanders were saved. The carrier's normal complement would be 500 men while the minesweeper would carry 120.

The Ommaney Bay was the 10th United States aircraft carrier and the fifth of the "baby flat tops" class sunk in this war. The two losses brought the total of warships sunk to 209.

The Ommaney Bay and her squadron of flyers supported the invasion of the Palau islands in September and later fought at Leyte and Mindoro and took part in the fight in which escort carriers stood off a Jap battleship force aimed at the Leyte beachhead.

Red Cross Army Makes War Easier for Fighters in Italy

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Feb. 13.—If the 37,509,377 doughnuts made in Italy in 1944 by the American Red Cross were laid edge to edge they would extend 1,776 miles. But they weren't; they were gobbled, with oceans of hot coffee, by tired and hungry Americans fighting the battle of Italy.

Figures dug yesterday from the files of Red Cross headquarters show the job this organization has done since the first Red Cross workers landed with American troops in the Salerno invasion. More than 1,000 American girls and men of the Red Cross are now working here—in clubs, in behind the lines cities, in hospitals, in rest homes, in theaters, and with clubmobile units assigned to the fighting divisions.

65 Clubs in Operation.

The Red Cross is operating 65 enlisted men's and officers' clubs thruout Italy. Some of these clubs, such as those in Rome, Naples, and Florence, are elaborate establishments in abandoned palaces and villas of the Fascist nobility, in hotels, and in railroad stations that became worthless when allied planes knocked Italy's rail lines into a cocked hat. Others are in drab, hastily constructed buildings in the deep mud of air fields or infantry replacement centers. But all try hard to offer similar facilities.

If there is anything in a neighborhood worth seeing, there's a tour service, with buses and guides. There are dances, with bands and with certified Italian girl partners supplied. There are hot showers, occasionally even bathtubs, and always barber shops. Free movies are shown once or twice weekly. These are in addition to more basic services, such as lounge and writing rooms, library, gameroom, package wrapping booth, sewing service, lectures, and snack bars where coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches, and sometimes ice cream are dispensed.

Beauty Shops for WACs.

Several of the larger clubs even have beauty shops, where WACs and nurses can buy facials and hair waves, and dream of home.

Hundreds of Red Cross men and girls are assigned to 27 clubmobile units, most of which are assigned to combat units, and occasionally find themselves under fire. In 1944 these units dished up more than 12¼ million servings to American troops. Many times I have seen these men and girls making coffee and frying doughnuts while high velocity German shells combed nearby areas.

One hundred and sixty-five Red Cross workers, mostly girls, are assigned to 52 American military hospitals in Italy. They operate theaters, snack bars, garmerooms, and craft shops for ambulatory patients; write letters for, or read to, more seriously wounded men; run errands, conduct lending libraries, and the like.

Fourteen Rest Homes.

In addition, the Red Cross operates 14 rest homes in quiet parts of the country where exhausted men can get away from the war for a while, and 12 large movie theaters, distinct from the weekly or semi-weekly shows given in the clubs.

Then there's the service which might be labeled, army style, as "distribution, essential articles." Every clubmobile, club, hospital unit and other Red Cross station stocks tooth brushes, combs, tooth paste, shaving cream, razors, soap, and towels for soldiers. These are distributed free, and statistics show that 3,496 tons of such supplies were distributed in the last six months of 1944. In the entire year, 3,000,000 tooth brushes alone were given out. These supplies were purchased with Red Cross funds.

DRIVE STARTS MARCH 1.

SECRET IS OUT; NIMITZ'S NEW BASE IS GUAM

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET ADVANCED HDQ., Guam, Feb. 14 [Wednesday] — (AP). — The secret is out—and the dateline tells the story. Fleet Adm. Nimitz, who announced several weeks ago he had moved his advanced base to a "forward area," let it be known in a press release that that forward area is Guam.

Guam, also the base of the 21st bomber command which is sending the B-29 Super Fortresses against Japan and bases in between, is 3,800 miles west of Pearl Harbor.

2 Oust Cigaret Customer from Store; Fined $5 Each

Nick Hanas, 40, and his brother, William, 32, who admitted they pushed a cigaret customer from their store at 2 Madison st., Oak Park, without selling him a package, altho they had an ample supply, were each fined $5 and $3 costs yesterday by Justice of the Peace James O. Basta. They were charged with assault and battery by Robert Williams, 22, of 545 S. Taylor av., Oak Park.

France to Build Base at Dakar

PARIS, Feb. 13 (AP).—Construction of a huge naval and air base at Dakar in West Africa was voted by the cabinet of the De Gaulle government today. It announced the move would eventually contribute to "collective security."

The Dakar project was adopted on reports of the war, navy, air and colonial ministers shortly after Gen. de Gaulle announced he had been informed last night by the American, British, and Russian ambassadors of the decisions reached at the Big Three Crimean conference.

The governmental announcement of the plan for Dakar said the naval and air base was aimed at guaranteeing communications of the empire as well as contributing to collective security. The emphasis it placed on the latter led to speculation that France intends to make Dakar an international base and perhaps put it at the disposal of the allied nations' security council.

Dakar, at the westernmost point of Africa, has a large American naval base established as a result of the agreement between Lt. Gen. Clark and Adm. Darlan after the North African invasion. In the hands of an aggressor nation it would be a threat to both North and South America.

PATTON CRACKS SIEGFRIED LINE AT NEW POINT

Allies Push Beyond Kleve in North.

PARIS, Feb. 13 (AP).—Widening their breach in the Siegfried line between the Maas [Meuse] river and the Rhine, British and Canadian troops today drove beyond Kleve, emerged from the eastern edge of the Reichswald and, south of the forest, established a bridgehead over the Niers river.

Approximately 1,000 British planes slashed at Nazi forces on the northern sector of the front.

More than 100 miles to the south the United States 3d army sent elements of three divisions pouring thru a new break in Hitler's west wall south of Pruem.

Lt. Gen. Patton's 3d army made the new breach in the enemy's west wall opposite the Luxemburg frontier when the 5th and 80th infantry division linked up their two bridgeheads in the Wallendorf-Echternach area, forming a single salient 10 miles wide and two miles deep. The Siegfried defenses are thin and close to the border at that point.

Luxemburg Cleared.

Other 3d army troops cleared Vianden — driving the last Nazi troops from Luxemburg. The 4th infantry division completed mopping up Pruem after repulsing two strong German counter-attacks with heavy losses.

[A Reuters dispatch from London said the German DNB news agency claimed that the Americans were thrown out of Pruem by German grendiers and paratroops.]

With the clearing of Vianden, the allies held a continuous 145 mile front inside Germany, stretching from the Kleve area to near Saarbruecken.

Canadians at the northern end of the front entered Greithausen, less than a mile from the Rhine and 300 airline miles from Berlin. This was described as the heaviest fighting of the six day old British-Canadian offensive against enemy forces now swelled to seven divisions at the expense of other western front sectors.

Prisoner Toll Over 5,000.

Prisoners passed 5,000; enemy dead were piling up fast on the water logged battle field.

The day's heaviest fighting took place in the muddy terrain east of Kleve, where the Nazis battled to keep the British from pushing beyond the Siegfried line's second belt of fortifications.

South of Kleve British troops won a bridgehead over the Niers river some 2,000 yards east of the captured stronghold of Gennep and were reported steadily enlarging it tonight. An armored patrol fought into Hommersum, three miles southeast of Gennep. The entire area was heavily sown with mines.

The British hit a wall of German resistance near Kessel, four miles from Goch, a devastated center of 11 highways and railroads. Some allied units, however, were reported less than three miles from Goch.

Lt. Gen. Hodges' American 1st army front 115 miles south of Kleve was static along the flooded Roer and at the dams on the headwaters. The Americans reached the last two dams, the Heimbach and Ober Maubach on the Roer headwaters.

"Dominate" Two Dams.

"We still have only what is officially called 'domination' of two of the dams, but have physical possession of none of them," said an Associated Press dispatch from 1st army headquarters, "this despite inaccurate and misleading statements from supreme headquarters and other sources."

The whole southern end of the western front was relatively quiet, with only patrol activity and artillery exchanges.

The 36th [Texas] division of the United States 7th army once more ejected the Germans from Oberhoffen, 15 miles north of Strasbourg. An explosion in newly won Colmar below Strasbourg caused considerable damage. It was believed caused by a German time bomb.

50 BILLION FRAUD IN U.S. CONTRACT DEALS CHARGED

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—The United States controler general shocked a house committee today by estimating that waste and crookedness in war contracts had cost the taxpayers 50 billion dollars, averaging nearly $400 for each citizen, young and old.

Lindsay C. Warren.

Lindsay C. Warren, whose office carries the unofficial title of "treasury watchdog," added a denunciation of the army and navy officers who have doffed their uniforms to use their war and navy department contacts to financial advantage.

Warren appeared before the committee on executive expenditures, headed by Rep. Manasco [D., Ala.], to indorse a bill making illegal the payment of "kickbacks," gifts, or gratuities to war contractors who farm out government orders to subcontractors.

Payments Called Bribes.

He cited examples, previously reported to congress, of "astounding payments" which committee members referred to as "bribes." These sums were paid by subcontractors to officials of contracting firms who operated under the cost-plus-fixed-fee-system, charging all costs to the government.

The Manasco bill provides for civil recovery of these amounts and gives the controler general powers of investigation. Committee members indicated that a criminal penalty clause would be added to the measure for those found guilty of engaging in kickbacks.

"Outrageous and damnable practices would be prevented by this bill," said Warren. "We are still auditing 35 billions of cost-plus-fixed fee contracts. The contracts are legal but so wide open you can drive a team of horses thru them.

"I can't conceive of a reputable contractor being opposed to this bill nor an government agency which is interested in the taxpayer."

Cost Termed Staggering.

Warren was asked at this point the additional cost of the war due to the contract system under discussion.

"It is so staggering that it is almost beyond guess or computation," he answered. "Fifty billions would not be excessive."

The controler then noted that recent contract legislation granted exemptions to the 1872 statute, passed as a result of scandals in President Grant's administration, which forbids the government employes from making profits out of government business within two years after their resignation.

"The general accounting office knows," he said, "of many persons wearing uniforms just a few months back who are out today prosecuting big claims against the government. The only label describing this practice is "indecent."

ANNIHILATION OF JAPS NEAR: GEN. M'ARTHUR

Enemy Casualties Set at 68,000.

MANILA, Feb. 14 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Capture of the Cavite naval base and Nichols air field was announced today by Gen. MacArthur, who said the end of Japan's trapped Manila garrison was "in sight."

MacArthur reported enemy casualties of more than 68,000 for the five weeks of the Luzon campaign as compared with American casualties of 9,683, including 2,102 killed.

Seize 10 Jap Seaplanes.

The 11th air borne division in taking Cavite seized 10 enemy seaplanes and a battery of three inch guns intact. The division also took Nichols field.

First cavalry division units also reached Manila bay just below the embattled downtown sector as they speared thru the Pasay district from the direction of captured Nielson air field.

MacArthur said the 37th infantry division was "closing in" on the Japanese holed up in the thick-walled Intramuros district, near the bay just south of the Pasig river mouth.

Meanwhile, north of Manila, troops of the 6th division secured an abandoned air field at Baler, on the east coast of Luzon. Extensive mopping up of enemy pockets in the central Luzon plain was reported, and a counter-attack south of Baguio was turned back.

Corregidor Blasted.

Corregidor fortress was kept under American bombsights. Another 150 tons of explosives fell on the island bastion in a quick follow-up to the more than 200 tons dropped the previous 48 hours in company with 700 tons on Bataan.

Hits were scored on four heavy gun batteries on Corregidor.

Within Manila the Japanese suicide garrison appeared bent on exacting as high a price in lives and property as possible before being exterminated.

[Arthur Feldman, Blue network correspondent, said Manila for the time being is "paralyzed" by the heavy destruction wrought. He reported the devastation is comparable to that around St. Paul's cathedral in London, made familiar to Americans thru pictures of scenes there.]

Planes Blast Barges.

Hope of escape across the bay was sealed by the watchfulness and deadly accuracy of American warplanes supporting the land action, as evidenced by the sinking off Bataan of 35 enemy barges carrying around 2,500 troops.

Armored units of the 6th United States division completed the segregation of Japanese troops in mountainous north and northeastern Luzon from the south, with a drive from Bongabon thru the Sierra Madres to Dingalan bay on the east coast.

The Yanks' penetration to Dingalan bay established a complete defense line across the island from Lingayen gulf on the northwest.

Most of the Japanese force on Luzon is believed established in the northern mountains, from which the enemy makes occasional dashes against American positions on the central plain. All these forays have been bloodily repulsed.

In air operations in the southern Philippines, Mitchell bombers destroyed or damaged four small Japanese vessels at the waterfront of Zamboanga on Mindanao Island and blew up a fuel tank. The Padao airdrome near Davao on the same island was cratered.

Philippines based American planes scouring the China sea from Indo-China north to Hong Kong and Formosa shot down 13 enemy planes, destroyed or damaged a number of others parked on air fields, and sank or damaged several vessels. One American plane was lost.

These air attacks, taking the Yank flyers also along the Batan Island between Luzon and Formosa and over the Sakishima group northeast of Formosa, are taking a toll of Japanese sea and aircraft destined for the relief of Nipponese forces in northern Luson.

FEAR FORMOSA LANDING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Tokyo radio yesterday cautioned the home front against possibility of an allied invasion of Formosa [Taiwan]. The broadcast described the island as not only "the vanguard for the defense of our homeland," but as "the central strong point for the defense of the G. E. A. [greater east Asia] sphere."

Another Tokyo broadcast said a Japanese unit landed Saturday on American held Morotai island, north of Halmahera, and asserted "a gallant battle is progressing now."

24 NAVY MEN DIE AS PLANE DIVES INTO FRISCO BAY

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 13 (AP).—Twenty-four navy men died today as a twin engine land plane dived into San Francisco bay 12 minutes after it had taken off from the Oakland airport on an eastbound flight.

There were 21 passengers and a crew of three on the transport plane. The reckage of the plane was lifted from the shallow water and the navy said six bodies had been recovered. Names of those aboard were withheld.

11 Bodies Recovered.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 13 (AP).—An army convoy returned to Gowen army air field today with the bodies of 11 men who were killed Friday in the crash of a bomber in the Pueblo mountain range on the Nevada-Oregon border.

Lt. Col. William I. Margolis, base commandant, said the dead included 2d Lt. Allen D. Blake, 414 Claim st., Aurora, Ill.; 2d Lt. Edward A. Bucek, 6508 W. Burnham st., West Allis, Wis.; Flight Officer Anton Pecnik, 1123 Harbor st., Two Rivers, Wis., and Flight Officer Roy L. Pierson, 831 Farrar st., Cadillac, Mich.

ATTENDED AURORA HIGH.

Lt. Blake, 28, was the son of Mrs. Henry Moos, 414 Claim st., Aurora, and the sister of Mrs. Dorothy Jarman, 2141 E. 97th st., Chicago. He entered the army air forces as an aviation cadet in February, 1943, in California, and was graduated last June in San Antonio, Tex., as a bomber pilot. He attended Aurora High school, formerly worked at the Rock Island arsenal, and was a shipyards worker at Long Beach, Cal., when he entered the air forces. A military funeral will be held in Aurora when the body is returned.

JAPS HINT B-29s CHASE FACTORIES TO MANCHURIA

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Aircraft factories and other vital war plants are being moved from Japan to Manchuria, the Tokyo radio said yesterday with a hint that the transfers were the result of American air raids. The broadcast said that Rokuzo Takabe, director of the Manchukuoan [Manchurian] general affairs bureau, had mentioned the transfer in outlining a general plan for the "readjustment of the Japan-Manchukuo industrial structure."

Kernel of "the plan," said the broadcast, is the "construction of new factories in Manchukuo and removal of plants from Japan. The plan is already under way with remarkable efficiency," the broadcaster added.

Tokyo in previous broadcasts reported that aircraft factories were being moved to underground sites in Japan as protection from the B-29 attacks.

BRITISH CAPTURE TOWN 40 MILES FROM MANDALAY

KANDY, Ceylon, Feb. 13 (AP).—British 14th army troops, consolidating a bridgehead on the east bank of the Irrawaddy river 40 miles north of Mandalay, have captured Singu but are meeting opposition in the southern outskirts of that Burmese town, allied headquarters announced today. West of Mandalay in the peninsula formed by the confluence of the Irrawaddy and the Chindwin other 14th army units seized the village of Sulegon after a seven hour battle.

Chinese 1st army troops in North Burma cleared the Burma road southward to within 61 miles of the key city of Lashio.

CALLS SPANISH ENVOY IN MANILA BETRAYER OF U.S.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13 (AP).—Rep. Coffee [D., Wash.] today charged in the house that Jose Del Castano, Spanish consul to Manila, is a fascist and a murderer and "Has on his hands the blood of thousands of Americans," and demanded that the state department declare the Spanish diplomat persona non grata.

He urged that Del Castano be arrested and held for a speedy trial.

Coffee said that when the Japanese occupied Manila, each foreign consul was requested to prepare a list of Americans considered "most dangerous to the axis." He said Del Castano was the only diplomat who consented.

ACE DIVISIONS DECIDE ISSUE IN BATTLE OF BULGE

U.S. 1st, 2d and 9th Hold Monschau Shoulder.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Tribune War Correspondent, Home on Leave.]

Tradition, training, and battle experience of crack American divisions paid rich dividends in smashing the surprise German counter-offensive thru the Ardennes in December.

American superiority, in the amount of men and material and the placing of our forces at the Monschau shoulder of the bulge to meet the Nazi thrusts, were leading factors in blocking the German drive, of course, but there were several days when only the raw courage of some of our finest troops stood between Von Rundstedt and an astonishing victory.

Unforgettable was the stand of the 1st infantry division which was in a rest area miles behind the front on the day the enemy attacks began and by dawn the next day was in the line holding the vital Monschau shoulder. This was the first place where the German panzers [armor] sought to break thru toward Liege and the rich American supply dumps dotting the rear areas.

Some Breathless Days.

Those early days when the German drive was gathering momentum were breathless ones for every one along the front. Communications had been disrupted and units were being pushed forward with such speed that in many cases higher headquarters had no accurate idea just where their subordinate commands were located.

The military police were as baffled as any one and often threw up their hands in complete bewilderment when asked for directions to this or that command post.

In addition German paratroopers were known to have been dropped behind the American lines and specially trained saboteurs disguised as doughboys were reported to have infiltrated thru our tattered positions. In a word, according to those who find military understatements intriguing, it was a "fluid" situation. Things were well snarled to say the least.

"Fighting First" Business-like.

At the front that first day Wes Gallagher of the Associated Press and I searched for several hours for 1st division headquarters. We found it finally in a little town at a crossroads neatly set up in a two story house with maps and charts covering the walls and tables piled high with papers. Telephones were in constant use and couriers came in and out exchanging a few words with officers, nodding and answering brief questions.

The quiet business-like atmosphere was in sharp contrast to the confused excitement which we had encountered all along the way to the front and the roaring thunder of the guns which shook the ground as the artillery poured unceasing fire upon the Germans who were then only over the next rise of ground.

"What's doing?" we asked as a starter.

"Nothing much" said a tall intelligence officer. "Things're pretty well under control."

The calm rejoinder and almost total lack of any indication that there was anything unusual taking place simply did not fit into the picture as we had seen it every place else that day.

"Nobody Coming Thru Here."

"But," we exclaimed with some heat, "What about this attack? Are the Germans going to get thru? We hear there are tanks roaming around everywhere."

"O, hell, that," said the officer. "There's nobody coming thru here. This is the 1st division."

Perhaps it was only imagination; perhaps just that we had been too impressed with the upset circumstances and the chaotic disorder that seemed to be everywhere that day; but there did seem to be a ring of pride in his voice.

"We've got the 9th division on our right and the 2d division on our left," he continued. "They aren't as good as we are but they are better than the Germans and no one is going thru us around here."

And no truer words were ever spoken.

The Shoulder Holds.

With tanks, some of their best infantry units, and unusualy large concentrations of artillery, the Nazis tried in vain for days to burst thru the shoulder. Years from now men will be telling some of the tales of the strange battles that swirled around that point, one of the three vital ones in the eventual smashing of the German offensive, and how the veteran 1st, 2d, and 9th divisions held firm in the Monschau sector.

There will be such stories as when three doughboys on foot put a German tank out of action with bazookas and chased it for several miles until its diesel engine outdistanced them; or how a regimental command post was set up in the dark in No Man's Land and then when the commander realized the mistake led an attack which forced the Germans back and saved him the trouble of moving.

There were countless times when German tanks came in such force that they broke thru. Less seasoned troops might have cracked and run but those men simply were not yielding ground in those days. They held grimly while the enemy panzer elements were pinched off and destroyed piecemeal.

As a footnote to that first day, we were all grateful to discover that the 1st division's mess sergeants had their own way of showing disdain for Hitler's legions. Only a few hours after going into the line they produced an amazing meal of fried chicken, fried potatoes, warm biscuits, and steaming hot coffee.

It was the same in the holding of the other crucial points. Farther west the 82d air borne, veterans of Africa, Sicily, Italy, and Normandy, rolled back the Germans trying to by-pass the Monschau shoulder. The 7th armored division held St. Vith for five days against tremendous odds.

The 2d and 3d armored divisions fought unforgettably around Marche, a battle climaxed by the destruction of the 2d SS [elite] panzer division by the American 2d armored under Maj. Gen. Ernest N. Harmon near the western tip of the bulge. The epic defense of Bastogne by the 101st air borne will remain a legend of American valor.

Inexperienced Divisions.

Had any of these troops been in the line across the Schnee Eifel [wooded hills] to meet the German thrusts when they came, the story of the break-thru might have been vastly different. The two divisions that were there, the 99th and the 106th, were green and untried. They had only six and five days in the line, respectively, and no actual combat experience.

When the German tanks and infantry columns burst upon them they were helpless to stem the tide. They were without the experience and the other intangibles that top flight soldiers fall back upon in the first vital hours. They were overrun and many were cut off before even the highest headquarters realized the magnitude of the offensive.

CLAIM NAVY WILL RUN NEXT PHASE OF PACIFIC WAR

New York, Feb. 13.—Morgan Beatty, NBC news analyst, said tonight in a broadcast from Washington, D. C., that "the supreme command for the next phase of the war in the Pacific will be placed in the hands of the United States navy and Admirals Nimitz and Halsey are prominently mentioned in this connection."

Beatty, whose broadcast was passed by censorship, said the reasons included:

"The Japanese invariably challenge our advances with their navy and the opening of the next chapter in the Pacific war will find our navy in the driver's seat, anticipating another, perhaps a final test of strength with the Japanese fleet.

"Also, the problems involved in landing an American assault force on Japanese territory, perhaps the Jap homeland, are navy problems. The navy is responsible for getting the ground forces ashore. Not until the army commander is satisfied that he can stick does he assume command. Finally, the supply job for the longest over-water invasion yet attempted, is primarily a navy job."

PLANE LEAVES MANILA WITH 64 U. S. NURSES

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 12 [Delayed] (AP).—A Curtiss commando transport plane swooped low over Manila today and landed on a deserted street in the northeast section of the city. A few hours later the plane roared away carrying 64 army nurses who had worked with the Yanks on Bataan and Corregidor and were subsequently held in Santo Tomas internment camp. The nurses were the first Santo Tomas internees to start home.

NAZI ARDENNES FAILURE LAID TO TIE-UP OF SUPPLY

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SUPREME HDQ., ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Feb. 13.—The cumulative military effect of air bombardments on railroad tracks, freight yards, and highways, paralyzing the enemy movement both of troops and supplies in the early days of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's recent ill fated offensive in the Ardennes, was told here tonight.

Aerial attacks behind the enemy's advancing armies were so disastrous that between Dec. 15 and 20 the enemy detraining point was pushed back on a broad front from the Trier area all the way to the Rhine. This meant the enemy had to bring up his forces on foot, in motor transports, or in horse drawn vehicles a distance of 45 miles on the average. This contributed largely to the early collapse of the enemy's thrust into the Ardennes.

Forced to Move at Night.

Germans taken prisoner have described how hazardous it was for them to move from the Rhineland to the front because of frequent strafing from overhead by our airplanes. Movement was mostly restricted to nights. One prisoner told how the train in which he rode was camouflaged by trees. At one place, other prisoners related, trains hid in tunnels to avoid strafing, but while one was standing still another collided with it from behind and knocked out many cars.

Another prisoner said the train in which he rode was strafed by one airplane and 60 casualties were inflicted.

Air bombardment of supply lines also was disastrous to the enemy. It has been learned that the enemy saved fuel for months before the offensive to provide sufficient stocks for the movement of his armor. Attacking troops were better supplied with fuel than for a long time before, but this was done by limiting all armies on other fronts. The enemy also counted on capture of fuel dumps from the allies. He failed because of the heroic resistance and quick action on the part of our service of supply troops.

Enemy Tanks Immobilized.

By destroying the enemy's rear communications, not only were his tanks immobilized but inadequate supplies of ammunition were brought up. One prisoner of war said that, where on the Russian front they could expect 600 to 700 rounds of ammunition daily, on the Ardennes offensive, where more was needed, they got only 75. There were many cases where tanks were immobilized on side roads, and many units of even panzer lehr [elite armored] divisions were stalled.

"No offensive was possible," one German unit commander reported to his headquarters when he couldn't get any fuel after he had asked for it and was told there was none to be had.

True, a large percentage of enemy armor escaped back into Germany, but this was a result of the towing system. One vehicle or tank would pull another or several others, which explains the massing of enemy vehicles which made such attractive targets for our airmen.

CAPTAIN SWIMS PASIG RIVER TO SAVE WOUNDED

Carries Wire Attached to Rubber Boat.

BY DONALD STARR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION AT MANILA, Feb. 13.—Bravery under fire is commonplace in the ranks of the 129th regiment, which has been rebuilt around a nucleus of former Illinois national guardsmen, but few can match the daring of Capt. George Worth, Sonora, Cal., who won the distinguished service cross at Bougainville.

Capt. Worth stretched his aching bones on these grounds near the front lines this morning, refusing to talk of his latest exploit, until he had given complete instructions to the cook to prepare hot food for his men. Even then he spoke deprecatingly of events last night, which were on the tongues of the battle hardened men in his outfit.

Attack Island in River.

Early after dawn yesterday his company attempted an amphibious assault on Provisor Island, 75 feet out in the Pasig river, pouring fire into the forward positions. Twenty-five men landed on the island before terrific fire power halted operations. Thruout the day Capt. Worth and the remainder of his men watched for a chance to make a rubber boat crossing.

When it became apparent about midnight that reenforcing the marooned men was impossible, Capt. Worth tied wire around his waist and attached it to a small boat and swam to the island. His men hauled the boat across for the rescue.

Aids Men into Boat.

Capt. Worth half carried the more seriously wounded and aided the others until the eight survivors were all in the boat. Twisting the wire around him, he again struck out across the waters under fire from the Japs. After going half way the wire became tangled and he fought to return to the boat to tell the wounded they must row themselves across the river.

While he swam beside the boat, the bleeding men paddled towards friendly shore. They were within five feet of safety when Jap gunners opened fire again and killed three occupants. Capt. Worth the next day had the satisfaction of seeing 90 men from another company complete a successful crossing.

CHINESE RECAPTURE RAIL POSITIONS IN COUNTER-ATTACKS

CHUNGKING, Feb. 13 (AP).—Chinese troops, counter-attacking in a mountainous region where the Canton-Hankow railway cuts thru Hunan province to the Kwangtung border, have "completely recaptured enemy positions" in the six mile area between Pingshek and Ichang, the high command announced tonight.

Pingshek is a rail town 165 miles north of Canton and 100 miles south of Hengyang. Ichang is a neighboring town west of the railway.

The high command also announced that the Chinese dealt heavy blows against the enemy 25 miles northeast of the rail town of Chenhsien, 80 miles south of Hengyang. More than 400 Japanese were killed in a 24 hour period and fighting which began Feb. 7 is continuing.

FREE WINNETKA WOMAN ON HER ANNIVERSARY

SANTA TOMAS, Manila, Feb. 13 (AP).—Kay Heyda was "celebrating" her fifth wedding anniversary Feb. 3 when the first American tank crashed the gates of Santo Tomas internment camp, bringing liberation after 37 months to some 3,700 American and other allied nationals.

For Mrs. Heyda, whose home is in Fuller lane, Winnetka, Ill., it was the fourth wedding anniversary she had spent alone in Santo Tomas. She left Winnetka with her husband, who worked for the Benguet mining interests in the Philippines. She was living in Baguio, the summer capital, when the war started. When word came that 80 Japanese transports were in Lingayen gulf Dec. 22, 1941, she made a dash by truck to Manila.

Mrs. Heyda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heeman, live in Winnetka.

Iwo, Chichi, Mei Islands Blasted by Army Bombers

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Forward Area, Feb. 14 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Army Liberators for the 68th consecutive day raided Iwo Island Monday, Adm. Nimitz announced today. Besides the Volcano Island, Chichi and Mei Islands in the Bonins, all athwart the B-29 airlane to Tokyo, were bombed. Continuing raids were dealt to Babelthuap in the Palau Islands and Yap in the western Carolines by marine planes, Monday.

Take Siegfried Line Apart Piece by Piece.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 80TH INFANTRY DIVISION, Wallendorf, Germany, Feb. 13.—Infantrymen of this top flight division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Horace L. McBride of Elgin, Neb., are steadily expanding their holdings in the Siegfried line, methodically knocking out pillboxes as they go.

Crossing the swollen Our river in the face of German fire was no easy feat, and since the crossing was accomplished early in the morning of Feb. 7, 80th division doughboys have taken more than 850 prisoners. In the region south of Krutchen they have worked their way entirely thru the main Siegfried defenses. There still are many pillboxes ahead, but they no longer provide each other with protective fire.

Advance Less Difficult.

Of the last 60 or 70 pillboxes taken, only two had to be blown up with high explosive, and in both of these German officers were found. In the others, in which no officers were present, the occupants surrendered, either before the Yanks were close enough to begin working in earnest, or at most after a grenade or two was tossed inside.

American 155s also have been persuasive—so persuasive, in fact, that the 80th has coined the phrase, "one round surrender," as the result of so many pillboxes giving up after a single round of 155 either has hit or landed near them.

Lt. Col. Elliott B. Cheston of Annapolis, Md., commander of the 180th battalion, said his unit last night took 80 prisoners from three pillboxes after working in so quietly that the Germans didn't know they were there until 60 Yanks were swarming all over the pillboxes and tanks were looking right down the Nazis' throats.

The men are receiving heavy mortar and artillery fire, as well as small arms from an occasional bypassed pillbox, but nevertheless, one company yesterday cleaned out 10 pillboxes and took about 100 prisoners at a cost of only two American casualties. The pillboxes range in size from ones holding three to six men to big bunkers capable of holding 60. Most of them are connected to each other by open trenches.

A lieutenant, who commands a tank platoon, this morning found his tank in the middle of three German pillboxes when daylight came. He and his men were outside, but quickly scrambled in, fired a few quick shots, and backed out. They found infantry, returned, and cleaned up all three of the boxes.

Pvt. Ralph Passard of Flint, Mich., a Browning automatic rifleman who took part in a successful assault on two pillboxes, said the method for taking pillboxes was to have direct fire against the apertures by small arms and machine guns to "button up" the box, while infantrymen worked in close enough to either throw grenades inside or blow the boxes with a pole or satchel charge.

Rain Fills Foxholes.

Passard said it had rained most of the six days he had been in the line, and they'd had to bail out their foxholes with helmets or empty ration cans.

During the trip across the Our we found an area where doughboys right from the foxholes were given dry clothes, a chance to shave, rest, and have hot chow in comparative safety and quiet. Lt. Lawrence A. Duncan of Lucas, Kas., in charge of the area, said it was opened yesterday and that of the first 51 men back from the water filled foxholes, 20 had to be evacuated for trench foot.

Wallendorf is badly battered, as you might expect a town to be which had been in our and the Germans' hands several times. But instead of describing the ruins, better quote an unknown G. I. who passed us in the main street.

He saw us writing and asked: "What you checking on? Slum clearance?"

CHICAGO CAPTAIN SEES TO IT MEN HAVE HOT MEALS

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 99TH DIVISION IN GERMANY, Feb. 13.—Usually front line doughboys get no hot meals while in the line, subsisting on cold K and C rations or a chocolate bar. But Capt. Joseph J. Budinsky, 5133 S. Kedzie av., Chicago, commander of Company C, 395th infantry, has worked out a system now adopted by the entire regiment which gives his men at least one hot meal daily.

In the rear of the company's position his men have prepared dugouts where kitchen ranges have been installed. Food is brought forward in containers, reheated, then carried forward to platoon areas.

All the litter bearers had returned to the battalion aid station. It was the first day of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's offensive and the 395th infantry was hard pressed as the Germans attacked with massed tanks and swarms of soldiers.

T/5 Fred A. Tate, Rice Lake, Wis., medical aidman, found a Yank with a serious stomach wound and treated the man's injuries, and bundled the soldier in a blanket, then lowered him into a foxhole. Wrapping himself in a blanket, Tate crawled into the hole and hugged the wounded soldier all night so that his body heat would keep the doughboy alive.

The next morning other Yanks released them and helped Tate carry the wounded man to safety. For his devotion to duty Tate has been awarded the bronze star.

German tanks and infantry were overrunning Company I, 393d infantry, when Tech. Sgt. Kenneth N. Juhl, Harlan, Ia., withdrew his platoon to a good defensive position. Then Juhl went back, found an abandoned heavy machine gun, and opened fire.

Juhl emptied eight boxes of ammunition. By that time the Germans had had enough. When their infantry withdrew the tanks also about faced and pulled around a hill. Sixteen dead Germans were found in front of Juhl's gun.

Among 99th division soldiers awarded battlefield commission as second lieutenants is David M. Armstrong, 3750 Lake Shore dr., Chicago.

INQUIRY ASKED ON LEAK IN CHURCHILL REBUKE TO FRANCO

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP).—Laborite J. H. Martin asked for an official inquiry in commons today into the mysterious leakage of Prime Minister Churchill's confidential rebuke to Francisco Franco's proposal for a western anti-soviet alliance.

Martin formally addressed a question to the absent prime minister, asking how and why the substance of his letter to the Spanish leader could be published in the United States while still denied to parliament.

"Did this have the consent and approval of his majesty's government?" Martin asked. "If not, what action has been taken in the matter? What further action does the government propose to take in the future to prevent continuance of episodes injurious to the authority and prestige of parliament?"

POLISH GROUP IN U. S. CHARGES BIG 3 'SELL-OUT'

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13 [Special].—The Coördinating Committee of American Polish Associations in the East issued a statement here tonight denouncing the Yalta declaration for the partition of Poland It charged:

1. President Roosevelt and Churchill, in indorsing Russia's claim to part of Poland and recognizing the soviet sponsored Polish regime, acted "over the heads of the Polish people and the only legal Polish government, in London."

2. Thru the action of the Big Three, "the fate of an allied nation was decided upon and a verdict pronounced without any right given the victim to protest."

3. As late as Jan. 1. Secretary of State Stettinius "assured that the United States would continue to recognize the Polish government that has been recognized by Britain and America for five years, but thru the Yalta decision this solemn promise was openly broken."

4. The Big Three announcement "says nothing about the Polish patriots, especially the home army, who fought the Nazis for five years and are now being murdered by the soviets." Poland . . . "has been sold out and sentenced to death by a joint decree of three powerful rulers."

ITALIAN BASED BOMBERS BLAST RAILS IN AUSTRIA

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP).—Operating for the first time in five days, heavy bombers of the United States 15th air force from Italy smashed at railyards in Vienna and Graz in Austria and Maribor in Yugoslavia today. The Italian port of Pola, at the head of the Adriatic, also was attacked and United States 12th air force Mitchells hit the Brenner pass rail line in two waves at San Michele, Lavis, Dogna, and Chiusaforte.

A long series of German warnings indicated several forces of allied bombers were ranging over Germany tonight, some apparently in support of the Russian drive. One German warning said raiders were over the Dresden area.

In one of the most spectacular operations in weeks, R. A. F. Mosquitos yesterday bounced delayed action bombs off the side of a 3,000 foot cliff among German ships packed in the narrow fjord off Midgulen, Norway. Many bombs were seen to burst among the ships.

Australians Drive Japs from Bougainville River

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 13 [Reuters].—The Japanese have been driven from the Transgenga river, north of Bougainville in the Solomons, Australian army headquarters announced here today. The Japanese were resisting south of Bougainville and Aitape, the announcement added. Progress was made in the open bay area of New Britain.

WRITES DENIAL HE'S SPY, THEN SLASHES WRIST

Charles J. Oda, 30, of mixed Japanese-Irish ancestry, slashed his wrists in his room at 607 Oakdale av. last night, after writing a note in which he protested he was not a spy and never would he find peace.

He was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital, where his condition was described as serious. James, Fred, and Jack Kato, three brothers of Japanese ancestry, who live at the Oakdale av. address, said that Oda served in the United States army from September, 1941, to November, 1943, when he received a medical discharge. He had brooded, they said. Oda's note said:

"I am tired. I have never done wrong. I am a good, loyal American—I have always been proud of this. I am no spy or the things they say. Please believe me. There will never be peace anywhere for me." Oda also asked that his parents, who live in Long Beach, Cal., not be molested.

CANADIAN SAYS PREMIER SHOULD FIRE WAR CHIEF

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13 (AP).—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative national leader, said in a statement tonight that Prime Minister King should replace Defense Minister McNaughton immediately and "bring to the office a man whose policy will command the confidence of our fighting men and the people at home in Canada."

This, he said, was the only course King could follow in the light of the result of the Grey North by-election in which McNaughton was defeated. Bracken described the defeat as a "clear and unequivocal reply" to the "King-McNaughton policy of a limited draft" of men for service overseas.

Viscount, Heir to Guinness Fortune, Killed in Action

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP).—Viscount Elveden, 32, son and heir of the earl and countess of Iveagh, has been killed in action. The heir to the earldom and to the Guinness brewery fortune is 7 year old Arthur Francis Benjamin Guinness, the viscount's son. The viscount, who had served in the British army from the beginning of the war, was the nephew of W. E. Guinness [Lord Moyne], the British minister of state who recently was assassinated in Cairo.

Japs Tell of B-29 Raids on Main Home Island

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Tokyo radio reported yesterday that three American Super Fortresses, flying singly, bombed the vicinities of Tokyo, Osaka, and Shizuoka, all on Honshu Island, Monday night and Tuesday, Japanese time. The broadcast claimed "no damage" was inflicted by the B-29s. The raids were not confirmed by American sources.

SCIENCE FINDS 'SUBSTITUTE' FOR BLOOD PLASMA

Pasadena, Cal., Feb. 13 (AP).—Scientists at the California Institute of Technology have developed a successful substitute for blood plasma from gelatin, Dr. Dan H. Campbell, professor of immunological chemistry, announced today.

Disclosing the results of three years' work, Dr. Campbell told an institute seminar that test transfusions given to a group of clinical patients were "entirely satisfactory."

The chemist said the solution, called oxypolygelatin, is simple and cheap.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 15 [Special].—The New York state senate today defeated, 31 to 22, a resolution memoralizing the United States senate to confirm Henry A. Wallace as secretary of commerce.

REPORTS DOZEN PRISON CAMPS IN RUSSIANS' PATH

LONDON, Feb. 13 [Reuters].—Twelve German prisoners of war camps, which once contained about 60,000 British prisoners, have been overrun by soviet forces or are in their path, James Grigg, minister of war, told the house of commons today.

"It is clear the Germans intended to move the prisoners to central Germany and considerable transfers have taken place," he added. "The men are apparently moved on foot by daily stages of between 12 to 18 miles. It is likely, however, that many have been overtaken by the soviet forces."

The camps referred to are stalags 2-B, 2-D, 3-B, 3-C, 344, 8-B, 8-C, XXA, XXB, and stalag luft 3, stalag luft 4, and stalag luft 7.

BUDAPEST WON BY REDS AFTER 49 DAY BATTLE

110,000 Nazis Seized, 49,000 Killed: Russians.

LONDON, Feb. 1 [Wednesday]—(AP).—The Russians yesterday completed the conquest of ruined Budapest after 49 days of street fighting that cost the enemy 49,000 men killed and 110,000 captured.

In German Silesia another Red army in 10 mile advances forced the Bober river defenses and thrust within 68 miles of Dresden.

The Budapest victory, greatest single disaster to German arms since Stalingrad two years ago, was announced by Premier Stalin in an order of the day. Moscow's 324 saluting cannon fired 24 rounds each in the greatest victory celebration since Warsaw fell Jan. 17.

Seize Tanks and Guns.

Budapest's fall, with its loss in man power to the Germans and a list of captured equipment that included such items as 269 tanks, 1,257 cannon and 46 stores of food and ammunition, was credited by Premier Stalin to Marshals Malinovsky and Tolbukhin of the 2d and 3d Ukraine armies, which coöperated in the long operation.

The order described Budapest as "a strategically important German defense center on the road to Vienna." It was the 17th European capital lost by the Germans to the allies.

The fall of Budapest brought capture for the man who led the first of the Nazi seizures of other people's territory. He is Col. Gen. Pfeffer-Wildenbruch, Junker commandant of Budapest. In 1938 he commanded the German police troops that took over the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia after Munich. Today Pfeffer-Wildenbruch and his staff were captured hiding in a sewer, the Russians said.

Direct attack on the Hungarian capital began last Nov. 12 after the fall of Monor, to the southeast. Encirclement was completed and Russian troops drove into the suburbs on Dec. 27.

The bag of prisoners was the greatest in any city since Stalingrad, when the entire German 6th army of 330,000 men was surrendered Feb. 2, 1943, after a six month battle.

Two Spearheads Gain.

Moscow's regular nightly war bulletin announced the 10 mile gains by the 1st Ukraine army of Marshal Konev in two spearheads thru Silesia, that broke the Bober river defense lines at several points, seized 150 towns, and reached the Queis river line.

With the capture of Klitschdorf on the east bank of the Queis, the Russians were 68 miles from Dresden, capital of historic Saxony.

[A Swedish press dispatch said the industrial evacuation of Dresden already had begun and the Saxon towns of Kamenz, Bautzen, and Loebau had been "completely evacuated." Kamenz is 17 miles northeast of Dresden, Loebau 3¼ miles east, and Bautzen 4½ miles east. The British radio said the Russians were believed to be within 62 miles of Dresden.]

The advance covered much of a forested district near Sagan where camps for American and British prisoners of war are known to have been, but Moscow mentioned no rescues.

The Russians did not confirm a German D. N. B. news agency broadcast placing Konev's northern spearhead north of Sagan and only 20 miles from a junction with the southern wing of Marshal Zhukov's central 1st White Russian army forces.

Capture Oder Town.

The Moscow bulletin announced that Marshal Konev also had captured Beuthen, industrial town on the west bank of the Oder river and had encircled Glogau, traffic center on the Oder 55 miles northwest of Breslau and was fighting to annihilate its garrison. The Russians in that area captured 345 German planes on the ground.

The bulletin was silent concerning operations on the front directly east of Berlin, where the Germans said the Russians had made gains of a mile and a quarter, but it announced five and six mile advances in the continued cleanup of the Polish corridor some six miles south of Chojnice.

The German high command said it had consolidated a front around Stargard to protect the approaches to Stettin, Berlin's Baltic port.

WHAT GERMANS SAY OF ACTION ON EAST FRONT

The German war bulletin on Eastern front action as broadcast by Berlin yesterday, said:

"In Hungary our own fighting groups advanced east of Lake Balaton against tenacious enemy resistance up to the Sarviz canal.

"In the Slovak border area soviet attacks again were repelled. Northeast of Bielsko an enemy penetration was sealed off and narrowed down.

"In lower Silesia our formations in counter-attacks frustrated renewed attempts by the Bolshevists to cut off the fortress of Breslau from its rear communications.

"As the battle continued it expanded to the area around Goldberg, to the Queis, and the Bober section north of Sagan.

"In southern Pomerania the soviets put out feelers toward Stargard without being able to gain success against our reënforced and strengthened defense front.

"Between Kamien and Grudziadz continuous enemy pressure to the north resulted in fierce fighting especially in the wooded section, difficult to survey, of Tucheler Heide.

"In East Prussia, the enemy attacked at Frauenberg on either side of the motor highway from Elbing to Koenigsberg with the support of numerous tanks without being able to score an attempted breakthru. In Samland those parts of the 91st soviet guards infantry division which had been encircled for several days west of Theirenberg were wiped out.

"On the Courland [Latvia] front southeast of Liepaja an enemy thrust supported by tanks was without success."

2 WOMEN HELD ON CHECK CHARGE.

Violet Mavroff, 20, and Agnes Oreskovic, 20, both of 1032 N. Dearborn st., pleaded not guilty yesterday when they were arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of forging and cashing a treasury check for $80. Commissioner Walker set bond at $500 for each and continued the hearing until tomorrow.

ILLINOISAN DIVES INTO FOXHOLE, LANDS ON JAP, KILLS HIM

CALCUTTA, Feb. 13 (AP).—From the Burma jungles where the American Mars task force has been operating on the Lashio-Loiwing road comes this story of Sgt. Kim Hill of Champaign, Ill. The former University of Illinois student, fired on by a Japanese machine gun, dived into a foxhole and landed on top of a Japanese soldier. The Japanese tried to stab him with a Samurai sword.

Unable to reach his bayonet, Hill grabbed the sword with his right hand. The Japanese dropped the weapon and began pounding a percussion type grenade on Hill's head, apparently determined to blow both of them to bits.

A split second before the explosion was due Hill clawed the grenade from the Japanese soldier's hand and threw it out of the foxhole. He finished off the Japanese with the sword.

CURZON BORDER FOR POLAND 1ST OFFERED IN 1919

With the decision of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Marshal Stalin at the Crimean conference to fix the Curzon line as the Polish-Russian boundary, the troubled history of Poland's eastern frontier enters a new phase.

This frontier was fluid for nearly three years after the end of the first World war. The desire of the newly constituted Polish republic to enclose within her borders a larger part of ancient Poland than the peace makers were disposed to grant her clashed with Ukrainian aspirations for an independent state and with communist Russia's desire to extend her influence westward.

Offered in 1919.

In 1919 and again in 1920, Foreign Secretary Curzon of Britain proposed a boundary drawn generally along racial lines which would pass to the east of the indisputably Polish areas but leave out of the new country polyglot provinces inhabited by Poles, Lithuanians, Russians, Ukrainians, and other minority groups.

The Curzon line began north of Grodno on the Niemen, passed west of Brest-Litovsk and east of Chelm, and toward its southern extremity inclined westward to exclude Lwow from the Polish state.

The Curzon line never became the boundary, however, and in 1920 Polish-Russian disputes flared into a major war. A brilliant Polish offensive was followed by a disastrous retreat. An equally brilliant Russian offensive also ended in defeat after communist troops had penetrated almost to Warsaw.

Won Expanded Frontier.

Poland, in the treaty of Riga in 1921, was able to get from Russia a much more advantageous frontier—one which ran far to the east of the Curzon line and gave Poland not only Lwow and Brest-Litovsk, but Pinsk, Luck, Tarnopol, and other important cities besides.

Most important, in the opinion of many, was the fact that the new boundary enclosed within Poland the oil fields around Lwow.

Little more was heard of the Curzon line until 1939, when Germany and Russia partitioned Poland and utilized the Bug river, which was part of the central Curzon line, for a portion of the new demarcation line. However, the Hitler-Stalin line of 1939 is far to the west of the Curzon line in the north and slightly to the west in the south.

Now, altho Poland still stands to lose the oil fields of the southeast as well as the cities of Lwow, Luck, and Pinsk, Russia is demanding less of pre-war Poland than she ruled from 1939 to 1941.

ARAB LEADERS MEET TODAY TO SHAPE LEAGUE

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 13 [Reuters].—The foreign ministers of middle east countries will meet here tomorrow to draft the constitution of the Arab league of nations planned at the Arab unity conference at Alexandria last October. The talks may touch on Palestine and the independence of Syria and Lebanon.

Observers in the middle east believe the possibility of the European war ending soon has spurred the movement toward an Arab renaissance.

The Arab states, they say, feel that they want to make their contribution to the molding of "a brave new world." They are convinced that a united Arab front should strengthen their position in dealing with the powers interested in the development of the middle east.

Losses High in 92d Division's Setback on the Italian Front

ROME, Feb. 13 (AP).—The United States 92d infantry division and its supporting armor suffered "relatively high" casualties and tank losses when its week-end attack in the Ligurian coastal sector of the Italian front was repulsed, 15th army group headquarters disclosed today.

Official dispatches earlier had tended to discount as minor this attack of the Negro division, which was launched last Thursday. It was the 92d's first full attack as a division.

A special report from Lt. Gen. Clark's headquarters said "no net gains in terrain were made," and the division was compelled to relinquish the hold it had secured north of the Cinquale canal and at Strettoia and to fall back virtually to its original positions.

Driven Back a Mile.

The Negro doughboys had penetrated as much as a mile on a five mile front to within two and a half miles of Massa before the Germans drove the Americans back in four days of fighting.

The 92d was deployed yesterday near the south shore of the Fiume La Foce, a small stream south of Massa, and action on its sector was limited to patroling.

Fog Over Front.

Fog hung low over most of the 8th army front. The only important action there was a strong enemy raid which compelled 8th army troops to withdraw from an outpost on the east bank of the Senio river.

The weather also restricted air operations. Four enemy aircraft were destroyed and three allied planes were missing. The enemy losses were accounted for by B-25 gunners who fought an engagement with 15 enemy fighters over Legnango. Gunners who shared the victories included Sgt. Emil M. Strebec of Cudahy, Wis.

CANADIAN SHIP SINKS U-BOAT IN NORTH ATLANTIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13.—Sinking of a submarine recently in the North Atlantic by the Canadian corvette St. Thomas was announced here today by Angus L. MacDonald, minister of naval services. Another submarine has been "probably sunk," he stated, by the Canadian frigate Dunver and the Canadian corvette Hespeller. MacDonald also announced that the Canadian cruiser Uganda will be in operation shortly in the Southwest Pacific. Later another cruiser, the Ontario, also will go to that theater. "Our forces will operate with the British fleet in the Pacific," MacDonald stated.

MacDonald said that until the war in Europe is over the main task of the Canadian navy must be on the North Atlantic, where it is doing practically 100 per cent of the close escort work for convoys. "But we are not forgetting the Pacific war. When we are able to move there our force will be smaller than that engaged on the Atlantic, but it will be much larger than a token force," he explained.

MacDonald revealed Canada is negotiating with the British admiralty for two additional new "light fleet" aircraft carriers.

PHYSICIAN'S CAR, INSTRUMENTS STOLEN.

YANK OFFICER GETS 20 YEARS IN PARIS TRIAL

PARIS, Feb. 13 (AP).—Lt. Norris E. Loop, Pratt, Kas., was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States, neglect of duty and wrongful disposition of property in a black market case today and sentenced by an army court to serve 20 years in prison.

Three more enlisted men of the same railway operating battalion, the 716th, were sentenced to serve from three to four years after pleading guilty to wrongful disposition of government property.

They were T/5 John W. Peters, Detroit, Mich., three years; T/5 Carl C. Orr, Anna, Ill., four years, and Pvt. Russell J. Watson, Danville, Ill., three years.

DIES OF BLOW IN QUARREL.

Clinton Callahan, 38, of 5517 Michigan av., Negro cab driver, died in Provident hospital after he was struck on the head with a wrench wielded by Myles Moore, 35, Negro also a cab driver, during a quarrel at 55th st. and South Park way yesterday.

A WOUNDED VETERAN
on the Long Road Back speaks to Post Millions
An exclusive statement from a typical American boy who paid war's terrific price—and lives to tell it. It is published by the Post because of its deep significance to millions of Americans who wait for men to come home.
WILL he come back? What are his thoughts? What will I do . . . how will I act if he is badly wounded? Searching questions these . . . in the minds of millions who wait and wonder whether his voyage to war is a round trip to end in tragedy or happiness.
Because this nation, as others, will face the inevitable scars of war—and the men who bear them—the Post brings to thinking millions the unvarnished thoughts of a wounded veteran rebuilding his life.
Badly wounded, captured, returned on the Gripsholm, still hospitalized—he brings you in his own words a soldier's description of a round trip millions face.

Eddy of the north section police won third; Patrolman John Olsen of the south section won fourth, and Patrolmen Herbert P. Johnek and Carl A. Swedberg shared fifth. Ten other patrolmen won honorable mentions.

Gimpel, Alleged Nazi Spy, Fails to Testify

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—Erich Gimpel, accused with William Colepaugh as a Nazi spy and once described by Colepaugh as an important person in security army headquarters in Berlin, failed to testify today as both sides rested in their military trial. Summations will begin tomorrow, before a seven man commission at Governors Island. If five members vote to convict them as spies, imposition of the death penalty would be mandatory.

GIRL SET FREE AFTER PAYING $2.50 TAXI BILL

Mary Carey, 23, of 4145 Broadway, a pretty blonde, was discharged on disorderly conduct charges in Women's court by Judge Jacob M. Braude yesterday when she paid a cab driver a $2.50 cab bill which she had refused to pay Saturday night after a ride to the loop from near her home. Mrs. Gail Carey, of Omaha, Neb., the girl's mother, told the court she would take Mary home with her. Mary told the court she had been employed as a "26 girl" in a Rush st. night club. The girl's father is an Omaha furniture dealer.

SHORT CUT TRIED BY U. S. IN WARD CASE APPEAL

The government is seeking to bypass the United States Circuit Court of Appeals with its appeal of the Montgomery Ward & Co. decision and take the appeal directly to the United States Supreme court, it was disclosed yesterday with the receipt here of copies of a petition for a writ of certiorari prepared by Charles Fahy, solicitor general. Should the petition be granted, the case will be certified to the Supreme court automatically without a hearing in the Circuit Court of Appeals.

HELPS DIG OUT TRUCK; REGRETS KINDNESS LATER

Reinhold Koopman, 70, caretaker at a home owned by Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild at 2031 S. Sheridan rd., Highland Park, found a delivery truck stalled in the snow on the property driveway at 2 p. m. last Friday, and worked until 6 p. m. helping the driver get out.

The next morning Koopman found a window broken in the Rothschild garage, and discovered silverware and a microscope missing. He reported to Chief Martin Kopp that he thought the stolen goods were in the truck that he helped dig out of the snow. The driver had told him he turned into the driveway by mistake.

Chief Kopp said yesterday that the driver was identified as Frank Cosby, 22, of 2134 Harrison st., Chicago, who was employed for a few days last week by a Chicago liquor company, and signed a warrant charging Cosby with burglary. Cosby was arrested in the meantime by Chicago av. police on a larceny charge and is being held for an appearance Feb. 20.

Army Plane Off to Russia with Oumansky Ashes

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 13 (AP).—An army rifle salute marked the take-off of an army bomber for Moscow today, bearing the ashes of Konstantin Oumansky, soviet ambassador to Mexico; his wife, and three aids, who were killed Jan. 25 in an airplane crash near Mexico City. The plane left from Hamilton field and its route was unannounced. Accompanying the five silver urns are Sergei Lobzin, diplomatic courier of the soviet embassy at Mexico City, and Horace Smith, secretary of the American embassy in Moscow.

RUSSIAN PRESS GLOWS IN PRAISE OF BIG 3 SESSION

Pravda Sees Promise of 'Great Tomorrow.'

MOSCOW, Feb. 13 (AP).—The soviet union's official press described the Crimea conference today in glowing terms, and the impression in Moscow was that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin all were highly pleased with its results.

Pravda, the Communist party official organ, set the keynote of soviet reaction to the Big Three conference with a declaration that the parley "has proved that the alliance of the three big powers possesses not only an historic yesterday and a victorious today, but also a great tomorrow."

The government newspaper Izvestia hailed the conference as "the biggest political event for current times—an event which will enter in history as a new example of coordinated solutions of complicated questions in the interest of peace and democracy."

Blows from North Expected.

Russians will expect a considerable increase in the blows against Germany from the west, south, and north as a result of the parley. This is the thing they have been clamoring for since the start of their winter offensive a month ago.

Stalin came back from Tehran with assurance that there would be blows against Germany from the east, west, and south—and there were. Of interest to the Russians is the fact that the Crimea announcement added the north to the earlier three directions.

A firm impression prevails in Moscow that Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin left better friends this time than ever before. Not the slightest sign of friction developed at any time in the meetings, it was said, and the three men saw things thru by talking frankly. Stalin especially was said to have never talked more frankly.

Special Edition by Pravda.

Pravda, which ordinarily does not publish on Tuesdays, came out today in honor of the big three meeting.

"The conference will go down in history as an example of real democratic coöperation," the paper said, adding that plans were adopted for the defeat of Germany "on a closer and more intimate basis of coöperation than ever before."

The editorial sought to assure the Russians that the conference not only decided Hitler's defeat but "elaborated conditions which will make it impossible for a repetition of German military aggression."

Soviet factory workers and miners held spontaneous meetings following announcement of the conference's bulletin. Speakers said "We'll be in Berlin soon," "This means the end of Hitler," and "The hour of retribution has arrived."

See No Snag in Poland.

The Polish question appeared to have been brought closer to a solution. Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin are understood to have agreed that the Polish problem would not be allowed to interfere with unity in winning the war or in winning the peace.

The section of the Big Three bulletin dealing with the occupation of Germany was of immense satisfaction to the Russian people.

No one could be more pleased than the Russians over the Crimea bulletin's clauses dealing with the united nations' organization to maintain peace and security.

DENOUNCE F.D.R. FOR YIELDING AT CRIMEA PARLEY

Capital Says He Lost and Stalin Won.

velt held a strong position in the Crimean conference for many reasons, not the least of which is the pending new lend-lease agreement with Russia, involving the gifts to the soviets of additional American war equipment valued at several billion dollars and the pending Russian request for 6 billions of easy, long term post-war credits by the United States for rehabilitation and expansion of Russian industry.

Question Unanswered.

Why, with Stalin on the petitioning end in these matters, Mr. Roosevelt should have surrendered to Stalin was a question that went unanswered. Some thought it possible that Mr. Roosevelt yielded in consideration of assurances by Stalin that Russia will come into the war against Japan when Germany shall have been disposed of. Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] of the foreign relations committee is strongly of the opinion that Stalin gave such assurances.

The agreement on allied consultation on the affairs of the liberated countries is viewed as no guarantee against continued Russian dictation and domination. The same provision was contained in the Moscow agreement of 1943 setting up a European advisory commission, which became a dead letter.

Sen. La Follette [P., Wis.], who has spoken out against any post-war peace league that shall underwrite such injustices as the forcible partition of Poland, said today that the "Crimea charter is pretty general in its terms and the proof of the pudding will be in the eating thereof."

Willis Depressed.

"I am depressed," said Sen. Willis [R., Ind.], "over my inability to read out of the Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin conference report more assurance for the realization of the idealistic objectives held out to the people of the United States as a return for the stupendous sacrifices which they have made to the prosecution of the war. While the report renders lip service to the Atlantic charter, which gave assurance of no territorial aggression, and of non-interference in the internal affairs of nations, the agreements announced read more like the commitments of a realistic military pact than the outlines of a peace based on liberty and justice for all. The American people will not be happy over the responsibility agreed to in their name by President Roosevelt to police one-third of Germany for 10 years."

Warns of Dreaming.

Sen. Wiley [R., Wis.] found the Big Three report "an encouraging omen" of world peace but was wary of "synthetic thinking or starry eyed dreaming."

"For example," he said, "it is quite apparent that the conference has set us off on the road of engineering a lot of land swapping deals in Europe. Still another thorny problem is the exact extent of German reparations in kind. Yet another problem is the decision on the voting procedure for the united nations security council. The conference report is ominously silent on this score. Has Russia refused to give up her power of veto in matters which she, herself, is happy to dispute?"

Rep. O'Konski, who is of Polish descent, charged in his house speech that the Black sea meeting was a "seoond Munich" at which Poland was sacrificed on the "auction block of appeasement" just as Czechoslovakia was sold out at Munich.

Calls Appeasement "Shocking."

The congressman declared the conference should be called the "Big One" instead of the Big Three because of the "shocking" appeasement of Stalin by Roosevelt and Churchill.

"The Black sea conference," he told the house, "will go down in history as the most gross injustice ever perpetrated on the people of any country.

"Just as appeasement at Munich led to the present ghastly world war, so will this latest meeting have disastrous results for all time.

"This latest stab in the back at gallant Poland has most certainly sounded the death knell of the Atlantic Charter and of freedom. How can the charter be mentioned in the same breath with the new partition of Poland?"

Sen. Walsh [D., Mass.], describing as "shocking" the proposals concerning Poland, asserted:

"To settle it on Russian terms is a frightful injustice to a brave people." He added that "the agreements . . . are reassuring on the question of coördinated action for the overthrow of Nazi Germany . . .," but, he said, "in other respects the present announcement leaves many doubts and apprehensions as to the part the smaller nations are to play on the post-war world.

CRACK NEW DEAL WHIP TO BLOCK WALLACE CURBS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Administration leaders today put pressure on house Democrats to vote against revisions of the George bill which would place added restrictions on Henry Wallace if he is confirmed for secretary of commerce.

The house Democratic steering committee of 15 members was summoned to a closed session and urged to line up the majority members against restrictive amendments.

This unusual step was taken to offset mounting house support for an amendment to take from the commerce secretary his position as a member of the export-import bank. The revision is backed by many Republicans and a number of anti-Wallace Democrats.

CHURCHILL DONS A SHAPKA, ONE LIKE MOLOTOV'S

MOSCOW, Feb. 13 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill's latest headgear—a black lambskin shapka—has two advantages. In addition to keeping one's head warm, it protects the top of the ears. The wearer may even pull it down over his ears, but this is not good form. Pictures from the Crimean conference showed the prime minister in the black headgear, of a type long worn by Moscow merchants and professional men. Foreign Commissar Molotov often appears in the same kind of hat.

4 CONGRESSMEN NAMED TO NEXT PEACE MEETING

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—President Roosevelt, in a press release issued today from the White House, announced the membership of the American delegation to an allied nations conference April 25 in San Francisco. The chairman will be Secretary of State Stettinius, with the ailing 74 year old former secretary, Cordell Hull, as senior adviser to the group.

Two senators and two representatives will participate for the first time in these discussions, which started at Dumbarton Oaks here last summer, and which are aiming at the creation of a new league of nations. They are Senators Connally [D., Tex.] and Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Representatives Bloom [D., N. Y.] and Eaton [R., N. J.].

Stassen to Be Delegate.

Comdr. Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and a global thinker is being recalled from duty with Adm. Halsey's staff in the Pacific to participate as a delegate at the conference. An eighth American to meet with Foreign Ministers Eden and Molotov and their British and Russian staffs will be Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard college, who has been active in women's peace movements.

The announcement was issued after a press conference with War Mobilization Director Byrnes, who with Adm. King arrived here from the Crimean Big Three meeting. Byrnes, in the absence of the President, made known that the Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill session brought forth military decisions calling for more men in combat against Germany.

"The military decisions," said Byrnes, "assure Hitler's defeat, but not as soon as much of the public is hoping. The military staffs, working in units, plan a war putting more men in the bloody conflict than ever before. More men will be in combat in March than ever before. It is a reason for enactment of the May ["work or jail"] bill, to assure these men adequate supplies.

Civilian Collapse Possible.

"The military men recognize the possibility of a civilian collapse in Germany but their plans cannot rely upon this possibility.

Byrnes discounted speculation that the Pacific coast location and the date of the San Francisco meeting indicated the agenda might include Russia's status in the war against Japan. The session will be concurrent with the expiration of Russia's present treaty with Japan. Byrnes offered no encouragement to those who have hoped that Stalin would join in the fight against Hirohito.

Byrnes emphasized the announcement that America, Russia, and Great Britain hereafter are to collaborate in supervising the reorganization of governments in liberated countries. In response to questions, he declined to discuss how this agreement might be applied in countries cleared of the Nazis by soviet troops and now dominated by the Communists.

In regard to partition of Poland, Byrnes said the Big Three agreement was a compromise. He said the decision, which has aroused protests from Poles in America and in England, offers some consolation to the adherents of the Polish government in exile. He emphasized the Lublin or Moscow government, sponsored by the Reds, is to be reorganized under the agreement.

LONDON'S POLES REJECT BIG 3'S BORDER SLASH

Believe Refusal Dooms Arciszewski Cabinet.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Polish government tonight repudiated the Big Three decisions to hand a part of eastern Poland to Marshal Stalin of Russia and set up a new government in Warsaw. It said the decisions "cannot be recognized by the Polish government and cannot bind the Polish nation."

The declared intention of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Stalin to create a provisional government by enlarging the "foreign appointed" Lublin committee can "only legalize soviet interference in Polish internal affairs," the Polish cabinet in exile said in a bulletin issued after day long discussions.

Called Fifth Partition.

As long as Poland is occupied by soviet troops such a government, even in the presence of British and American diplomats, could not guarantee the Polish people the right of free expression, the bulletin said. It warned that the Polish government considers the establishment of a new frontier along the Curzon line west of the pre-war border as "the fifth partition of Poland, now accomplished by her allies."

Rejection of the Big Three agreement by the Polish government was considered in diplomatic circles the equivalent of publication of its own obituary notice, since not even the most optimistic think Premier Tomasz Arciszewski and his cabinet will be able to do anything about it.

The cabinet's bulletin was taken to mean that the Polish government does not intend to participate with the soviet-sponsored Warsaw government in the formation of a united administration, but its refusal was believed unlikely to deter the Big Three from going ahead with the plan.

Denouncing the Big Three decisions on Poland as "a contradiction of the elementary principles binding the allies" and a violation of the Atlantic Charter, the Polish government disclosed it had made a last minute appeal to Britain and the United States before the Crimean conference to make no decision on Poland without its consent. The cabinet said also it had offered to seek settlement of the Russo-Polish dispute thru "normal international procedure."

Telegraphed Two Leaders.

The appeal was contained in a telegram sent to Churchill and Roosevelt by Arciszewski Feb. 3, the eve of the conference. The Polish premier's telegram expressed the hope that "freedom of conscience and speech and freedom from fear and want" would be secured for Poland by the allies.

Arciszewski insisted also that "if peace in Europe is to be durable, it must be based on principles of justice, on respect for law, good-neighborly relations and honesty in international life." The telegram begged the two leaders to protect the soldiers of the Polish home army and members of the underground movement, whose lives, Arciszewski asserted, have been threatened by the Lublin committee.

On Jan. 22, the Polish government sent to the American and British governments a final statement of its attitude on the Russo-Polish dispute.

That message, it was disclosed tonight, announced the Polish government's willingness to conclude an alliance with Russia within the framework of a general security organization, but insisted that territorial questions be settled at the end of hostilities and not before. It was proposed that, if no agreement could be reached in the Russo-Polish dispute, an inter-allied military commission be set up to control the administration of Poland until free elections were held and a legitimate government took charge.

Hint Call to Ex-Premier.

While the Polish bulletin tonight reiterated the exiles' offer to "cooperate in the creation of a government in Poland truly representative of the will of the Polish nation," preliminary steps toward the formation of a new administration already are being taken, it was reported.

The Big Three were said to be eager to set up the new Polish government in time for the allies' San Francisco conference April 25. The belief that former Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of Poland and Polish Peasant party leaders would receive a prominent role in the new administration was strengthened here tonight. Some observers saw the prospects, however, of a split in the Socialist party.

LAND GRAB O. K. BY BIG 3 SHOCKS POLISH GROUPS

Chicagoans of Polish extraction yesterday received with dismay the news that the Big Three, at the Crimean conference, had agreed on the retention by Russia of areas which were part of the Polish republic from 1921 to 1939.

"This tragic revelation is a staggering blow to the cause of freedom," said Charles Rozmarek, president of the Polish American congress. "This docile submission to Russia's demand for all the lands seized during the partition of Poland as Germany's collaborator . . . is a distortion of our war aims."

Charges About-Face by Stalin.

Rozmarek charged that when the Nazis were at the gates of Moscow, Stalin renounced his claims to the territories he had seized [in 1939] as Germany's partner, but that as soon as the Russians, thanks to American lend-lease aid, began to push the Germans back, the soviet dictator reinstated his claims.

"America cannot align herself with evil forces seeking the destruction of democracy," Rozmarek continued. He predicted that if "the advocates of slavery" are allowed their way, the United States will suffer from the after effects of its spiritual and political weakness, just as the world as a whole did after the Munich agreement with Germany in 1938.

John A. Stanek, president of the Polish Alma Mater, also was deeply concerned by the Big Three terms.

A Dangerous Expedient.

"They don't look favorable for Poland," he said. "Lwow, an ancient Polish city, is awarded to Russia. Compensation to Poland in the form of German lands to the north and west is a dangerous expedient."

John Olejniczak, president of the Polish Roman Catholic union, felt that the Atlantic Charter had been violated when the Big Three assigned Poland to Russia without consulting the people. He also had no faith that the new provisional government, with the Russian sponsored Lublin committee still wielding great power, would adequately represent the Polish people.

Yugoslav-Americans of the Chicago area accepted with caution the Big Three arrangement for a coalition government, headed by Marshal Tito and Dr. Subasic, to be set up in Yugoslavia.

Note Dangers in Slav Coalition.

Louis C. Christopher of Gary, Ind., supreme president of the Serbian National federation, pointed out the dangers to democracy if an allied supervisory commission is not assigned to Yugoslavia. He feared that Tito's power otherwise would be too great.

John Jerich, editor of the American Slovene Daily, said he felt that the arrangement agreed upon for Yugoslavia was good and that everything depended on how it was carried out.

Steven Warnick, owner and editor of the Yugoslavian Herald, was optimistic about the future of Yugoslavia under the terms of the agreement and saw security for the people in Big Three coöperation.

EACH OF BIG 3 HAD HIS OWN PALACE AT CONFERENCE RESORT

MOSCOW, Feb. 13 (AP).—President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill each had a palace at the Crimean resort of Yalta at the Big Three conference. The President's—where the business sessions were held—was the Livadia palace, one-time residence of Czar Nicholas II.

Churchill's palace was at Alupkathe, an Elizabethan Gothic style built by English architects between 1830 and 1837 for Prince Voronotsov, who once served as ambassador to Britain. This palace descends to the lion terrace, which means just that—a yard full of stone lions, which particularly pleased the prime minister.

Stalin's palace formerly belonged to Prince Yusopov, the man credited with doing away with Rasputin. This palace was between the other two along the coast. Each leader gave a special dinner for the other two.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 13.—A floor battle over a proposal for a global super-government, backed up by an international police force, and with world sovereignty in the place of national sovereignties, is shaping in the Missouri legislature.

The house is expected to vote in a few days, possibly tomorrow, on a joint resolution which declares that all peoples of the earth "should now be united in the commonwealth of nations to be known as the Federation of the World."

It calls on the Missouri delegation in congress to work for a measure indorsing such a super-state and asking the President to start procedure to formulate a world constitution to be submitted to each nation for its ratification.

U. S. Would Aid Police.

It is proposed that the super-state have behind it an international police force, "more powerful than the police forces of any of the 68 units in this group." Opponents of the resolution say it would mean American soldiers would be part of a force of international police under control and direction of foreign nations.

Parent of "the federation of the world" proposal is Robert Lee Humber, 47, expatriate attorney, who practiced international law and was an executive of several business firms for 16 years in Paris.

He quit Paris with his French wife and their two sons shortly before the Nazi invasion in 1940. He is a native of North Carolina and after Harvard he was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford university. He is on the scene here, putting in some licks for his project.

The resolution already has been indorsed by legislatures of eight states.

Roy Hamlin of Hannibal, Democratic minority leader of the house who is against the resolution, reported today Humber recently tried to put pressure on him thru constituents in Hamlin's old home town, where Mark Twain lived.

"It makes me all the more determined to fight this proposal," said Hamlin. "Many are wondering what forces are back of all this world federation idea. I maintain the legislature should not try to tell congress what it should do."

Back of the global proposal is "the Missouri state committee for world federation" under the chairmanship of F. R. Von Windegger, president of the Plaza bank of St. Louis. It has put out a booklet which contains the pending resolution, filling three pages of the house journal, and a speech Humber has been making at various Missouri meetings.

No Recommendation Made.

The joint resolution recently was reported out of house committee without recommendation because of its controversial nature. No opposition was expressed at the time. Word tonight is that the measure may come up tomorrow or later in the week, unless it is held over until March.

From St. Louis has been sent a letter to Missouri legislators from Lee Meriwether, president of the Jeffersonians, excoriating the world federation plan.

Meriwether assailed the Humber proposal for a powerful world police force.

"The world Supreme court," he said, "with only one American judge, all the others being foreigners appointed by European and Asiatic governments, would have an army big enough to compel the United States to obey its decisions, no matter how dangerous they may be to the welfare and safety of our republic.

"In a word, it is proposed to give away with the pen the independence Washington won for us with the sword."

SEVEN WOMEN IN ORCHESTRA SUED BY LEADER

Bohumir Kryl, 3300 Lake Shore dr., a symphony orchestra leader, filed suit for $16,500 in Superior court yesterday against seven women members of his orchestra on the charge that at Dothan, Ala., they broke their contract to complete a concert tour and damaged his reputation by spreading rumors among the other players. The defendants are: Dorothy Pundy, cellist; Betty Smith, cellist; Martha Jochem, harpist; Gwendolyn A. Campbell, violinist; Joanne Weed and Dorothy Parmely, clarinet players, and Ada Marie Cover, trumpet player.

NAZIS ASK FIGHT TO FOIL 'MISERY' OF BIG 3 PLANS

Claim Yalta Decisions Aid Home Morale.

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP).—Nazi leaders, speaking over German radios, summoned the invaded German nation today to "resist to the last breath Yalta's Magna Charta for the pauperization and misery of Europe." A German foreign office spokesman said, "Millions of us will wage guerrilla warfare; every German before he dies will try to take five or 10 enemies with him to the grave."

The spokesman, Dr. Paul Schmidt, was quoted by the German radio as making this pronouncement to foreign correspondents, saying that he thought the allied Big Three bulletin was "excellent, for it helps German leaders to maintain and strengthen war morale."

"Murder with Murder."

Contending that "there have been worse situations in the history of war than the one in which Germany is today," Schmidt said "eighty million people know how to defend themselves. We have gathered experience in smaller countries. Millions of Germans will pay back murder with murder."

Ignoring that part of the Big Three declaration which pledged "not to destroy the German people" and which promised hope of "a decent life" after the destruction of nazism, Propaganda Minister Goebbels' radio orators denounced "bolshevik terror and Jewish revenge whose terms will be made public only after we have laid down our arms."

"We will never lay down our arms," shouted a commentator of the D. N. B. agency, "and this document will help us keep up our fighting morale because it shows that the individual German could never be worse off than if we capitulated now."

The theme of German radio and press comment on the Crimean meeting was that the allies intended to exterminate all Germans and to make the soviet union the chief agent of what was termed "the greatest political murder conspiracy of all time."

Moscow to Be "Slave Center."

The commentators stressed the Yalta bulletin's statement that the allied commission to fix war damage would have its seat at Moscow.

"Moscow will thereby become a great slave center where the fate of millions of Germans will be decided," said D. N. B.

A foreign office spokesman was quoted as claiming that Stalin had imposed his will on President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in the Polish and Yugoslav question. He added:

"Stalin has become the governor of the three big powers on the continent and the Red army is the chosen instrument to maintain order, guarantee peace, protect morale, and the bearer of world culture."

A Tokyo radio commentator asserted Russia was the winner of the Big Three conference and asserted well informed Tokyo quarters saw humiliation for both the United States and England in the Crimean bulletin. "We can indeed pity Great Britain, who is heading toward a tragic end," he said.

Released

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morris as they left the Cook county jail yesterday. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Louis Morris, 65, and his wife, Katherine, 66, were released from the county jail yesterday by order of Federal Judge John P. Barnes and freed of conspiracy charges to defraud the public of $178,000 while managers of the First State Mortgage company, 10 N. Clark st. The couple was convicted in Criminal court in 1939, and each served four years in the state penitentiary.

While they were in prison Federal Judge William H. Holly ordered them to turn over the $178,000, and upon their release they were committed to the county jail under a contempt order when they protested they were without funds.

CULTISTS BRING OUT YOGI TALK IN KUM BUM TRIAL

Followers of Hugh Greer Carruthers, director of the Neological Foundation, testified yesterday in his defense before Judge Philip L. Sullivan of the federal District court, where he is on trial with Mary Morel and Evelyn Kroell on charges of obtaining $289,998 thru misrepresentations and with using the mails to defraud.

Some told about Yogi and the Silence, and while they weren't sure whether Yogi was a person, principle, or practice, they were more explicit on the Silence. The idea there, they said, was to relax and apply the proper amount of imagination and visualization in your thinking.

Among the defense witnesses were a dentist, an art student, a furniture designer, and a beauty operator. The art student went as far as he could in his explanation of Carruthers' cultism, then stopped, saying, "I'd rather not discuss it any more, because I don't understand it fully."

STRIKE IN FORGE PLANT LAID TO LACK OF GLOVES

A walkout last night by 10 to 20 workers at the forge shop of the Kelly Steel Works, Inc., 5757 W. 65th st., Clearing, was laid to the scarcity of canvas gloves. Production in that section of the plant, engaged in war work, was halted.

One striker said men working on the night shift had been unable to get gloves. He asserted that the company had failed to keep a promise to procure them.

A company official said that the company usually supplied the gloves at cost to the men as a service, but it, too, had been unable to find any in quantity lately. However, he said, individual pairs can be purchased in hardware stores and other places. The strikers are members of a CIO union, but the union is not involved.

ARRESTED ON BOGUS CHECK CHARGE. Donald Mathews, 26, of the Fort Dearborn hotel, was arrested yesterday by E. Chicago avenue police on charges of cashing more than $200 worth of forged checks in Clark st. taverns.

CLERK BLAMED FOR ROUTING TIN CANS TO DUMP

The Chicago and North Western Railway company reported yesterday that an error by a clerk in its 40th st. yards was responsible for routing a carload of washed and flattened tin cans to a Lake Calumet dump last Saturday. Exposure of the error by THE TRIBUNE prevented loss of the salvaged cans and resulted in their being rerouted to a detinning plant.

Frank V. Koval, public relations official for the railroad, said that the clerk assumed the car was filled with refuse because others in the train were and wrote out a waybill when he found none on the car. There had been a delay in getting the correct waybill made out, Koval said.

Tin Salvage Dwindles.

Meanwhile it was discovered yesterday that tin can salvage in Chicago is almost at a standstill. Only 37.3 tons of salvaged cans were shipped by the city in January, compared with 206.8 tons in January, 1944, and a monthly average of 244 tons thruout 1944. Last month's collections were less than a sixth of the average monthly figure for 1944.

The tremendous decline came at a time when the war production board and salvage committees have renewed pleas for coöperation by householders and other tin can users for the salvage of cans.

City Collects Cans.

In all of 1943, when the program was new, a monthly average of 285 tons of processed cans a month were shipped by Chicago. The city collects them as it makes garbage collections. There are additional collections by private scavengers and in the suburbs.

The figures for representative months in 1944 and 1943 follow:

| | 1944. Tons. | 1943. Tons. |
|---|---|---|
| August | 109.9 | 247.4 |
| September | 62.7 | 183.2 |
| October | 87.5 | 161.6 |
| November | 40.4 | 121.0 |
| December | 82.7 | 201.6 |

The war production board yesterday promised an investigation of the dumping of one gallon cans in huge quantities in a dump at 122d st. and Ashland av. in the village of Calumet Park. A large mound of cans under the elevated lines structure at the Logan Square station also will be investigated by the WPB, Robert M. McKenna, assistant to the regional salvage manager of the WPB, said.

Waste Annoys Citizens.

The reason for the decline in the can salvage campaign was not immediately clear, altho householders said that rationing restrictions had cut down the number of cans available to housewives.

Many citizens, annoyed by what they said was apparent waste, said tons of cans rusting dumps could be seen on Doty av. between 103d and 130th st.

Illinois War Bond Sales in January Above Quota

January sales of war bonds to individuals in Illinois exceeded their quota by 17.6 per cent, Renslow P. Sherer, chairman of the war finance committee of Illinois, said yesterday. Sales were $66,793,500 against a quota of $56,800,000. National sales for the month were 839 million dollars, 104.9 per cent of a goal of 800 million.

ARMY DEFENDS U.S. TREATMENT OF PRISONERS

Insures Care for Yanks, General Explains.

BY JOSEPH HEARST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Maj. Gen. Archer L. Lerch, provost marshal general, told a press conference today that the 359,140 prisoners of war in our hands are treated in strict accordance with international law so the enemy will have no excuse to mistreat American prisoners in their hands. He said the policy has paid dividends.

"Our main thought in handling prisoners is to insure for our men taken prisoners the best care possible and to give the enemy no excuse to mistreat them," he said. "We want to get our men back as quickly as possible and in the best physical condition possible.

"The terms of the Geneva treaty govern prisoners of war. Those terms are the law and they can't be changed by the war department or the provost marshal. We adhere to them. The result has been good treatment for our men."

Well Fed by Nazis.

Gen. Lerch said he read recently that French and Russian prisoners in Germany are now being fed rat meat. But American prisoners have been getting 1,800 to 2,000 calories of food a day, the same as the food ration allotted to German soldiers, he said, and in addition they have received Red Cross food packages providing 11 pounds of additional food each week.

Recently this ration probably has been reduced because of transport problems in Germany, he said, but generally the Germans have fed our men as well as they have their own troops because they knew their prisoners in the United States got the same fare as our own soldiers.

Gen. Lerch answered criticism of the war department's policy of permitting the use of the Nazi flag at the burial of a German prisoner of war by displaying several photographs showing the American flag being used at burial services for American prisoners in Germany.

Worth the Effort.

"We know the identity of the men buried with the Stars and Stripes covering the casket and with a firing squad present to fire the last volley over the grave," he said. "One picture shows a row of Germans at salute, and they are giving the American and not the Nazi salute. In contrast we all have read of how Russians and Poles have been buried by the Germans. It is worth a lot of effort on our part to make certain that our men are treated fairly while alive and honorably in death."

He denied reports that Italian prisoners have been coddled and that German noncommissioned officers have been permitted to run the German camps in the United States. Gen. Lerch said there has been widespread misunderstanding about the use of Italians and asserted they have aided our war program by volunteering to do work they could not be required to do under the Geneva convention.

These Italian volunteers number 33,000. They receive $24 a month, of which they get $8 cash. The rest is retained and will be paid to them when the war is over and they are repatriated. About 12,000 are working in ports of embarkation, 8,500 in ordnance installations, about 4,300 in quartermaster depots, and about 5,900 in service command installations.

Get Extra Privileges.

"Because these men do work directly connected with the war, because they are subject to longer hours of work and because they receive no extra pay, the prisoner of war regulations are relaxed sufficiently to allow members of the Italian service units some supervised entertainment, such as sightseeing tours conducted by American army personnel," Gen. Lerch said. "No prisoner of war outside the Italian service units is allowed such entertainment."

These Italians, he said, have promised to assist the United States against Germany and if they fail to keep their promise they are returned to the regular prisoner status.

"They work about a million man days a month, and there have been times when without their services shipping schedules could not have been met," Gen. Lerch said. "We use them because they help to shorten the war. In return we give them a few privileges."

Japs Not So Used.

No German or Japanese prisoners have been used in service units. The Germans have been used in the usual prisoner tasks and in contract labor under which they receive 80 cents a day in coupons that may be spent at their canteens. The rest of their pay, based on prevailing rates, goes into the United States treasury.

Lerch said prisoners originally idled in camps until the war department changed its policy in 1943 and began using them to ease our man power shortages. Today work of prisoners is a 100 million dollar a year business exclusive of that done by the Italian service units.

The war man power commission investigates requests for such labor and certifies the pay rate. Last year these labor contracts brought the treasury 22 million dollars, mostly from work in agriculture, while work estimated worth 88 million dollars was done in army installations.

443 Camps in Use.

"We have 135 base camps and 308 branch camps," Gen. Lerch said. "Last year prisoners were used at 160 skills. In Kentucky they harvested 2,200 acres of tobacco that otherwise would have been lost. They picked cotton, harvested sugar beets, detasseled seed corn, picked and packed vegetables and fruits and performed many other services."

All enlisted men can be forced to work. Officers and noncommissioned officers cannot. If a man refuses to work he is put on a bread and water diet.

In keeping with her custom, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, 209 Lake Shore dr., will be hostess today at a Valentine's day party for the young patients at Children's Memorial hospital. Mrs. Valentine sends valentines for all of them, and there is ice cream and cake all around. Mrs. Valentine formerly was a member of the hospital board.

Cupids, hearts, and pistols will be varying properties of the Valentine parties at Chicago Service Men's centers 1 and 2 tonight. At Center 2, 430 S. Michigan av., stunts will be featured between dances, and the prizes will be long distance calls to those "certain parties."

In Center 1, at 176 W. Washington st., service center girls will carry toy pistols onto the dance floor to emphasize their intentions when they cut in on a dancing partner. There will be a "Heart-y" party tomorrow evening on the seventh floor at 176 W. Washington st., with invitations out to a "post-mortem."

MRS. McWILLIAMS ESTATE $159,289.

An inheritance tax return filed yesterday in County court showed that Mrs. Elisabeth Belden McWilliams, whose husband, Roy, was vice consul at Biarritz, France, before the war, left an estate of $159,289.

17 NEXT OF KIN CLUBS AID 3,000 FAMILIES HERE

Three thousand families of Chicago men in enemy prison camps are finding help and sympathetic companionship in the 17 Next to Kin clubs organized by the Chicago Young Men's Christian association thru 24 neighborhood Ys.

Harriet Hester, who heads the Next of Kin department of the Y, yesterday described the program since it began last July 1 as a centralized movement to coördinate information for the comfort and guidance of relatives of men who are prisoners of war or missing in action.

This is the way the association works: When a family learns where a relative is imprisoned, the Next of Kin department furnishes information precious to parents, wives, and sweethearts, such as whether there are adequate bedding, food, and recreational material.

Help Get Messages Thru.

A second important service is guiding families on correspondence so that they can get messages thru.

Third, the association puts families of men in the same camps in touch with each other. There is the need of friendships in this procedure, of course, but its immediate use is to get news to the prisoners. Mrs. Hester and her co-workers have found thru interviewing repatriates and checking correspondence that an average of only one letter in three gets thru either way. Therefore, by pooling information at both ends, some news arrives.

Group Pictures Taken.

Families are summoned together for photographs, and when the prints are made, every family mails one in the hope that one boy, at least, will get a picture. And if one does, every Chicago boy in the group finds a familiar face on the print.

The clubs meet separately, Mrs. Hester said, with the big city-wide meetings saved as "frosting." Divergence of Chicago neighborhoods make the individual club plan efficient. For instance, at the Division st. Y in a neighborhood largely Polish, Lithuanian, and Russian, interpreters always attend the meetings.

The department is a counseling service, Mrs. Hester said, as contrasted with the Red Cross, which is more concerned with the mechanics of prisoner of war affairs. The undertaking is financed by the Chicago Y.

An example of the counseling work arises when relatives of men reported missing in action discover that other fighters from the same outfits are in prison camps. Their question is whether to write to the prisoners seeking news. The answer is always "No," for counselors explain that to write might be to reveal that other members of an outfit [this problem usually affects airmen] are still at large.

Monthly Bulletin Issued.

The department also helps families to understand repatriated prisoners. It puts out a monthly bulletin. Yesterday it received news it has been tracing for weeks—that a dozen German prison camps have been moved back out of the path of the Russians, but that some of the prisoners are unable to travel fast, and the Russians overtake them.

In Chicago, 17 to 23 evening meetings are held every month. Attendance varies from an average of 20 at North av. Y to 300 at Englewood. Mrs. Hester attends every session. She tries to get repatriates or men who have returned via the underground as speakers.

Police Say Mail Clerk Admitted Robbing Firm

Frederick Fisher, 35, of 2146 Grace st., a former mail clerk for the Sun Shoe company, 617 N. Aberdeen st., was held by Racine avenue police last night in connection with the disappearance of an estimated $2,000 of the company's funds. Richard Weinberger, attorney for the company, told police that Fisher apparently had been abstracting money from letters. Detective William Deveny said Fisher admitted his peculations, but refused to sign a statement.

New Year Celebrant

Victoria Young, 6, of 2225 Wentworth av., with firecrackers she used to celebrate the Chinese New Year yesterday.

There was a little merrymaking in Chicago Chinese community yesterday in observance of the Chinese 4,642d New Year's day, but it was confined to good wishes rather than any large scale celebrations. Gerald H. Moye, secretary of the On Leong Merchants' association, said some of the stores and offices were open but "not for business, just so people can drop in with New Year's greetings." There were no decorations and none of the festivity of pre-war years.

DELAY PERMIT TO BUILD WAR PRISONER CAMP

Clayton F. Smith, president of the Cook county board of commissioners, said yesterday that the board will withhold the issuance of a permit for the location of a prisoner of war camp in Proviso township at Howard st. and Ogden av., until the army removes the objections of residents of Western Springs.

C. D. Meyers, a member of the Field Park association, composed of home owners in Western Springs, said a meeting will be held at 8 tonight in the McClure school. Maj. E. R. Schuelke, Fort Sheridan prisoner of war camp commander, and Capt. Fred H. Dettmar will attend the meeting.

Some property owners and the sisters operating the St. Joseph's academy, for boys, and Our Lady of Bethlehem and Nazareth academies, for girls, have protested the plan to place the prison camp in the vicinity.

4 DIE, 3 MISSING IN EXPLOSION OF NAVY OIL BARGE

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 13 (AP).—Four men were killed, three missing, and one injured of eight known to have been aboard a navy oil barge which was swept by flames today after an explosion while the vessel was loading gasoline at the Gulf Oil corporation plant at South Norfolk.

A gulf oil tanker, which was tied up at the same pier, caught fire astern, but was pulled out into the river by a navy yard tug and the blaze was extinguished.

A navy yard spokesman said the oil barge normally carried a crew of 16.

WINDOW WASHER FALLS FOUR STORIES.

BUS STRIKERS VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK TODAY

Seventy-three union bus drivers who struck Saturday night for a 6 cent an hour pay raise and kept an estimated 8,000 war workers in the Aurora-Elgin area idle and stranded for lack of transportation, voted last night to return to work at 6 a. m. today. The action was taken at a meeting in the Aurora labor temple after Richard Plum, business agent of their local, read a telegram from Philip Marshall, vice chairman of the regional war labor board here, promising "immediate processing" of their petition for rehearing of the national WLB decree denying the wage increase.

Vote Is 61 to 11.

W. F. Levander, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes [AFL], with which the men are affiliated, presided at the meeting. Three officials of local 215 and three union drivers, who conferred with Marshall yesterday, urged the strikers to return to their jobs before the vote was taken. The drivers voted to go back, 61 to 11.

Marshall said in his message that he had been assured "that any petition for review which might be filed would be immediately processed by the national war labor board, and would receive the fullest and complete attention as soon as it was received there."

The men, employed by three bus lines, walked off the job Sunday night and left six Fox river valley towns without public transportation, Aurora and Elgin among them.

Agreed to by Companies.

Marshall said the union's original demands of 20 minutes daily checking time, eight consecutive working days' vacation annually for employes of one year service or longer, and a wage increase of 6 cents hourly had been agreed to by the companies—the Aurora-Elgin Bus Lines, the Elgin City Lines, and the Aurora City lines—subsidiaries of the National City Lines, Inc.

He said the WLB had approved the vacation and daily checking time provisions, but that the wage increase had been denied because it would have put wages out of line with cities of comparable population. Drivers in those cities now get 82 cents an hour, he said, two cents less than the strikers are drawing.

ROWAN RETIRES MAY 1 AS SENIOR POSTAL INSPECTOR FOR AREA

Thomas G. Rowan, 63, of 2124 W. 114th pl., senior postal inspector in the Chicago area, will retire May 1, it was disclosed yesterday.

T. G. Rowan.

He joined the postal service in 1903 as a railway mail clerk, entering the postal inspection service in 1910. He has been stationed at Chicago since 1925 after serving in St. Paul, Minn., and Spokane, Wash. Among his outstanding cases was the Evergreen mail robbery.

After the war Rowan and his wife, Gladys, plan to move to a smaller community, where they can raise chickens and have a garden. Rowan will be honored at a dinner in the Mural room of the Morrison hotel tomorrow night by other postal inspectors of the Chicago area.

Why get a PERSONAL LOAN from a BANK?

Because Merchandise Bank SAVES you up to ⅓ of usual Small Loan Charges!

* Savings shown apply to "signature only" loans repaid in 12 monthly installments—cost to be deducted in advance. You can save even more if you borrow with one co-maker. In either case, you save at least half of usual and lawful Small Loan Charges.

AT USUAL small loan rates—on a loan of $100—you have to make 12 payments of about $10.07 each. Figure it out—that's $120.84—or $20.84 more than you borrowed!

At Merchandise Bank a similar loan will cost you only $5.50 (if you use the popular One Co-Maker Plan), saving you $15.34 on $100 for 1 year. (Can't you use that fifteen dollars?) Or—if you borrow on your signature only, the cost is only $8—and you still save $12.84. In either case the saving amounts to nearly as much as two payments. And you save proportionately on any amount you borrow at Merchandise Bank.

Easily Arranged

You needn't take time off your job to apply for a loan here. Merely phone us, or write. Call Whitehall 4500—or if convenient come in personally—week days until 4 P.M. or Saturday until Noon.

LEWIS' DEMAND FOR POST IN AFL BLOCKS RETURN

Green Refuses Guaranty of Council Seat.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., Feb. 13.—After a three hour session of the American Federation of Labor's executive board today, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers' union still were not back in the AFL.

In a letter to the AFL council, Lewis is understood to have demanded a guaranty that he or one of his fellow UMW officials would be assured a place on the AFL executive council as a prerequisite to his union's return.

Guaranty Refused.

Green reportedly telegraphed Lewis tonight that the AFL council could make no such guaranty, but would support such a move, if a vacancy should occur on the council, or if a miners' official should be a candidate for election at the AFL convention at Chicago in October.

At a press conference today Green announced he had sent a telegram to Lewis, but refused to divulge its contents. Council members expressed hope Lewis would be amenable to the AFL board's resolve, and that he would clear the way for the UMW's return by "acceding to the regular procedure of the AFL for the election of council members."

Council members believed Lewis would agree and that the UMW would be back in the AFL before the council meeting adjourns Friday.

Try to Settle Dispute.

The executive council today also attempted to "clarify" a dispute between the International Association of Machinists and the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Harvey Brown, president of the machinists, who also is a member of the council, said he was not satisfied with the board's decision which gave the engineers "on site" jurisdiction of machinery repairs which he said belongs to the machinists.

Brown said he would meet the IAM executive board next week to decide what action should be taken relative to the AFL board's decision. The IAM president previously said his membership might secede from the AFL if the dispute was not settled amicably.

Second British Princess Is Stricken with Mumps

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP).—Princess Elizabeth has the mumps, it was announced today. Princess Margaret has just recovered from a similar illness.

There goes Mrs. Finkle heading for the candy counter again.

No. 8 in Service

Miss Mildred Furimsky (left) is welcomed to the marine corps women's reserve by Sgt. Martha Arnold.

Miss Mildred Furimsky, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Furimsky of Nokomis, Montgomery county, became the eighth member of her family in the fighting services when she was sworn into the marine corps women's reserve yesterday in the recruiting station at 321 Plymouth ct. She has five brothers in the army, one in the navy, and one in the marines. Miss Furimsky, who has been living at 4920 W. 29th pl., Cicero, took her oath on the 2d birthday of the marine corps women's reserve. She was sworn in by Capt. Katherine B. Persons, while Sgt. Martha Arnold looked on. Sgt. Arnold's husband, Pvt. Walter, and four brothers are in the marines.

Batista, Cuba's Ex-Head, Plans Visit to Cardenas

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13 (AP).—Former President Batista of Cuba will leave Thursday for the state of Michoacan as a guest of Lazaro Cardenas, secretary of war.

WAR VETERANS ELIGIBLE FOR ADDITIONAL GAS

Discharged war veterans and displaced civilian workers are eligible for limited extra gasoline rations under a new OPA ruling, Marion W. Isbell, area director, said yesterday. Those who must use a car to go to a job interview, and who have referral cards from government agencies or authorized unions, may obtain up to 400 miles a month by presenting cards at their local boards, he said.

Fresh peas and spinach will go up on the weekly OPA community price ceiling list, effective tomorrow. All varieties of peas will be 2½ cents a pound higher at 20 cents, with spinach up ½ cent to 14 cents a pound. Three inch Spanish onions are returned to the list at 3 pounds for 23 cents.

Hines Patient Indicted on Charge of Assault

Robert Triplette, 22, a Negro patient in Hines Memorial hospital, was charged with assaulting Henry R. Warren, another patient, with a dangerous weapon in an indictment returned yesterday by the federal grand jury. Triplette is alleged to have stabbed Warren after a quarrel, and also to have stabbed William T. Strader, a hospital attendant, when Strader came to Warren's aid.

DIES IN FALL FROM CONVEYOR TRACK.

FARM LEADERS DIVIDED ON NEED OF LABOR DRAFT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Representatives of farm groups testifying today before the senate military affairs committee on the New Deal's "work or jail" bill were split for and against the labor draft measure.

The only support for the bill as passed by the house came from W. R. Ogg, director of the American Farm Bureau federation's Washington office. Ogg, however, urged the committee to adopt amendments safeguarding essential farm labor from conscription for war industry.

Fred Brenckman, legislative representative of the National Grange, told the committee his organization favored voluntary measures to provide needed workers for industry.

James G. Patton, president of the left wing National Farmers' union, opposed the bill and called for a "unified and strengthened war man power commission." He suggested that the WMC be given authority by congress to enforce man power ceilings.

Labor union representatives will be heard tomorrow.

DIESEL PUMPER TOPS GAS ENGINE IN FIRE TRUCK

A diesel engine installed in a fire department truck formerly powered with gasoline pumped more water a greater distance under stronger pressure in tests supervised yesterday by Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney.

The Cummings diesel engine, in an Ahrens-Fox pumper chassis, powering a nozzle on the fireboat Fred A. Busse, pumped 843 gallons of water a minute under a pressure of 155 pounds, compared with the pumper's former performance of 750 gallons a minute at 120 pounds pressure. The tests were made on the Franklin st. dock at Wacker dr.

Sixty pieces of apparatus purchased from the Ahrens-Fox Manufacturing company, now out of business, are owned by the Chicago fire department, and replacement parts cannot be obtained. Chief Mullaney said diesel engines will be installed in other trucks if the pumper tested yesterday continues to operate satisfactorily. It was assigned to engine company 107 at 2258 W. 13th st.

EXPERTS POINT TO EARLY WORK IN WAR GARDENS

War gardeners may be able to get an early start on their radish and lettuce cultivation as a result of the unusual weather of the last eight months. This prediction was made yesterday by Charles Glover, Blue Island, Cook county assistant farm adviser, and W. C. Blaesing, chief horticulturist of the Chicago park district.

Glover said many truck gardeners in this county hope to make their first plantings of hardy vegetables in late March or early April. There is almost no frost in the ground because of the 10 inch deficiency of rainfall in the period of June thru December.

Glover pointed out that onion sets, onion seeds, spinach, leaf lettuce, head lettuce, and radishes can stand frosts, light ground freezes, and coverings of snow, and are planted between March 25 and April 10 by truck gardeners in this area when the ground is workable. Blaesing said this winter's weather has been ideal for lawns, perennial flowers, and flowering bulbs.

ARMY WILL BUILD WAC BARRACKS IN BURNHAM PARK

Two temporary barracks to house 100 women's army corps technicians stationed at Gardiner General hospital will be built by the army in Burnham park, between 47th st. and 48th pl., under a permit approved yesterday by the park district board of commissioners. The permit allows the buildings to stand for one year after the war.

The buildings will be one story structures and will cost an estimated $79,000, the army disclosed. Bids will be opened Feb. 22 by Col. H. J. Woodbury of the Chicago district army engineer's office.

Construction will begin as soon as possible after the contracts are awarded and the buildings probably will be in use within a few months, an army spokesman said. The park land must be restored by the army when the barracks are demolished.

OPA Sues 9 Landlords; Charges Rent Violations

The office of price administration stepped up its rent control drive yesterday by filing five suits in Circuit court and four in Municipal court, asking triple damages and injunctions, with refunds to tenants. All charged the landlords collected rents above legal limits.

WOMAN ARTIST TURNS TALENTS TO TELEVISION

Lois Fisher Shows How She Does Cartoons.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Lois Fisher, who does the cartoons for "Fresh from the Hills," by Marge of Sunrise Mountain farm, appearing in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, is turning her talents to television. Every Friday at 7:30 p. m. she shows how she does her comic drawings over station WBKB. Next Friday she will talk about Marguerite Lyon [who is Marge] and her Ozark friends. Miss Fisher weaves in anecdotes about her experience as an illustrator.

Tommy Dorsey, who first brought Frank Sinatra to the attention of the nation, is forgetting about his jazz band for a day to appear as trombone soloist with Leopold Stokowsky and his New York City Symphony in New York tomorrow. For his "long hair" debut Dorsey will be featured in Concerto for Trombone and Orchestra by Nathaniel Shilkret. The first two movements are in a classical vein with a little jazz. The last movement is reported to be straight boogie-woogie stuff.

One of the biggest stations in the west, KFI, Los Angeles, yesterday announced that starting March 1 it no longer will carry news commentators expressing personal opinions. Spot news, said Earle C. Anthony, the owner, will be supplemented by programs featuring analysis of the news.

A qualified analyst, it was stated, would be some one who had been a foreign correspondent for a news service; one who is familiar with the people and political and economic aspects of a foreign situation; or a man with military background competent to discuss a battle or campaign in the light of military considerations.

Henry Weber and Marion Claire [Mrs. Weber] have returned from a skiing trip to Wisconsin. Both will return to the air Saturday evening when W-G-N-Mutual present "The Desert Song" on the Chicago Theater of the Air.

When Ed Wynn leaves the air at the end of this month Jerry Wayne, who has been the singer on the show, will head the musical series replacing the comedian. He will have the coöperation of guest stars, starting with Carole Landis. There are young people who think that Wayne, who sings popular songs, does them better than Sinatra.

Yank's Wife Gets 60 Days on Shoplifting Charge

Judge Jacob M. Braude in Women's court yesterday sentenced Mrs. Beverley Eilers, 21, of West Allis, Wis., to 60 days in the Bridewell and fined her $1 on charges of petty larceny. She was arrested Saturday in a loop store after she was reported to have stolen 16 dresses. Hearing on a motion to vacate the sentence was postponed to Feb. 28 to allow the court time to inform authorities in Wisconsin, where Mrs. Eilers, the wife of an army private overseas, is alleged to be on probation for child abandonment.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Albert Hanson, Story City, Ia.]

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

Chicago Museum of Natural History.

THE ANSWERS.

James Hagner, 9, Elgin—On our way to Chicago some of us boys had to stand. When the bus stopped we all tumbled backward and the girls started to squeal. Girls make too much noise, and are too easily upset. They're silly. If it had been all boys there probably wouldn't have been any screaming at all.

Edward Ehlers, 12, of 217 Cherry st., Elgin. — Some girls are okay, but what I don't like about the ones I don't like is that they are afraid to do anything. They won't slide down a steep hill on a sled. They're afraid of high places. They won't go into a dark house all alone. They're afraid of everything. It seems they are all sissies.

Thomas Lyon, 9, of 62 Sheridan st., Elgin. — One day I picked up some snow and made a snowball. I hit a girl with it. She could have taken it as a joke, but no—she started crying and ran to the teacher to tattle. The first thing a girl thinks of when she knows something is to tell it to the world . . . gossip.

Robert Miller, 13, of 3649 S. 52d av., Cicero. — I don't like the way they dress. They wear slacks, dungarees, and shorts to school. It isn't appropriate and I don't associate with the ones who dress this way. Some of them wear lipstick and rouge. They look like a piece of candy the way they are all decked out.

Franklin Van Buren, 10, of 255 Barclet st., Elgin. — For one thing girls are scared of snakes and all kinds of animals. For another thing girls are babies. They like to tattle on boys and show off. They're awfully stubborn. You can't reason with them. I just can't understand them—that's all.

Gerald Miller, 11, of 3645 S. 52d av., Cicero. — Girls these days are hard to get away from. What I don't like about the girls is that they chase after me. They ask me to be their boy friend. They want to take me to movies. The only way to get rid of them is to ditch them in the theater, or some other place.

Secretary McLarty Will Quit Canadian Commons

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 13 (AP).—Norman McLarty, secretary of state, who has just returned from a trip to England, announced today that he would not seek reëlection to the house of commons at the next federal election. McLarty, who will be 56 on Sunday, said he was retiring because of ill health.

YANK DEMANDS HELD CAUSE OF CIGARET FAMINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—The federal trade commission today blamed the cigaret shortage on the volume of cigarets moving to American soldiers and sailors and the allies.

A report on the commission's investigation of the shortage added that the scarcity had been magnified by increased civilian demand.

The commission said the dearth of cigarets cannot be attributed to illegal deals among manufacturers, jobbers, and retailers. A number of undesirable practices, such as hoarding by consumers and inequitable rationing by some maufacturers and distributors, have developed, the report asserted, but these practices are the result of the shortage and not the cause of it.

There is little prospect of a material increase in cigaret production during 1945, the commission said, and the domestic market probably will receive a smaller proportion of the output than in the past.

2 Meat Distributors Sued by OPA on Price Charges

As a result of complaints by retailers of being forced to buy meat at illegal prices, the office of price administration yesterday sued two distributors of meat by truck for treble damages and asked injunctions in each case. Both suits were filed in federal District court. Those named were Arnold Karow, 7943 Luella av., sued for $17,936, and Thomas Kozlowski, 7822 Marquette av., from whom $2,900 was asked.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—Whether Mayor Kelly will save State Sen. Dowd of Chicago from being dumped out of office in favor of the bi-partisan but officially Republican ex-Sen. Daniel Serritella was the question in senate cloak rooms today as Dowd became top man in the number of bills introduced this session.

Dowd's first term will expire in 1946. Reports here are that the Chicago 1st ward's Republican-Democratic combine plans to replace him with Serritella, this despite the fact Democrats wield the most power in the ward and "Larry" Dowd is an old time Democrat.

But the 1st ward is no longer the Irish Democratic stronghold it once was. Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna, famous former ward boss, lives in seclusion in the Blackstone hotel, well past 80. Dowd is one of the few to see him often.

Morelli Now Boss.

The 1st ward Democratic boss since last year is Fred Morelli. Mayor Kelly had preferred Ald. Budinger for the post, but Morelli got it after Budinger made it plain he didn't hanker for the honor.

Serritella is Republican ward boss. His throne was shaky after he was beaten for senator in the G. O. P. primary in 1942 by a candidate backed by the rival ward leader, Bernard S. Black of the Business Men's Committee on Honest Elections.

Political belief is that the defeat of Serritella upset the plans of the bipartisan alliance to nominate Dowd on the Democratic side and then allow him to lose to Serritella. That's how Dowd came to be elected. Now he wants to be re-elected.

Serritella recently had his patronage restored. Black not only lost this but also was set out as state superintendent of lodging house inspection, a post in which he had kept some of the vote fraud artists on uneasy street. This, too, is considered a threat to Dowd's chances of reëlection.

Dowd today put in five new bills, bringing his total to 16. Usually a 1st district senator doesn't bother to introduce bills.

Wants Stricter Trials.

Headliner of today's batch of Dowd bills is a measure requiring that evidence in civil service trials be governed by court rules. Hearsay testimony and lax procedure now make "conviction" of accused employes relatively easy.

Dowd also put in bills to help policemen involved in accidents and accused of negligent operation of automobiles; to add a six months' jail sentence to penalties for lewdness, and to repeal the law authorizing formation of anti-horse thief associations.

Sen. Daley, Mayor Kelly's legislative spokesman, joined with Rep. McCabe, another Chicago Democrat, in introducing bills to take the sales tax off food not sold in restaurants.

Seeking a constitutional method of keeping the tax off food, the Daley-McCabe bills list thousands of other articles which may be taxed. Technically, it is the persons occupied in selling the articles who are taxed.

Ration Rules Entangle Tin Yee Choy 2d Time

Tin Yee Choy, owner of the Golden Rose inn, 5400 Clark st., who last June was suspended from dealing in rationed commodities because OPA regulations confused him so much he overdrew his ration bank account, has done it all over again, the OPA said yesterday. Hearing Commissioner John R. Allen said he would hear Tin's newest case March 1.

"O, Mrs. Dilby! I think you've got the wrong baby again!"

AIRPORTS BILL NEAR PASSAGE IN STATE SENATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—The senate today advanced to the passage stage a bill to enable aviation-minded downstate communities to create airport authorities. The final senate vote can't be taken before next week, however, because the upper house decided not to hold another business session until then.

Since Mayor Kelly and other metropolitan officials have not worked out the details of Chicago's future airport program, the bill was amended, at the request of Sen. Daley [D., Chicago], to make it applicable only to the 101 downstate counties.

The senate retained in the bill a provision that airport authorities could be created around cities as small as 5,000 population.

INJURED MAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK.
John Klocze, 84, of 7341 Carpenter st., died yesterday in Englewood hospital of a heart attack. He was admitted to the hospital Jan. 18 with a broken pelvis suffered when he fell on the ice in front of his home.

[ADVERTISMENT]

Loyal to the Lamps of China

MR. FRANKLIN

Now, at a time when China seems to be the football of circumstances, the world is badly in need of an intelligent appraisal of this courageous nation by someone who knows and understands her. Lin Yutang is such a person, and he has given us such a book — "The Vigil of a Nation" ($2.75). Mr. Franklin, manager of the Post Office News, says this is one of the finest contributions to know-your-China literature in many a year.

Yutang expresses great faith in his countrymen and assures us they will keep their vigil until freedom's flame burns brightly once more in the lamps of China.

The midnight oil burns here at home, too, while millions of Americans sweat out their income tax. How are you doing with yours, hmmmm? If the answer is "Lousy, thanks," stop in at the Post Office News and ask to see the two books by J. K. Lasser, "Your Income Tax" ($1.00) and "Your Corporation Tax" ($2.00). These books are complete, up to the minute and non-technical. If you can't get downtown, send Mr. Franklin a money order (he'll be glad to pay the postage), but don't pass up these helpful books. They'll save you a lot of unnecessary waving of arms and losing of temper.

How much do you know about cartels? Oh, sure, you've seen the word in print quite often of late, but do you honestly have a thorough knowledge of the cartel system? If not, you would do well to read Beardsley Ruml's book, "Tomorrow's Business." Mr. Ruml gives us the big-business viewpoint on management, tariffs, labor unions and cartels.

All these books and countless other late releases are in stock at the Post Office News (37 W. Monroe St.). Come in soon and take advantage of the extra-special service you always rate when you're a customer of the Handy Book & Gift Shops: Hyde Park (1457 E. ## CITY TERMINAL PLAN ACCEPTED BY AIR LINES

Air lines' acceptance of the city's plans for a new terminal building at the Chicago airport was announced yesterday after a conference between Public Works Commissioner Hewitt and Philip Willcox of United Airlines, representing the eight air transport companies operating here.

The contract, drawn by Assistant Corporation Counsel Grossman, calling for rental of 25,000 square feet of space by the lines at a rate of $2 a foot for 10 years, will be signed within two weeks, Willcox said. The building will be designed by Paul Gerhardt, city architect, who will also supervise construction for the city.

Willcox told Hewitt the lines wanted 10,000 square feet of added space if it could be found. The city will try to provide it, but must retain sufficient area for concessions and other public conveniences in the building, which will be about 1,400 feet long, 30 feet wide, and one story high. It will cost approximately $420,000.

YALTA.

No American in his right mind can fail to hope that the decisions and agreements reached at Yalta produce a stable and peaceful Europe. This hope will be held even more firmly by advocates of American independence than by those willing to sacrifice the Republic to a world state. It is on the ability of Europe to set its house in order that we must base our hopes of avoiding for a third time the task that has fallen to us twice, of fighting Europe's battles and binding its wounds and ours.

While details of the proposed treatment of conquered Germany were clarified, the conference produced nothing new in principle in that field. The conditions to be imposed are onerous. Germany is to pay to the limit of her ability, including, it seems probable, a contribution of millions of slave laborers to Russia, for the damage she has done her.

If the program is to be questioned, it will be on grounds of expediency rather than justice. The German people are still offered little more inducement to quit fighting than they got from the demand for unconditional surrender. The promise that they are not to be destroyed as a people, overshadowed as it is by the specific conditions for disarmament, reparations, and punishment of war criminals, is unlikely to weaken the German will to resist. Goebbels is making capital of the allied announcement, which was expectable, but there is virtually nothing in the announcement on which counter-propaganda can be based.

In Poland Stalin got ratification by his present allies of virtually the same partition for which he bargained with Hitler in 1939. The Poles are told they must accept the Curzon line boundary on the east and get what compensation they can in the west at German expense.

If good faith can be assumed, there was a concession to Polish wishes regarding the government of what remains of Poland. The London Polish government is to be disestablished, but there is a hint that some of its members may be included among the "democratic leaders" who will be invited to associate themselves with the present Lublin regime in a broadened provisional government.

Still assuming good faith, a more important concession still is the provision for free elections, with a secret ballot and permission for any anti-Nazi party to enter candidates for the purpose of constituting a permanent government of Poland. These are far greater concessions than Russia made in any of the so-called plebiscites it conducted in the Baltic states. The facts remain that the present head of the provisional government is the former head of the Polish section of the OGPU, that Poland will undoubtedly fall in the Russian zone of occupation, and that the food supply of a starving Polish population will be under Russian control. The question also occurs whether Mr. Roosevelt, the self-proclaimed champion of absentee voting, made any arrangements for sending bobtailed ballots to the hundreds of thousands of Poles held in Russian concentration camps.

Thus what happens in Poland may or may not accord with expectations based on the Yalta announcement. The same must be said of the arrangements for Yugoslavia, and of the general principles laid down for the treatment of liberated countries and former axis satellites.

The allies announce their intention of intervening in the affairs of these countries. The announced purposes of intervention are unexceptionable—to restore order, relieve distress, and assist in establishing the form of government that the people want. Whether the people of the countries involved will credit the intervenors with these high moral purposes remains to be seen. The Holy Alliance also based its proposals on considerations of the highest morality, but that did not make it popular in Europe. In this connection it may be noted that there is no specific reaffirmation of the four freedoms in the Yalta communique.

Mr. Roosevelt was unable at Yalta, of course, to commit the United States on any matters of permanent policy. If we are to underwrite the arrangements made there the obligation will be stated in the treaty establishing a united nations organization. A conference to be held in San Francisco in April is to draft this paper. Whatever other factors may influence congress in its consideration of this new league of nations, congress will certainly want to withhold any action on it until there is some indication of extent to which the spirit of the Yalta announcement is followed in reconstituting Europe.

BRETTON WOODS.

The President in his message Monday called upon congress to approve the proposals formulated at the international monetary and financial conference held last summer at Bretton Woods, N. H. He can hardly expect that his request will be granted.

The whole idea of the conference came from John Maynard Keynes, the world's most celebrated advocate of inflation. That the plans which were agreed upon did not disappoint Mr. Keynes was shown by his statement that if adopted they would "oil the wheels of trade by a great addition to the world's stock of monetary reserves, distributed in a reasonable way."

Keynes has been trying to get his inflationary schemes adopted for years, but never made any progress in England, altho he made quite an impression on Mr. Roosevelt and was the one who got the President to embark on deficit spending to prime the pump early in the New Deal. Failure by Mr. Roosevelt's British adviser to get his own government to accept his theories was due to the fact that it was a creditor nation, and it would have been lunacy to let the other countries pay their British debts in depreciated money.

During this war Britain changed from a creditor to a debtor country. As Keynes put it in a speech in the house of lords, "We have burdened ourselves with a weight of deferred indebtedness to other countries beneath which we shall stagger."

The debt would be nothing at all if world-wide inflation could be brought about. Keynes came here to put that idea over, and with the aid of his disciples high in the New Deal, was able to do so. There was advance agreement by Roosevelt with Keynes before a meeting was called.

To guard against any slipup, the delegates to the conference had to be people who would not upset the applecart. None of the nation's celebrated experts went to Bretton Woods. Even so consistent a supporter of the Roosevelt administration, especially on international collaboration, as the New York Times was moved to say that the list of delegates, "in all candor is not encouraging."

After the conference made its report virtually every expert of standing denounced it. Repeated efforts were made to get delegates to engage in joint discussions of the proposals with men of broad experience in international money and financial matters. So far as we know the delegates always side stepped. It was never possible to get Morgenthau, White, and the others cornered in full view of the public.

One leading banker after another told of his grave alarm about the Bretton Woods proposals. By the time that the bankers' association met in Chicago opposition to the plans had swept the country. It was only after the promise of the association officials that a committee would be appointed to study the subject and report upon it that the bankers were persuaded not to issue a strong statement denouncing the schemes.

The bankers' association committee completed its work recently and published a report urging congress to refuse to approve the international currency stabilization fund. It approved the creation of a bank to make loans to foreign governments, but under an arrangement far different from that planned at Bretton Woods. The schemes the President calls upon congress to approve have no support in any informed quarter.

WORKERS WILL RESPOND.

In the Voice of the People today is reproduced a letter received from Col. Dan A. Hardt, expressing the gratitude of the army for the assistance given by THE TRIBUNE in its campaign to recruit the workers needed in Chicago's war plants. Stories which this newspaper published told of the labor needs of specific plants, detailing the skills which were in demand. In every instance workers responded in the numbers required. The plants were enabled to continue at a capacity which has already produced almost 9 billion dollars' worth of war material for our army and navy.

As Col. Hardt makes clear, the army relies upon a voluntary response to bring workers in the necessary numbers into war plants in the Chicago area. It has not been disappointed in its expectations that our people's patriotism is equal to the occasion when there is a clearly demonstrated need for more workers to keep the material rolling to our fighting fronts. THE TRIBUNE, of course, will continue to offer all the support it can.

When voluntary methods can produce the workers it is more than ever a mystery why the administration insists upon the slave labor "work or else" bill. Why use the lash when workers come forward of their own accord? Why, in particular, when the current man power demands upon the nation are 700,000 more workers and 900,000 additional soldiers this year, insist upon a proposal which would place 18 million men under government control?

AVIATION TRAINING LOSSES.

Rep. Alvin O'Konski of Wisconsin has voiced the latest demand in congress that there be a thoro investigation and report on the high rate of loss among military flying personnel in training. Last October the war department made the startling disclosure that more army airplanes had been lost in training pilots in this country than in combat. It was reported that 17,500 planes had been lost in the continental United States, 11,000 of them in crashes and wrecks, and that this was 3,000 more than were lost by enemy action. About 11,000 flyers were killed.

Seventeen months ago the senate war investigating committee, then headed by Vice President Truman, said that it was "studying" the subject and would report "subsequently." Not a word more has been heard from the committee.

Rep. O'Konski cited a number of accidents in which it was demonstrated, he said, that criminally faulty inspection permitted military aircraft to take to the air when the planes had not been properly constructed. In one instance, a wing fell off a Liberator bomber because 96 of 116 rivet holes had never been filled in splicing the panel to the inner wing. A civilian test crew of six men died in the crash, yet the plane bore both the plant inspection stamp and a naval inspection stamp approving the faulty splicing.

A federal grand jury in Kansas City had previously found that plane factories "tolerate, encourage, or overlook" defective products or assembly in its investigation of the charge that a bomber plant foreman had concealed an engine defect with chewing gum so that it could pass inspection. A year ago a house military subcommittee pleaded with the army air forces to tighten up inspection procedure and to take all possible safety precautions in its training program so that flyers might live to face the enemy.

The success of our airmen in combat is so great that it is a tragedy so many of them are permitted to die before they ever leave this country. Congress should make a searching inquiry into the causes of accidents on such a wholesale scale. Every one of these crashes is a little Pearl Harbor.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Here to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

LOHENGRIN'S CASTLE.

The city of Kleve in the northern Rhineland, taken by the allied armies on the western front, deserves recognition for reasons other than military. One cause for a civilian glance at Kleve is its rating by scholars in medieval legends as the probable starting point of the Lohengrin myth. This fact ought to interest the multitudes of Americans who have been married to the strains of Wagner's "Lohengrin" march.

Kleve's chief appeal to sightseers is the Schwanenburg, former castle of the counts and dukes of the region. Their pedigree runs back to the 11th century, and research workers who have tried to trace the origin of the mystic Swan Knights in whose exploits Wagner found the theme of his opera feel that if Lohengrin was born anywhere, this should have been the place. There is a French version of the myth which permits the noble family of Bouillon to claim Lohengrin as an ancestor, but it cannot match the evidence of the Swan castle in Kleve. The building, occupying a small hillsite of much earlier castles, has been used in modern times as a court of justice and jail.

When Wagner wrote "Lohengrin," he was not aware that Kleve was the best possible scene for his opera, both in legend and landscape. He wanted a castle on a hill, and there was the Schwanenburg, ready for use, but he missed the opportunity because his material came from old books of German folklore that had been written before the doctors of philosophy took to the Lohengrin trail. So he placed his story near Antwerp, where there isn't a hill in sight.

In 1860, ten years after the first staging of "Lohengrin," Wagner visited Antwerp, chiefly because of its association with his work. He has recorded his emotions, thus:

"I was very much put out of humor by my disappointment over the position of the famous citadel. I had assumed that this citadel, which I had imagined as the ancient fortress of Antwerp, would be a rather prominent object from the opposite side of the Scheldt, instead of which nothing whatever was to be seen but an undiversified plain. Whenever I saw 'Lohengrin' after this, I could not help smiling at the scene painter's castle on its stately hill in the background."

SIXTH VALENTINE FOR MARY.

As years discreet with winging feet
Attain a half a century,
You'd think my age would make me sage,
That I would be less ventury.
I'm growing old, or so I'm told
With frequent, pointed truthfulness,
While you, my dear, add not a year
In looks, but keep your youthfulness.
My hinges creak, I should be meek,
As arteries get hard and harder;
The way you look, the way you cook
Only increase my early ardor.
So, heart on sleeve, I ask your leave
To keep my patient place in line;
Again today I'd like to say,
"Please, won't you be my Valentine?"

Casual.

Old Nellie's Last Trip.

No winter season was complete unless the expected mishap was repeated by Nellie, the coal dealer's horse. As the winter slush turned snow-covered streets into ice sheets, we could look forward to Nellie's downfall.

The triple clang of the street car wrecking crew was the signal that Nellie was down again. When we reached the spot a crowd already encircled Nellie. We wormed our way thru the spectators. But this time no one attempted to work a blanket or burlap feed bags under her stomach. The crowd was strangely silent. As Nellie looked up we saw that the old time fight had gone out of her eyes and that the policeman was nervously examining his revolver. Yes, this time she had broken a leg.

Old Nellie had reached the end of her run. As we wandered away there was a staccato of six shots. It stopped us in our tracks.

The February winds gave us a good excuse for wiping eyes on coat sleeves. We really were crying a good-by to old Nellie.

Alexander Beifuss.

H. P. M. asks: "Is the beneficiary notified when a soldier cancels or drops his insurance? If he has, can the beneficiary pay up the back premiums and thus keep it in force?"

The beneficiary is never notified when national service life insurance lapses, but the beneficiary, upon application to the Insurance Division, Veterans Administration, Washington, D. C., can request such notification and offer to pay the premiums. Under such arrangements, the premiums must be paid up and kept in advance at least three months. If the service man has let the insurance drop however, his cooperation must be obtained for application for reinstatement. Even tho the premiums may be paid by the beneficiary, the insured still can change the beneficiary at will.

J. D. F. asks: "What is the 93d offense against the army?"

You probably mean to ask what are the violations of law coming under the 93d article of war . . . "manslaughter, mayhem, arson, burglary, housebreaking, robbery, larceny, embezzlement, perjury, forgery, sodomy, assault with intent to commit any felony, assault with intent to do bodily harm, etc."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Dr. Irving S. Cutter

[Copyright: 1945: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RHEUMATIC FEVER MAY FOLLOW DROP IN RESISTANCE.

A GOOD deal has been said about safeguarding our youngsters, particularly during the colder season. This is important because rheumatic fever is likely to appear following any sharp drop in resistance or change in body habits.

Because we do not know the precise cause, it behooves us to make every effort to maintain reserve at a high level. Infection rarely strikes unless we have become overly tired, have lost sleep, or have drawn too heavily upon our storehouses of strength. As we would expect, sore throats and head colds can depress vital forces despite the fact that the patient may not feel ill enough to remain at home.

Among the many alleged origins of rheumatic fever, streptococci of various strains have been blamed. Altho positive proof is lacking that any one of these types is the culprit, we know full well that they can injure certain tissues, including the circulation. With anemia a part of the picture, with a reduction in the efficiency of the heart, the liver, the kidneys, etc., we can understand how a siege of illness can come on.

There is a sizable group of investigators, however, who believe that the ailment is on an allergic basis. In other words, the system has become sensitive and the symptoms are merely manifestations of a severe reaction to an irritant. It is difficult to accept this premise wholeheartedly because it is scarcely understandable that sensitivity could bring about inflammation of the lining of the heart [endocarditis], as may be the case in rheumatic fever. But this suggestion must be kept in mind as there may be a combination of allergy and infections with a streptococcus which has a specific fondness for the tissues of the "pump."

Much can be said for the virus theory. It would explain why so few of our anti-bacterial remedies are successful. At any rate, the disease must not be neglected because it is the most serious menace which afflicts children of school age. No other disorder begins to approach it, either in absenteeism or invalidism.

Because we do not know the "starter," it is impossible to devise a specific cure. Just as depleted health is conducive to an attack, so supporting the forces of the body will lead to convalescence. Thus we insist upon complete bed rest, a highly nutritious diet, and enough medication to control pain. By proper treatment we hope to forestall damage to the cardiac apparatus. The less work this organ is called upon to do, the less frequently will it be involved. Thus we administer large doses of salicylates which, when properly prescribed, seem to have nothing but favorable effects.

Once the victim has recovered, with the battle over, all may rejoice. But there will be a waiting period of several months when the patient must be extremely cautious lest a return bout be invited. The sedimentation rate is an excellent guide. Only when it has remained at normal for many weeks should the sufferer be permitted to engage in routine activities.

The question of the sulfonamides has not been solved. Every now and then some highly skilled physician will insist upon using them. Apparently, if employed expertly, they will be of value in keeping down throat infections, drainage from sinuses, etc., which might start another round with rheumatism.

DIVISION OF BRAIN.

L. W. writes: What is the function of the cerebellum?

REPLY.

This structure [the little brain] handles most of our motions, such as walking, piano playing, etc. In other words, it is concerned in the coördination of movements.

YANKS HAIR.

Miss A. writes: I am 22 years old and a stenographer in a large office. When I have nothing to do I fuss with my hair, pulling and twisting it. I am almost bald in two spots. This spoils my appearance and makes me unhappy. How can I cut out this bad habit?

REPLY.

Ask your boss to give you more work. This will not only occupy your hands but will keep you from dwelling on your unhappiness. The development of poise is the answer.

LUNG CHANGES.

T. E. writes: What is emphysema?

REPLY.

Dilatation, or stretching of the delicate air sacs in the lung. This condition explains the wheezing of many elderly persons.

Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

Valentine Shortage.

This comic one might cost my life;
That other one says "To my wife,"
And here's an arty little one
With message written: "To my son."
Yet here again's an old pine tree
That blithely reads, "I pine 4 thee."
The last one's fancy, with a neat heart,
Crimson plush, and "To my sweetheart."
What do you say, dear Valentine,
We save the postage, yours and mine?

HAZEL DUNCAN.

Thoughts Sweet and Far Away.

At first when the Gray Ladies passed the word along the library and in the wards of the Marine hospital that the G. I. Poet would write spontaneous poems for valentines, the men smiled skeptically. You could tell by their expressions that they thought such a feat impossible. Then one boy spoke up bravely. "I'll take a chance!" Then, a little diffident when it came down to facts, he began to tell the G. I. poet about his girl. He wanted the poem written, of course, to her. In less than five minutes he had the completed, typewritten poem in his hands. "Golly," came his surprised retort. "That's just what I've been trying to tell her for months." Then the word spread. They came by twos and threes and fours, and soon Helen Baird LaMonte was surrounded by bathrobed men ranging in age from downy cheeked youths to men with grizzled gray on their chins.

For a year or so now Mrs. LaMonte, whose poems occasionally appear in this column or in the Line-O-Type under her own name or under the pseudonym, Kent Taykit, has been writing verse for service men. Every Thursday she sits at a desk in one of the service men's centers here, waiting for business. It is as brisk as her agile pen. Last Friday night she went out to the Marine hospital.

One older man in ward 2B couldn't come to the library, but he wanted a poem for his sister and two brothers. When he read the poem Mrs. LaMonte wrote for him, tears came to his eyes and he almost whispered, "It's the most beautiful thing any one ever did for me. Another, a coast guardsman whose only relatives are his sister and her family, received this:

Usually valentines
Are sent to sweetie-pies,
But here's a poem to some folks
Who are two reg'lar guys;
My sister, Frieda, and ol' Nell,
And not forgetting Pud,
Without you folks to visit me
All life would seem a dud.
So here's appreciation
And love that will not fail.
Thank God for folks like you folks,
Your loving brother, Gail.

Another man, with years of sea duty to his credit, wanted to send a valentine message to "Ma." The verse written for him was:

Ma, dear, it's Valentine's today
And we're too far apart,
But, darling, you are always mine
And deep within my heart.
I never wrote you poetry
But, gee, Mom, just the same,
You've always rated extra high
With some one by my name.
Be good, be cheerful, see you soon;
I love you, yes siree,
Here's greetings to you, Mom and Dad,
From Johnny T; that's me.

And then there was the fat jolly bachelor who rubbed the sleeve of his bathrobe briskly across his eyes to hide the welling tears of sentiment his poem stirred up:

Please have a heart, niece Doris,
And listen to my rhyme.
I write you verse, so often,
Most all the blessed time,
But by the time it's written,
I cannot send it, see,
For I forget the rhyming
And that's too bad for me.
How's Bob? Hear from him often?
Here's something you can say,
Tell Uncle Jo hello for me,
And don't forget Aunt Mae.
Well, I must close now, Doris,
My poet's quill may wilt,
And so I'll sign off promptly,
Your Shakespeare Uncle Milt.

Visiting hours at the hospital end at 8 p. m., but the G. I. Poet stayed on until 8:30 and still could not satisfy the demand, and each man reread his poem with a far away look in his eyes.

GETTING THE WAR WORKERS.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—This communication is to express the gratitude of myself and my committee for the enthusiastic support that has been displayed by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and W-G-N to further our efforts in the "Get a War Job—Keep It!" campaign.

THE TRIBUNE was the first Chicago newspaper actually to detail a reporter to my office to write stories covering individual plant needs. This series of stories did a remarkably good job in finding specific classes of labor needed in certain vital industries. Your reporter, working closely with my office, pioneered a newspaper program out of which a set procedure was designed and later adopted by all Chicago dailies.

The above phase of the production urgency information committee is being incorporated in a "Procedure Manual" to be distributed from Washington as a suggested plan for a national basis.

The "kick-off" program of W-G-N, Monday evening, has been complimented by every source. We are looking forward to seeing the actual plant results, starting with Republic Steel company, after Monday next.

Your office has reproduced 105,000 booklets giving the over-all message, as well as mentioning the W-G-N "America Unlimited" program. These booklets are being distributed thru my office to the Chicago Surface Lines and will appear shortly in the "Read as You Ride" boxes of the street cars.

An army sound truck operating from my office, covering Chicago's main avenues 16 hours daily, is also giving the message to listen in on the "America Unlimited" program.

May I again express my sincere gratitude to THE TRIBUNE and the members of its staff? DAN A. HARDT, Colonel, TC., Chairman, Production Urgency Information Committee.

DOWNSTATE SCHOOL CORRUPTION.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The Chicago school system is under fire and being investigated by the National Educational association. Chicago can't hold a candle to downstate when it comes to corrupt school systems. After the N. E. A. finishes its study here, let it wade into any downstate village, town, or city. Falsification of credits, security for incompetent faculty members who favor board members' children, and a generally efficient, well oiled, and air tight political machine can be smoked out of any school building in Illinois.

CAPT. BRITT HAS IT STRAIGHT.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 8.—The details of Capt. Britt's story are marvelously clear and surprisingly accurate. I know because I was for nearly a year an artillery liaison officer to one infantry company or another in Britt's outfit, the 30th infantry regiment of the 3d division. As such I ate, slept, and fought with his infantry until Anzio, where I was wounded in both arms and legs. I landed in the Sicilian invasion on the same LCI with Britt. At Acerno, Italy, I was relieved by another officer who was killed the first time out with Britt. ROBERT M. WEBBER.

HEROISM IN LEYTE GULF.

Oak Park, Ill., Feb. 5.—Among the numerous thrilling and dramatic incidents occurring daily on our many battle fronts, the action of "the seven little ships" in Leyte bay last Oct. 25 is outstanding. All that stood between the entire Philippine invasion, a group of our escort carriers and a powerful Jap task force consisting of battleships, cruisers, destroyers, and planes was the group of "seven little ships," three destroyers, and four destroyer escorts.

What they accomplished is history and in the finest tradition of the navy. Three of them were sunk. Why, then, does the outstanding action of this tiny fleet rate only a line in the news? Is it possible these little ships are to be deprived of the credit that is due them?

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Oak Park, Ill., Feb. 9.—After viewing my electric bill, I came to the conclusion that this daylight saving time to conserve electricity is the bunk. Bills for corresponding months, prior to daylight saving, were the same and in some instances the bills now are higher.

Do you suppose that this "conserving of electricity" is propaganda such as the British people have had that central heating is bad for the health and that mechanical refrigeration spoils food?

Anyhow, this daylight saving time is rather tough on the children, who have to be put to bed in daylight, instead of playing in the fresh air. I wish Illinois would go back to regular time.

ARMY PAY CHAMP?

Chicago, Feb. 11.—I read in Sunday's paper of Corp. Richard W. Hinson of Philadelphia, who draws $382 a month. He wants to know who can top that pay. My brother, Sgt. Tully Bond, now at Camp Plouche, La., draws $465. His base pay is $147, he has 11 children, 10 under 18, the other in France in the army. He also has 34 years' service in the army, about two years double time previous to 1912. EDGAR BOND.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 6.—I note in today's TRIBUNE you state that Good Friday is not a legal holiday in Illinois. However, in the Illinois Revised Statutes [1943] an act making the Friday before Easter Sunday a legal holiday in Illinois was approved July 16, 1941, Chapter 98—20b. F. N.

The statute to which you refer is limited to negotiable instruments.

The Friday immediately before Easter Sunday of each year, known as Good Friday, shall be a legal holiday in this state. Said day shall, for all purposes whatever, as regards the presenting for payment or acceptance and of protesting and giving notice of the dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks, and promissory notes, be treated and considered as is the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday.

TRACTION LINES GAIN EMPLOYES, BUT NEED MORE

Higher Priority Sought Thru Appeal to WMC.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Altho scrape the barrel tactics have lessened the man power shortage of Chicago's local transportation systems in the last three weeks, they are still hundreds of trainmen and bus drivers short of actual needs. This was disclosed yesterday at a conference in the offices of the Illinois commerce commission.

E. J. McIlraith, acting general manager of the surface lines, said that about 200 city employes had taken part time jobs with the lines, but did not average more than a day each per week. He expressed the opinion that a higher hiring priority, if granted by the war man power commission, would attract many full time workers.

Company Decries Use of Women.

The company, he added, would like to get enough additional help to put 155 more cars daily on the streets. In answer to a question by Atty. William H. Sexton, representing the city, McIlraith said the lines opposed the use of women trainmen "unless absolutely necessary," and that he did not believe many were available, because critical war plants were short thousands of women workers.

Harley A. Johnson, general manager of the elevated lines, said that his company had added a net 35 or 40 trainmen, many of whom were policemen and firemen working part time with Mayor Kelly's permission.

Higher Job Rating Sought.

Both managers said that the one week of hiring without referral to the United States employment service, permitted by the WMC, had gained some employes, and that an extension of a higher hiring classification would help. The transportation companies are now rated essential, but not critical.

An appeal for the higher rating has been filed by the companies, under order of the commerce commission, and a ruling is expected soon. The office of defense transportation has approved the request.

Assistant United States Atty. Jack A. Welfeld said that Royer, who was arrested Jan. 6 in Las Vegas, Nev., by federal bureau of investigation agents, defrauded hotels in nine cities of a total of $3,500.

Welfeld said Royer would mail a letter to himself in care of a hotel, and after ingratiating himself with the hotel clerk would cash the check invariably contained in the letter.

MOTHER 'DOPED,' BOY CHARGES IN SLAYING TRIAL

Liquor Party Described; Slain Lover Accused.

BY PAUL HOLMES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Princeton, Ill., Feb. 13.—A frail wisp of a boy did his earnest, quavering best on the witness stand in Circuit court here today to bolster the defense of his father and stepmother to charges that they murdered the stepmother's former lover.

Tense and nervous, the boy, Jimmy Dhamer, 14, described an apricot brandy party in the Dhamer farm home in January, 1944, during which he said he saw Charles Neufcour, 32, whom his stepmother shot and killed 10 months later, put something that "sizzled" into her drink.

The Dhamers, Harry, 42, and Lucille, 27, are jointly accused of murder as a result of the Neufcour slaying. Earlier today Dhamer testified his wife confessed to him last March that on the night of the brandy drinking episode Neufcour was intimate with her while she was "doped."

Tells of Brandy Drinking.

Neufcour, whom Jimmy referred to as "Chuck," was the Dhamer hired man at the time of the brandy drinking, which took place while Dhamer was on a trip to the west coast.

He and his sister, Mary Lou, had cokes, he said, while Chuck poured out brandy for Mrs. Dhamer and himself. He said Mrs. Dhamer left the room without drinking from her glass and Chuck put his hand over the top of Mrs. Dhamer's glass.

"I heard a sizzling noise," Jimmy said. "Mom came back to the room and picked up her glass and drank the brandy."

The boy said Mrs. Dhamer became violently ill and collapsed on a couch.

Jimmy said he went to bed about midnight leaving "mom" sleeping on the couch and Chuck in a chair beside her.

Sticks to Her Story.

Earlier in the day, under cross-examination, Dhamer stuck to the story he told yesterday that his wife fired the fatal shot to protect him from assault by Neufcour and two other farm workers. This assault, he said, was brought about by an argument over farm work and was entirely unconnected with his wife's illicit romance with Neufcour.

Dhamer admitted that the revolver with which his wife shot Neufcour was carried in the glove compartment of his car and that a loaded rifle was in the back seat of the car. He said Lucille loaded it as they drove to the farm from their Sheffield town home on the day of the slaying.

WAR FUND ELECTS LAIRD BELL AS NEW PRESIDENT

Laird Bell was named president of the Community and War Fund of Metropolitan Chicago, Inc., for 1945 at the fund's annual meeting yesterday. He succeeds Elmer T. Stevens, who reported yesterday that the fund raised $12,998,870 on a goal of $12,980,000 as of Jan. 22, 1945. The year-round administration and campaign costs were 3.7 per cent of the amount raised, Stevens said, or the lowest percentage cost of any large city in the country.

Other officers named yesterday included Clarence B. Randall, who was the 1944 campaign chairman, Harris Perlstein, and Charles C. Kerwin, vice presidents; James R. Leavell, treasurer, and Robert E. Coburn, secretary. Walter P. Paepcke, who has been named general chairman of the 1945 drive, was presented.

The Community and War Fund represents the National War Fund in Cook, Lake, and DuPage counties. Thru it, money is raised for the United Service organizations, the U. S. O.-Camp Shows, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, American Field Service, and 17 allied relief and refugee agencies. In Chicago, 11 overseas refugee rescue groups, the Jewish Welfare fund and 187 health and welfare agencies are included.

DENIES SHE WED 6 SERVICE MEN FOR PAY CHECKS

Eugene, Ore., Feb. 13 (AP).—Vilma Suberly, 26, denied today marrying six service men—plus two or three civilians—to collect $4,600 in service allotment checks.

Sitting in jail here, she denied as "all lies" FBI charges that she married a succession of men without benefit of divorce.

"I've only been married to two men," she said. "One was the man in the navy and the other was a civilian I married after the sailor and I had a fight. I got pretty drunk, I guess, and married this other man. When we sobered up I gave it to him straight. He suffocated in his room one night and I paid for his funeral."

The federal bureau of investigation in San Francisco said Mrs. Suberly was being charged with mail fraud in connection with obtaining service allotment checks.

BOBBY SOCKERS SENTENCED FOR LARK WITH NAZIS

Two Michigan Girls Get One Year Terms.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 13 [Special].—Two bobby sock girls who admitted clandestine meetings with two Nazi war prisoners today were sentenced to prison terms for conspiring to aid in the temporary escape of the Germans from a work camp at Owosso.

Kitty Mae Case, 21 and plump, drew a term of one year and three months in a federal penitentiary. Shirley Jean Druse, 18, more comely, more brash, and proud of the bobby socks she was wearing, was sentenced to a year and a day.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard told the girls they were fortunate not to be charged with treason, the maximum penalty for which is death. He censured the army, tavernkeepers, and the girls' employers for laxity in dealing with the situation.

Might Have Aided Foe.

"If these two men you aided had been able to make their way back to Germany," the judge said, "they would have reached there just in time to participate in last December's break-thru which cost 100,000 American casualties."

The girls were convicted Jan. 12. They were the first to be found guilty on the seldom used federal statute calling for punishment of those who aid the escape of enemy prisoners.

Worked at Cannery.

The girls and the prisoners met at the Roach Canning company plant in Owosso, where all were employed, the Nazis being assigned to work there. The girls, residents of Owosso, were discharged from the plant in mid-July.

According to testimony during the trial, the girls arranged thru an exchange of notes with the prisoners for the latter to sneak out of the plant to an automobile in which the girls awaited them. The prisoners eluded guards and kept the appointment July 20.

They were recaptured in the company of the girls the following day after the quartet had spent the night in a woods adjoining Colby lake, near here.

Thought It A "Lark.

Kitty insisted she merely had arranged the night out "as a lark" and denied she was consciously aiding the Nazis in escape.

Before pronouncing sentence in the crowded courtroom, Judge Picard observed that the girls' imprisonment "may bring home to the people of Michigan that there can be no fraternizing between civilians and war prisoners."

The state liquor control commission enforcement agency immediately began an investigation of the sale of drinks to the two girls. Investigators questioned the defendants and a number of saloon operators at a session held behind closed doors and will report both to the commission and the court.

AWARD COUSIN $10,000 FROM HARDING ESTATE

A trust provision contained in the will of her grandfather who died in 1874 entitles Mrs. Ethel Snyder Jones, 70, of California, to $10,000 from the estate of her cousin, the late George F. Harding Jr., former Cook county treasurer, the Appellate court ruled yesterday. The will was written by Abner C. Harding, of Monmouth, Ill., a Civil War general. It provided that Mrs. Jones and her five brothers and sisters should receive the principal of the trusts when they came of age, but payment never was made to Mrs. Jones. George F. Harding Sr. was executor of the will, and after he died in 1915 the other payments were made by his son, who died in 1939. The Appellate court opinion reversed a Circuit court decision, which denied Mrs. Jones' petition on the ground that there had been no formal appointment of George Jr. as a trustee of the estate.

Wolfer, chairman of the cancer committee of the Illinois State Medical society, will preside as moderator at a public forum on "Cancer of the Breast," to be held Feb. 20 at 2 p. m. in Murphy Memorial hall, 40 E. Erie st., it was announced by the Chicago field army of the American Cancer society.

Poor Digestion? YES ☐ NO ☐
Headachy? ☐ ☐
Sour or Upset? ☐ ☐
Tired-Listless? ☐ ☐

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

PALMER HOUSE BARBERS STRIKE FOR UNION SCALE

Guests in the Palmer House had to go outside for their shaves, haircuts, and manicures yesterday when the 33 barbers in the Terminal barber shop, operated under separate management in the hotel, went on strike for the union loop scale of $28 a week and 60 per cent of receipts of more than $41. Twenty-four manicure girls went out in sympathy.

The Terminal barbers, members of local 548 of the Journeymen Barbers International union [AFL] are paid 55 per cent of all their receipts, but no basic wage. A spokesman for the owners said paid vacations, bonuses, and other benefits bring the barbers' average pay to $58 per cent of receipts.

Frank DeRango, secretary-treasurer of the union, said the war labor board recently approved the union's petition for the wage increase. James Eubank, shop manager, said high rents would make it difficult for the company to pay the union scale. He said the shop has an average of more than 500 customers a day.

CARL O. TRIEBEL NOMINATED BY PEORIA'S G. O. P.

Urbana Mayor Wins Over Withers.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 13 (AP).—Carl O. Triebel, Republican, and Thomas Madden, former Democratic state senator, were apparent winners tonight in their respective party contests for the mayoralty nomination on the basis of returns from 109 out of 140 precincts.

Triebel was conceded the nomination by two of his three opponents, William Kumpf and Roy Hughes. Triebel, with 4,436 votes, held a margin of more than 1,000 over Kumpf, a city alderman, who garnered 3,088 votes. Trailing the two were Hughes with 2,993 and E. N. Woodruff, mayor for the last 24 years, with 2,341.

In the Democratic race Madden held 2,448 votes. Dr. Harold F. Diller, former Peoria county coroner, had 1,024 and Joseph Mittleman, former alderman, 423.

Urbana Mayor Is Winner.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 13 (AP).—George F. Hurd, mayor of Urbana for the last six years, today defeated his opponent, James W. Withers, for the mayoralty nomination in the Republican primary. Final returns from the city's seven wards gave Hurd 1,874 votes to 588 for Withers. The Democrats offered no candidates in the primary. The Republican nominee, however, will not be the automatic winner in the April election, because Democrats can fill their ticket later.

Galesburg Mayor Loses.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 13 (AP).—Ralph B. Johnson, city treasurer, took the mayoralty nomination in the People's party primary tonight with a margin of 2,545 votes over David P. Lindberg, mayor for the last four years. Final returns from the 32 precincts gave Johnson 5,989 votes and Lindberg 3,444.

Quincy Democrats Pick Lenane.

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 13 (AP).—Quincy Democrats tonight nominated Leo W. Lenane, only three term mayor in Quincy history, to oppose incumbent Edward Schneidman in the April city election. Schneidman unseated Lenane four years ago after the latter had served three terms. Lenane polled 2,994 votes to 908 for his opponent in the primary, Oscar F. King. Schneidman was unopposed for the G. O. P. nomination.

Bloomington Mayor Wins.

DR. C. F. BURGESS IS DEAD AT 72; NOTED SCIENTIST

Dr. C. F. Burgess, 72, president and founder of the Burgess Battery company, the Burgess Laboratories, and affiliated companies, died of a heart ailment yesterday in Presbyterian hospital.

Dr. Burgess, whose home was in Bokeelia, Fla., was born in Oshkosh, Wis., and was graduated in 1895 from the University of Wisconsin, where he served as a professor in the chemistry department for 18 years. He was the holder of numerous awards for achievement in scientific endeavor.

He is survived by his widow, Ida; a son, Jackson, president of the Thordarson Electric Manufacturing company of Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Cotton of England, and by two brothers, George H. Burgess of New York and Kenneth F. Burgess of Chicago.

Services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in St. James Episcopal church, 666 Rush st.

COUNTY DRAFTS PLEA TO SELL ICKES BUILDING

Assistant State's Atty. Jacob Shamberg yesterday completed the drafting of a petition for a court order to sell a five story building owned by Secretary of the Interior Ickes at 231-233 S. State st. on the allegation that Ickes made misstatements to get the 1943 taxes reduced by $4,274.

Shamberg said he will file the petition today or tomorrow in County court before Judge Edmund K. Jarecki after conferring with State's Atty. Tuohy and County Treasurer Schlaeger. Schlaeger was ordered by Tuohy to sell the property, but refused to act without court authority.

Ickes won the tax reduction last December, at which time he owed $10,000 in taxes. He had been declared in default and Judge Jarecki had ordered his property sold, along with others.

Outline Plans for Lighthouse Benefit Party

BY JUDITH CASS.

THOSE who give up candy for Lent may have to overcome their first serious temptation today, if valentine candy arrives. Those who give up cigarets will have less temptation. In fact, the directors of the Lighthouse for the Blind are hoping that members of the organization will give up smoking for Lent and hoard the packages of cigarets saved to be sold at their benefit cocktail party and fashion show March 9 in the 28 Shop of Marshall Field & Co.

Selling of cigarets at benefits once was commonplace, but nowadays it requires careful planning. At a luncheon meeting in the Racquet club yesterday Mrs. Arthur G. Leonard Jr. suggested with enthusiasm that each member of the Lighthouse board save up a carton of cigarets for the party. She is a nonsmoker. Her suggestion was received with less enthusiasm by some of the committee members who are smokers but who compromised on the possibility of saving half a carton each.

Also a nonsmoker is Mrs. Robert Hosmer Morse Jr., who was the luncheon hostess but who provided cigarets as well as a handsomely arranged floral centerpiece for the table. Mrs. James L. Palmer is serving as chairman of the benefit. The proceeds will go to carry on the work of the Lighthouse, where blind persons are taught a trade and earn as they learn.

Some of the others at the luncheon who are on the committee for the benefit were Mrs. Morse's daughter and daughter-in-law, Miss Marilynn Morse and Mrs. William Beck Morse; Mrs. Leonard's daughter, Miss Jane Leonard; Mrs. John E. Baker Jr., Mrs. William H. Mitchell Jr., Mrs. Theodore W. Garry, Miss Jean Sullivan, and Miss Anne Ryerson.

Wedding News.

A St. Valentine's day bride is Miss Mary Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sidney Anderson of Evanston, who will be married at 8 p. m. in Levere Memorial chapel on the Northwestern university campus to Lt. (j. g.) Walter Matson Cline Jr. of the naval air forces, son of Mrs. Cline of Chattanooga, Tenn. The Rev. Clifford H. Newham of the Covenant Methodist church will officiate. A reception and dance will follow in the Michigan Shores club.

Miss Anderson will wear a string of pearls given to her by her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Thomas S. Nolan of Janesville, Wis. Miss Polly Anderson will be her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids are Miss Peggy Jongleux, Miss Joan Grubb of Janesville, Miss Mary Ellen Foran, Miss Patricia McEnerny, Miss Harriet Sprague, and Miss Frances Risch. Little Barbara Jean Anderson, cousin of the bride, will be flower girl, and Herbert Caldwell, nephew of the bridegroom, will be ring bearer.

Thomas Nolan Anderson, brother of the bride, who is celebrating his birthday today, will be the best man. Among the ushers are two cousins of the bride, Milton and Kenneth Anderson. Mrs. Cline Sr. is here for the wedding, as is her daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Caldwell of New Haven, Conn., and the bride's step-grandmother, Mrs. Nolan of Janesville, among others from away. After a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Lt. Cline and his bride will be at home in Evanston while he is instructing at the Glenview naval air base.

Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. J. Robert Cross of N. Washtenaw av., formerly of Evanston, announce the marriage Dec. 30 of their daughter, Constance May, to Lt. John Robert Duchesneau Jr. of the army air forces, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duchesneau of Monterey Park, Cal. The ceremony took place in St. Hilliary's church, followed by a reception in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Lt. Duchesneau was graduated from Campion academy and served more than a year on bombing raids over Europe, where he was awarded the air medal with three oak leaf clusters and the Presidential unit citation. His bride is a graduate of Marywood academy and attended Mundelein college. They are at home in Laredo, Tex., where he is stationed.

Engagement News.

Mary Meade Fixes French Fries to Serve with Fish

1 Wash and pare large potatoes (or smaller ones if desired) and cut lengthwise into strips about ½ inch wide. Soak in cold water ¾ to 1 hour. Then drain potatoes and dry well between towels.

2 Heat fat (lard, vegetable shortening, or cooking oil) to temperature of 380 degrees. Place a few potatoes in wire basket and fry 5 minutes or until golden brown, keeping potatoes in motion.

3 Drain by holding basket over kettle for fat to drip, then empty potatoes onto absorbent paper and sprinkle with salt. Keep hot in slow oven. Reheat fat to 385 degrees before adding more potatoes.

4 French fries are a natural with fish. Another method of frying is to brown potatoes lightly at 370 degrees, drain, then return all potatoes to 395 degree fat for final browning and reheating.

Skirt-Jacket Teams Provide Shopping Thrill

BY REA SEEGER.

Skirt and jacket mixers are in for a treat. Never have there been so many gay new colors and mixtures or so many stunning neutrals and monotones. Hundreds of smart new skirts hang in one half of the section and equally plentiful supplies of jackets hang in the other half. Contrast or match them to suit the particular ideas of the day.

There are good looking flannels of gray in all shades, light to dark; plenty of blues, from powder pastels to deep sapphire and navy; copper, cinnamon, and dark brown; also deep purples, dubonnet reds, caramel beige, and dusky old golds—you pay your money and take your choice.

There are flared numbers, that fit sleek and smooth over the hip line, then flare with snap around the hem. Several shallow plaited skirt models are shown, with emphasis on the shallow depth of the plaits. The effect is surprising when last year's needle straight sheaths are considered. Most of the skirts are banded with belts of the same material. Mixtures of tweed patterns, smart checks, and plaids complete one of the biggest collections of separate skirts ever unpacked and hung out to tempt shoppers. Unusual shades, such as dull green, tangerine, off-white, lime green, pale pink, shocking pink, and pale yellow, are a hint of the effective new colors for spring.

The jacket collection is breathtaking. Huge checked models, inch squares of color against white, some eye blinding plaids, and lush pale pinks are new and exciting. The off-whites, together with emerald greens and high shades of red and cerise, are out of the ordinary contrast shades for neutral colored skirts. There also are checked and plaid jackets in gentle combinations of brown and white and green and white for the conservative collectors. But, whether you are conservative or not, these two super-collections of skirts and new jackets are well worth an immediate trip to town.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

No Valentine.

No, I guess I can't send you my heart, love,

But you'll just have to buy one of paper,
'Cause I foolishly threw mine away.

CULLIE.

February Is Their Month.

The other day when Frances V. Brink and Mabel W. Binner were discussing plans for two parties for patients at the Children's Memorial hospital they made an interesting discovery. One of the parties is arranged for St. Valentine's day [and given by Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine], the other for Washington's Birthday. In talking it over, the two white collar girls [Miss Brink is director of the School of Nursing and Miss Binner the administrator of the hospital] revealed a point in common which each always has tried to keep secret — that the middle initial of one stood for Valentine, the middle initial of the other for Washington, each having been born on the day for which they were named.

And, incidentally, should you visit the hospital you might be greeted by efficient Ruby Lincoln.

Night Flight.

O, is there a way to send your heart
A thousand miles or more
So some one hears its tender beat—
Does love have wings to soar?

Does love have shining, silver wings
So some one far from here
Can know you breathe his name at dusk

An Old American Custom.

Much has been said about girls [careerish and otherwise] who close their eyes when being kissed. Now, the hug that generally goes with the kiss must give the gals a sense of security, otherwise they wouldn't risk standing on one foot.

I'm a traveled person, Ruth, and that's the custom everywhere I've been.

Sweetheart of the Mart.

He always remembers holidays and closes a bit early.

He realizes that furloughs are important and when he hears a boy friend or husband is home on furlough he just grins and says, "Other things can wait."

He never ogles the girls but gives them to understand that they constitute the most attractive white collar group of any in his building — one of the largest in Chicago.

He smiles when he meets us in the hall and holds the door open for us even tho he is the top man in our department.

He never uses unpleasant language before his girl employes and once showed a client the door because he didn't like coarse words in the presence of his secretary.

He's considerate—and smart—and sweet — and we ALL love him!

Budapest Four Again Charms with Its Music

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

Night after night the reviewer goes to concerts, then suddenly something happens to awaken him to the realization that among all the concerts it is only infrequently that he hears real music. Last night in crowded Kimball hall the Budapest String quartet again accomplished one of those miracles, and joy in the demonstration was dimmed only by the fact that the incomparable foursome will not be heard any more this year in these parts.

The quartet was in rare form for its farewell and chose for the occasion a program that had depth, variety, and interest. Debussy's shining masterwork, his only string quartet, came first on the list in a reading of such imaginativeness and tonal subtlety that the audience scarcely breathed during its progress. Tho the work from a purely compositional point of view is probably the strictest that Debussy ever wrote, the effect was that of a large scaled improvisation, so spontaneous and perfectly proportioned was the playing of the four instruments. It was dream music.

Curiously less "modern" in effect was Hindemith's Quartet in E flat major, a work composed only two years ago and dedicated to the Budapestians. Hindemith is probably the most Protean composer in the whole history of music. You hear a new work and think you have discovered a trend. Then you hear his very latest and find he has gone off in an entirely different direction.

The new quartet for the most part is listenable for an audience and grateful to the performers. Its opening movement, if not conventional, is at least of a degree of expressiveness that might even, if one cared to insult the composer, bear the epithet romantic. What passes for a scherzo movement is an agreeable, vigorous, superbly wrought affair that might have been written by any master craftsman who had not heard any music since Brahms. An ingenious but in no way startling set of variations follows, and only in the finale does the composer employ with any degree of defiance those acrid mannerisms by which he is usually catalogued. Perhaps his previous restraint induced the garrulousness which weighs down the first part of this section, but the delicately conceived close rounds off the entire piece with a touch of sheer inspiration.

Early deadlines are one of the misfortunes of a reviewer's life and if the remainder of Schubert's "Death and the Maiden" quartet in any way came up to the bitter sweet poignancy of the first movement, which it undoubtedly did, the Budapest Quartet will not soon be forgotten hereabouts.

Hudson River School Paintings Make a Fascinating Exhibition

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Hudson River school exhibition opens tonight in the Art institute with a formal reception to members and guests of the museum, and tomorrow it opens to the public. The exhibition will remain on view to March 25, when it goes to the Whitney museum in New York.

The east wing galleries, where the paintings are installed, have been redecorated, and against the dull, cool walls the pictures stand out with tremendous effect. Altho we were warned that a number of the men who make up the Hudson River school had traveled far afield and brought back paintings from lands distant from the Hudson, in summing up the show it seems the warning was not necessary; the vast majority of the landscapes are representative of the Hudson valley and the countryside near-by.

The artists in this group were careful and meticulous painters. The pictures have infinite detail; in fact, anyone interested in the dress and habits of people of a century ago, this exhibition will be a boon. The artists have delightfully written a history of their times into these romantic canvases. Boston, West Point, and Sing Sing turn back the calendar to show the beauty of the landscape, the open towns, and the courtly people of the early and middle 19th century. Lake George and Niagara Falls are quickly recognized; the Catskills throw a familiar note. The Atlantic coastline was as prolific of paintable spots then as it is today.

These men of the Hudson River school found beauty in a hundred places: Mist on a river, shadows on a lake, autumn in the woods, a storm crowding boats to shore, the sunshine of a perfect summer day. Sometimes danger threatens in their paintings. At least twice Indians are shown along the upper Missouri, still a menace altho one that was quickly vanishing.

Among the outstanding paintings in the exhibit are works by Frederick Church, Samuel F. B. Morse, John Trumbull, Thomas Moran, Asher B. Durand, Thomas Cole, and Washington Allston. George Inness, whose beautiful room of paintings is one of the priceless treasures of the Art institute, is represented by an early landscape in the recognizable, meticulous Hudson River school manner, giving no hint of the freedom to which his brush won later in, for example, "Home of the Heron."

The exhibit is fascinating, with many twists and turns in subject matter that carry one serenely and joyously thru a comparatively quiet period in American history. It is well worth seeing.

Chicago Hears Casadesus at Brilliant Best

"An American in Paris".....Gershwin
Ballet Suite, from "Cephale and Procris".....Gretry-Mottl
Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra.....Franck
Symphony on a French Mountain Air.....d'Indy

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Altho yesterday's Chicago Symphony orchestra concert started with "An American in Paris," it was chiefly concerned with a Parisian in America—one Robert Casadesus. Perhaps it was the liberation of his country that released Mr. Casadesus from the despondency that was threatening to engulf his music, because this season he is back at his peak of accomplishment, and in high spirits to boot. He seemed tremendously excited during both the Franck Symphonic Variations and d'Indy's Symphony on a French Mountain Air, and at their conclusion leaped up to shake Désiré Defauw so vigorously by the hand that the little conductor's silver hair crested with delight.

In the Franck, Mr. Casadesus took command, playing with the eloquent elegance of his native style, and the orchestra went along for the ride, turning in an accompaniment sometimes spirited, sometimes shallow, rarely with the depth and verve to meet the soloist on his own ground. The d'Indy Symphony for orchestra and piano, revived by the orchestra after 16 downtown seasons, is a charming work, tho I find it more effective when the piano is part of the ensemble rather than thrust out front as solo instrument, as it was yesterday.

But Mr. Casadesus is probably too valuable to be hidden treasure, and it was a pleasure to hear his performance, along with Florian Mueller's gentle oboe and the surge of the orchestra as it sought and sometimes achieved climactic brilliance. The orchestral tone seemed more fluidly responsive than we have heard it of late, and you could feel the players' urgent desire for comprehensive performance. Yet the result was spotty because it lacked articulation and it struck climax after climax until the ear reeled under a chaotic impression of emotional effort. It struggled to climb the mountains rather than to inhabit the clear, heady air of the mountain peaks.

The other French work was the altogether delightful ballet suite arranged by Mottl from Grétry's "Céphale and Procris." The tambourin began beautifully only to end flashily, but the grave and decorous menuetto was beguilingly played and the gigue had flair. "An American in Paris," the first Gershwin to invade the downtown repertory, was good in its style, which was a symphonic style essentially foreign. It had some good playing even to a hot trumpet, and in its lighter moments it caught some of the exhilaration of the visitor to the once gay boulevards. But it lacked the angular rhythms of authentic Gershwin vernacular, and was brightly unaware of the sardonic humor that is its pulse beat.

Mr. Casadesus returns to play Mozart and Ravel at the midweek concerts, which reminds me that Mr. Horowitz did not play the C-sharp minor etude of Chopin listed Monday night. He switched to that in E major, No. 3 of opus 10.

Movie's Story of War in 1871 Draws Parallel

"MADAMOISELLE FIFI."

By Mae Tinée.

This film, based on a combination of two short stories by De Maupassant, "Boule de Suif" and "Madamoiselle Fifi," draws an interesting parallel. Set in the year 1871, it portrays a section of France during the Prussian occupation. The methods of the conqueror were little different, and the behavior of people of various sorts follows a familiar pattern. There are the comfortable collaborators and the courageous resisters, the fanatic Teutonic will to rule, and the inevitable if tortured triumph of true patriotism.

The episode of the church bell may remind you of the importance of that item in a story of an Italian village during this war, "A Bell for Adano." The scenes are different, the war is an older one, but the basic principles of conquest and resistance remain the same. The title, incidentally, is taken from the nickname given a Prussian lieutenant by fellow officers.

Simone Simon offers a sincere and sympathetic performance in her role of a little French laundress who resists the foe with all her heart and mind and body, and who is philosophic about the cowardly merchants and their wives who toss her to the lions in order that their own comfortable lives will not be interrupted. John Emery plays a weak hearted patriot who is finally stirred to action by the example the frail girl sets for him. Kurt Kreuger is outstanding in his interpretation of a condescending, brutal Prussian officer, and others in the cast are competent.

Personally, I followed the film with great interest and found it an intriguing contrast to the mine-run.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13.—Charles Boyer's next may be at 20th Century in "Cluny Brown" for Ernest Lubitsch. . . . Joan Harrison, producing a picture from the stage play "Uncle Harry," is having it written with the leads done by much younger people, and she's signed up Geraldine Fitzgerald for her leading woman. Geraldine's ended her Warners' contract with love and kisses all the 'way 'round. . . . Since Olivia De Havilland won her own battle and that of many fellow actors, she's being called "the Abraham Lincoln of the acting profession." . . . Elsa Maxwell's trying to arrange a deal for Greta Garbo to star in a picture of "Anna Lucasta." Garbo's dying to do it. So are Lauren Bacall, Bette Davis, and Barbara Stanwyck. Garbo figures it's strictly for her. . . . Joseph Schildkraut, who's been acting on the New York stage for the last two and a half years, claims he's the perennial Hollywood discovery. He does a picture, gives a magnificent performance, as he did in the role of Dreyfus in "Zola." Then we forget him. He goes back to New York, gets another play, then suddenly he's discovered all over again and rushed out for another picture. And this time it's "The Amazing Mr. X" at Universal, which seems a natural for amazing Mr. Schildkraut.

Freedom Comes High.

Maybe the song "Don't Fence Me In" should have been dedicated to Ginny Simms. It cost her $60,000 to settle her Metro contract when she asked for her release. . . . Toni 7, who's been glorified plenty by Russell Birdwell, is going to get more of the same. Birdwell's written an original story, "Miss 17" which P. R. C.'s going to produce for the little lady. . . . Barbara Whiting, aged 16, who's cast in "Junior Miss," got a look at herself with her hair done up in curlers and no makeup on her face, and said, "If you ask me, I look more like a mess than a Miss." . . . Buffie Cobb has finished the dramatization of Thorne Smith's "Topper" for Roland Young to do on Broadway, and they've got the dough to produce it. Buffie adds, "And if money isn't news these days, it makes a Jim dandy substitute." Buffie's also got her latest book, "Wayward Parent," coming off the presses.

Is It Morgen-thawing Out?

Sonja Henie winds up her ice tour and returns to town next week for three weeks of sunshine and rest before beginning her picture. Ice melts, but so will Sonja's profit from her latest tour melt right into Henry Morgenthau's little cubbyhole. The show grossed $2,500,000 in four cities. . . . Dorothy McGuire hopes R. K. O. will buy "The Hasty Heart" for her to star in. . . . I can't understand why Irene Dunne wasn't nominated for an academy award. Her performances in "A Guy Named Joe" and "White Cliffs of Dover" were outstanding. . . . Douglas Morrow, while waiting to act at International because he's under contract there, has written three original stories which are being considered by other studios.

Off Key, It Seems to Be.

Dave Raksin, who did the music for "Laura," and his wife, Pamela Randell, now playing in "Bloomer Girl," are seeing their respective lawyers about a divorce. . . . Monty Proser arrived over the week-end to continue romancing Jane Ball. . . . Van Johnson moved out of his house because he was lonely and has taken a room at the Beverly Hills hotel. . . . Amos 'n Andy discovered 'way back in 1930 they were not for pictures, but they discovered it after they had earned $400,000 for one they did with Jesse Lasky. . . . Ludwig Bemelmans hasn't gone high hat, even tho he sports a Russian eagle crest on the door of his automobile. He just acquired the car in a deal with Richevsky, who is of the Russian nobility. . . . Since Bob Young's playing the wolfiest wolf in "Those Endearing Young Charms" to Laraine Day's lady, she got a prop wolf-head painted in full color, drooling and leering, and it was nailed up over Bob's dressing room the day he came to work.

'Private Investigator Maclain'

(Copyright: 1945: By Baynard Kendrick.)

By Baynard Kendrick

INSTALMENT XXXIII.

STABBED.

A cab pulled up and jolted them off on the journey uptown. Maclain turned part of his attention from Ferguson's comments to sort out the noise of a following motor, but could hear none.

He dropped the lawyer at his Park av. apartment and continued alone uptown.

Two messages were waiting, one to call Paul, and another from Sarah Hanley. He telephoned Paul first.

Paul said, "Brownie's been trying to get hold of you and you were out."

"I missed him, too."

"He's been trying a few experiments. He told me you thought that Stotzer's pistol might have been fired by vibration."

"And what were the experiments?" asked Maclain.

"He found out that if you have the rate of vibration, a hair trigger pistol might be fired by church chimes or a siren or nearly anything. He says if you'll go to his shop at 8 o'clock tonight, he'll show you. Morse will be there, too. He thought he might get an angle for a story."

The captain said, "I think I'll bring Davis and Archer."

Paul hesitated. "Do you think it's wise? Most of those gunsmiths don't want to get mixed up with the police."

"He'll probably get them mixed up, which is worse. But if this is going to be of any help, I'd like them to see it themselves. After all, Paul, he'll only be showing them something I've already told them, and he'll only be proving something to me that I already know."

"Well, I'll tell him you'll be there, anyhow," said Paul.

The captain hung up and gave Sarah Hanley a call.

"How's Sybella?" the agent demanded. "Any better?"

"I haven't heard. The hospital's to ring me immediately if there's any change."

"Lucia's coming up for cocktails. Can you join us in about an hour? I'd really like to talk to you, Capt. Maclain."

"Who else will be there?"

"Just Lucia and Paul."

"I'll come," said Maclain. He cradled the phone and summoned Cappo.

He could hear the buzzer in the kitchen, but nobody answered. Evidently Sarah Marsh and her husband were out for the afternoon.

He got up quietly and brought in Dreist from his kennel on the terrace, then took the chain from Dreist's collar and gave him a low voice order to search.

Maclain stood still and listened, following the sound of Dreist's search of the dining room, kitchen and servants' quarters. He heard the dog return and pause before the bedroom door, then scurry off downstairs to the lower floor. The captain knew there was no one in his bedroom or the police dog would have warned him.

He waited a long two minutes until Dreist came up from the lower floor.

It had been imagination then; nerves strung too tight from thinking of Sybella. Imagination was dangerous, like too much emotion. The only danger to a blind man lay in hearing noises where no noise existed. That meant lack of judgment. Lack of judgment meant death to a man who could not see.

He took Dreist back to his kennel and firmly closed the terrace door.

The snap of his fingers roused Schnucke from her sleep in the corner. She brought her brace and the captain snapped it on her. He found his hat and started out, then returned to his desk, stripping off his light gray mohair coat.

A moment later he had buckled on the armpit holster containing his small flat gun. Dressed again, he took a light raincoat from the closet and put it on. Guided by Schnucke's brace, he went thru the anteroom and into the penthouse hall, closing and trying the door behind him.

He was on the 26th floor and must connect with the apartment house elevator on the 24th. Ten paces straight ahead was the small push button operated lift which would take him down. Now it was coming up, altho the captain had pushed no button.

He walked over quickly beside it, closed a hand warningly over Schnucke's nose and pressed himself back against the wall.

The automatic door slid open, but no one got out. The captain stayed quite still and waited until the moment when the door would close again of its own volition.

Something came out before it closed, but it wasn't human. It was noise; the noise of cloth as it slithered down against a wall; the noise of a gurgle mingled with a groan. Schnucke whimpered.

The captain reached up and pushed the button to hold open the closing door. He knelt outside and reached one long arm in gingerly to feel about the floor of the tiny car.

His hand drew back from the sticky ivory hilt of the dirk in the dead man's stomach, and moved up higher. His fingers touched a face, and a deep cleft chin with a scar.

The captain cautiously found a handkerchief and wiped his fingers, then went back into the penthouse and picked up the phone. He called the clerk on the desk downstairs and said, "You'd better see if any one's trying to get out by way of the staircase. This is Capt. Maclain."

He hung up without explaining, dialed police headquarters and finally got Davis on the phone.

"Your ex-policeman, Mr. Gallagher, just rode upstairs in my private elevator with one of Larmar's daggers in his belly, Larry. You'd better turn loose your homicide boys again. Tell them to be careful to wipe their feet before they come in my office. There's blood all over the floor of that car."

Davis and Archer arrived as the tide began to recede, and fixed themselves drinks.

"That was a messy performance if I ever saw one," the inspector said, flopping into a chair.

Archer remarked, "Gore. I don't like murderers who kill with gore. But after all, I suppose a knife is much more quiet than a gun."

The captain sat aloof and detached from it all.

His attitude began to grate on the inspector who said, "You were free enough with your theories about the Singleton girl. Where do you fit this one in?"

"That's your little red wagon, isn't it?"

Archer finished his highball and sent out a feeler. "You must have thought something was going to happen or you wouldn't be wearing that armpit gun."

"I'd begun to hear things," said Duncan Maclain. "Somebody started to take an interest in me today, somebody not connected with you or Daniel Pine."

"Gallagher, maybe," Archer suggested.

War Changes Working Girls' Eating Habits

BY DOROTHY JOHNSON.

The Chicago working woman's skimpy lunch of pre-war days is now a vanishing bit of Americana, restaurateurs catering to the clerk and stenographer trade said yesterday. The peanut butter on whole wheat with lettuce and "coke with ice" class of lunchers has graduated to vitamins, with or without abundant calories—mostly with.

Restaurant managers and head cooks attribute the change in women's eating habits to larger incomes, conservation of home ration points, and harder work. For one reason or another, or all three, girls in loop offices and stores pass up slender sandwiches in favor of stocky salads and hot dishes, and usually top off a lunch with a wedge of pie or a cut of cake.

A large restaurant, described by its manager as a "woman's noon time paradise," serves 3,000 lunches daily to working women. Sandwiches of all kinds move more slowly than do substantial salads, with shrimp concoctions leading.

Asked whether he thought the women's preference for salads originated in silhouette watching, the manager answered: "Emphatically, no. You should see the desserts they put away!"

"Women are eating more and better now," said the head of another popular feminine luncheon rendezvous. "We have light luncheon combinations, featuring either a salad or a sandwich, with dessert and beverage. Only a third of the patrons select the sandwich, and when they do it's a hearty one."

One department store tearoom, which has business women as well as shoppers in for luncheon, began its service with dainty sandwiches, a beverage, and a whiff of dessert. That was before the war. Now it schedules rich soups, substantial sandwiches, and rich luncheon windups.

Women's war time food habits are accentuated in the commissaries of major war plants. In the cafeteria style lunchrooms, serving thousands of workers, most of them women, the meals have dinner time dimensions, including meat and potatoes, hot vegetables, stout bread rolls, and nourishing desserts. This might indicate that Winnie the Welder burns up more calories on the assembly line than does Sally the Stenographer in her desk chair.

Feminine breakfasts have changed, too, one large loop restaurant reported. In 1941, most women ordered orange juice, a sweet roll, and black coffee, and quite often they didn't bother about the vitamin C via the citrus fruit route. Now the calls are for the juice, first, and then wheatcakes with sirup, waffles, and "ham and."

Queried about their luncheon habits, the women in uniform gave different answers. Except for those stationed at army posts, where they eat complete hot lunches, the WACs in loop offices still order a sandwich with a malted milk, coffee, or plain milk for the noon meal, much as they did before they went into uniform. The WAVES, however, usually eat balanced lunches.

Volunteers and women staff members at Red Cross Chicago chapter headquarters have their lunches planned for them by the nutrition department. In the canteen they fill their trays with simple hot dishes rich in food values but low in ration points, such as eggs, liver, and noodles. Cottage cheese is a headliner, as are crisp green salads, perhaps because they're easy on the figure.

Committee Prepares Big Sisters' Annual Spring Card Benefit

The Big Sisters' ways and means committee is preparing one of the society's most important events of the year—its annual spring card benefit, to be held April 7 in the Stevens hotel. It is from this party and a similar Christmas fete that funds are derived for continuance of the organization's extensive welfare program for assistance of unfortunate and needy girls and women.

The committee, which is headed by Mrs. Richard Nash Jr., will meet each Friday from now until the party to sew on cocktail aprons, which are to be used for the stocking of bazar booths and given as awards. Sewing will be under direction of Mrs. Joseph P. McKeown and Mrs. Peter Cole.

Weddings

Mrs. Wilfred Clark Phelps of Rockville Center, N. Y., announces the marriage Jan. 27 of her daughter, Marjorie, to Maj. Harry C. Herman of the army, son of Mrs. Morton Kallis of Libertyville. The ceremony took place in London, England, where Maj. Herman is attached to the United States army headquarters and his bride is working in the office of war information. Maj. Herman formerly served with the infantry, with which he participated in four major invasions and received the French military cross, the silver star, the Purple Heart, and the combat infantryman's badge. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan. His bride was graduated from Randolph-Macon Woman's college. They will be at home in London for the war's duration.

The marriage of Miss Juel Yonker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Yonker of Normal av., to Dr. Raymond C. Van Dam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Dam of Perry av., will take place Saturday night in the Bethany Reformed church. Dr. Van Dam and his bride, who was known as "Miss Netherlands" at the Century of Progress in 1933, will live in Emerald av.

Parents May Visit Schools Any Time, Johnson Declares

Parents may visit their children or teachers in public schools at any time, Supt. Johnson said yesterday. Rules permitting such visits have been in effect for 40 years, and no principal or board of education employe has authority to countermand them, he added. Supt. Johnson said that in addition schools hold open house several times a year, at which all persons are welcome. However, except for parental visits or open house, schools are closed to general visits for the protection of teachers and pupils and for the sake of unbroken study, he said.

Reveal Women Make Good in Insurance Field

BY JUNE GESERICK.

A survey of permanent job opportunities for women and girls in the insurance industry was made public yesterday by Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, chairman of the women's executive committee of Illinois public instruction. The report, said to be the only detailed study of its kind, will be published by State Superintendent of Schools Vernon L. Nickell for free distribution to Illinois schools and libraries.

The study is the second in a series of 26 covering each of the nation's 26 major industries and is based on reports of more than 450 insurance companies.

The survey discloses 57 different types of permanent jobs for women in the industry. These range from clerical worker to million dollar sales producer and all are reported to offer unlimited opportunity. Since 1941, 11 new job classifications have been opened to women, the report discloses. These include: Special agent, brokerage manager, executive secretary, public relations director, assistant to the president, agent, personnel director, manager of the women's unit, and general agent.

There have been no major changes in the educational, training, or personal requirements for any of the 57 women's jobs in the industry in the last three years, the report shows. The technical skills of shorthand and typing are recommended for any type of position in the field. To assist potential employes, the Life Agency Management association and other groups conduct evening educational courses. The permanency of the different jobs of the insurance industry is stressed in the report, especially in sales, where women work on a basis of equality with men.

"Because the insurance business is one of service, there is no competition or conflict between what women are doing or can do and what men can do and will return to do when the war is won," the report states. "The field of insurance should receive the attention of career minded girls who seek a pleasant work atmosphere plus a stable business less affected by the movements of the business cycle than most industries."

ORT Expanding Aid to Jewish Victims of War in Europe

Chicago council of ORT [organization for rehabilitation thru training] received word from its Canadian branch recently concerning expansion of activities on behalf of Jewish war victims in Europe. Louis Fitch, president of the Canadian ORT, reports that he has received permission from the soviet embassy in Canada to transport tools and machines on Russian ships to Jewish artisans in Poland thru the Jewish relief committee in Lublin. Likewise, Dr. Aaron Syngalovski, vice president of World ORT, has received permission from the French authorities to ship tools and machinery for needy artisans in Paris and Algiers. Most of the machines were purchased in Canada, and the united Jewish refugee and war relief agencies in Canada are actively participating in financing the projects.

The organization, which trains refugees in crafts that will enable them to become self-supporting, is in the midst of an intensive membership campaign.

Medallion Doily

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This crocheted oval doily is an attractive design which lends an enhancing effect to a highly polished table. The three center medallions are made first, and the lacy, open-work pattern is worked around them. The stitches are simple, and little time is required to complete one doily.

Herbert A. Bruckner of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tretzel Bruckner of Hinsdale. Lt. Bruckner, who has been serving in the Aleutians, is on leave and is on his way to Sarasota, Fla., where both the Elmes and the Bruckner families have winter homes.

Miss Elmes attended the Girls' Latin school. She was graduated from the Nightingale-Bamford school in New York and attended Vassar. A flyer since the age of 16, she was a member of the WASPS until they recently were disbanded. Lt. Bruckner is a graduate of Northwestern Military and Naval academy and of Williams college.

News of Births.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer R. Keare [Miriam Hamilton] of Highland Park became the parents of their fourth child, a daughter, Kathleen, Feb. 8 in Grant hospital. The baby and her brothers and sister, Douglas, Nancy, and Donald, are grandchildren of Isaac Miller Hamilton.

Somewhere in the Pacific Lt. [j. g.] Roy B. Kelly will learn of the birth of a son, Patrick Bligh, to his wife, the former Jean Grasett, on Feb. 10 in the Evanston hospital. The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bligh Grasett of Winnetka and of Joseph J. Kelly of Kansas City, Mo., and has a maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. William Gemmill of Evanston.

Today's Events.

Luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club and a matinee are on the 77th birthday celebration program today for Mrs. Charles S. Deneen of Hyde Park blvd., widow of the former governor, United States senator, and Chicago political leader. Celebrating the occasion with her will be her daughters, Mrs. Allmand M. Blow of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Carl Birdsall, and her sister-in-law, Miss Florence Deneen.

The Friends of Orphans will hold their February luncheon meeting at 12:30 p. m. today in the Wilmette home of Mrs. W. Joseph Arnold. Mrs. Carroll H. Blanchar, projects chairman, will discuss final plans for the organization's ninth annual spring benefit breakfast, fashion show, and bridge party Feb. 28 in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

The Wesley Service club will give a tea for the members of the JANGOs who work there from 2 to 4:30 p. m. today.

Services Today to Open Fourth War Time Lent

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The fourth war time Lent begins today, when Ash Wednesday services for more than a million Chicago worshippers in Catholic, Lutheran, Episcopal, and many Protestant churches will be held beneath gold stars for dead fighting men and blue stars for service men representing upward of 10 per cent of Chicago's church membership.

Thus the ashes imposed on the foreheads of the devout will reach the heart more realistically this year. Sacrifice of others begets penitence and the spirit of intercession. The ashes of last year's Palm Sunday palms will be blessed to tell the story of dust's return to dust in all Catholic churches. In Holy Name cathedral this rite will be performed at the 9 a. m. mass, and today will be observed by Roman Catholics as a day of abstinence.

Daily masses at noon during Lent have been announced for Holy Name cathedral, St. Mary's church, Wabash av. and 9th st., and St. Patrick's church, Adams and Des Plaines sts. Holy Name cathedral will have a one week Lenten liturgical retreat for men and women beginning Sunday, to be conducted by the Rev. Bert Cunningham, C. M., of Denver, Colo.

The Rev. Adalbert R. Kretzmann, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Luke, Belmont and Greenview avs., will open the Lutheran Lenten Wednesday noon-day series at Central Y. M. C. A. today. As customary in many Lutheran churches, Ash Wednesday services are held in the evening. At St. Luke's services in German will be held at 7:30 p. m. and in English at 9.

Ash Wednesday services in Episcopal churches will be celebration of holy communion during morning hours and the litany penitential office for the day at night. In churches where ashes are imposed, this rite usually is held preceding the earliest morning services. All parishes, as requested by Bishop Wallace E. Conkling, have projected additional mid-week services, noon-day intercessions, and children's missions.

As an example, the Rev. Donald Boyd Cline of the Church of Our Saviour, 540 Fullerton av., has announced a Lenten series on "The Bible and the Prayer Book" each Lenten Wednesday night. The Rev. H. Neville Tinker of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Kenwood, will present the Rev. Dr. Bernard I. Bell to his congregation tonight. The latter will speak on "The Meaning of Truth."

Dr. Harold W. Ruopp of Central church, Studebaker theater, will administer holy communion tonight in Central church chapel, 206 Fine Arts building.

Matrix Club Meeting.

Miss Margaret Sturgeon will preside at a meeting of the Matrix club at 7:30 o'clock tonight, when manuscripts written by the club's members will be read anonymously and criticized.

The bidding:

|---|---|---|---|
| 1 club | Pass | 1 heart | Pass |
| 1 no trump | Pass | 2 clubs | Pass |
| 2 hearts | Pass | 4 hearts | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

A very simple hand in which the interpretation of the various bids should have been very clear and yet which caused considerable confusion among players who held it, is shown today.

South opened the bidding with a club. North responded with one heart and South quite properly rebid one no trump. North thereupon bid two clubs and it is South's decision at this point that governs the destiny of the hand. Most of the South players felt that they had already done their duty and passed. Some of them decided to show their slightly additional values by bidding two no trump which did not have a happy ending.

It was all a question of the interpretation that South should place upon North's bid of two clubs. Most of them decided that it simply indicated a dislike of no trump and was not a constructive bid. That is the reason they passed.

I do not believe this to be sound reasoning. It is a good principle of bidding that whenever your partner could have passed and he does not do so, it is a step forward and must be regarded as a constructive bid. In the words of one of our former eminent authorities, "If you could have passed and do not, you better have some groceries."

South at this point should bid two hearts. This may meet with some objection on the ground that the heart support is not very adequate. That is true, but North already knows this and must take it into consideration before making any further bids.

South is saying in effect: "Partner, I did not raise you from one heart to two hearts, remember that. I am simply giving you one more mild chance because you refused to quit. Do not expect too much of me. Don't overlook the fact that my hand is evenly balanced."

As soon as North learns of the slight heart fit, he has good reason to risk a game contract, knowing that no more than one diamond trick can be lost.

Proper Eating Equipment Aids Child's Etiquet

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Now look at the tablecloth, Betsy. Aren't you a careless little girl!"

"Leave the table at once, Johnny. If you can't eat without knocking over your milk, you'll have to sit by yourself, that's all."

I always feel sorry when I see little children scolded or punished for mishaps while eating. It seems so unfair. Even grownups have their accidents at one time or another. Yet no one would presume to call them down for tipping over a glass of water or getting a spot on the cloth. How much more unfair it is to do so to a child who has less skill in manipulating knife, fork, spoon, and glass.

It isn't as if a child's table mishaps were intentional, or even more than normally careless, for they aren't. The displeasure or punishment that are visited on his young head must seem unjust to him, and a bit bewildering. Certainly they are bad for his digestion, and tend to create mealtime difficulties, rather than to prevent them.

For some reason adults often expect more of children than they do of other grownups in this respect. If your child falls below your ideals for him at the table, think over the following things in this connection. The result will be either to improve his manners or make you kinder and more understanding:

Be sure that you make allowances for his age, which means for the degree of small muscle coördination that he can have.

See that he is entirely comfortable and properly seated at the table, that is, near enough, high enough in relation to the table, and so forth. This should be done, whether he uses a high chair, a low chair with a cushion on it, or his own small chair and table.

Perhaps some of your impatience is due to the spoiling of a favorite place doily or the breaking of one of a choice set of goblets. The cue here is to provide your young consumer with china that is not easily broken and with some sort of attractive table covering that does not entail too much labor if soiled. A pretty flowered tray for at least two of his meals, if he eats alone, is another way out. And I believe that a small low sturdy table and chair should be provided for every small child.

Les Filles de France to Give French Program

Les Filles de France will present a French program at 2 p. m. today in room 212 of the Fine Arts building. Tea will be served. The organization has contributed more than $20,000 to various charities, including the American and French Red Cross, the Quakers, the Community and War Fund, and British war relief.

Thru the Looking Glass

Get a group of women together these days and the talk inevitably turns to "What a dirty winter this is!" We all grumble and grouse about how our winter clothes are never clean and how sick we are of our heavy coats and galoshes. There's no getting around the fact that the last months have been so hard on clothes and skins that even the most fastidious among us feels like giving up the struggle and not even trying to look neat and clean. But for our own good we might as well pick up the challenge and make the best of a bad situation.

There are a few little tips we can offer that might be of some help. A bottle of cleaning fluid, a clean cloth, and your faithful clothes brush are good gadgets to rely upon for keeping winter suits and coats free of excessive dirt and grime. At least once a week treat them to a going-over with cleaning fluid, particularly around the neck lines; give them a good brushing and then let the garments hang out in the fresh air for a couple of hours. This simple cleanup treatment will prevent their becoming distastefully dusty and decrepit looking and you'll be much less disheartened about having to wear your old winter duds than if you simply let them grow steadily more soiled.

Galoshes won't wilt under a little soap and water that's carefully applied and the popular stadium boots react nicely to a bit of ordinary shoe polish or saddle soap. Dark colored cloth gloves probably won't fall apart if they're dipped in sudsy water and when they're clean you'll find it much easier to keep your hands looking less like a grubby little boy's than those of a grown woman.

Handbags and hats can be given an occasional beauty treatment with brush and cleaning fluid and it all adds up to a little time and trouble that pays off in making you feel and look 100 per cent better until spring rolls around and you can doff your winter-weary raiment for bright spring clothes.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Pugilism's capitol tonight will be Chicago's Stadium, the nation's largest indoor sports arena. And it's all because George Costner, a lanky Negro lad from Cincinnati, with 23 consecutive ring victories, has convinced our citizens he can challenge effectively Ray Robinson of New York, who for many months has been considered the uncrowned ruler of the welterweight division.

The veteran's splendid record—he has been defeated only once in 143 amateur and professional fights in six years—naturally has established him as the favorite over the 10 round route. But two are needed for a fight and it's Costner who has

Receipts May Hit $94,000.

Costner's challenge may mean that all of the Stadium's 19,695 seats will be occupied tonight at a cost of $94,000. Not since 1932 when Jack Dempsey, in a farewell tour, lost a four round exhibition by newspaper decision to Chicago's erratic King Levinsky, has professional pugilism produced a capacity crowd in the Stadium. Tonight's receipts will exceed those of the 1932 show partly because prices include 30 per cent paid in state and federal taxes.

Certainly this is a sweet promotion for Irv Schoenwald and Jack Begun, who have boomed their weekly Marigold shows into big business; for Danny Spunt, who holds a management contract; for Ed Johnson, Costner's manager, and for 21 year old Costner. George received only $1,500 when he knocked out Rangel.

Both Are Hard Punchers.

Each of these welterweights can punch and this is the sound basis of the demand for tickets. Even Robinson's more verbal supporters, who first saw him win an intercity Golden Gloves featherweight title for New York in 1939 by whipping Tony Ancona, admit they don't know what will happen if Costner delivers the first sound punch. They do think they know what will happen to Costner if Ray gets first crack at George's jaw.

Robinson's poise and judgment under fire cannot be questioned. He proved inherent skill in the Golden Gloves in 1940, when he and Ancona met again in intercity competition as lightweights. Tony dropped Robinson in the first round for a count but lost the decision when he himself was knocked down in the third round.

They're Even—Physically.

Physically there is no choice between the welterweights, who will not differ a pound when they weigh in at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the offices of the Illinois athletic commission. Costner weighed 147¼ pounds for his fight with Rangel. Each is 6 feet tall and has a 72 inch reach, unusual at this weight but conducive to speed and agility.

Ray Robinson, New York, and George Costner, Cincinnati, 10 rounds, 148 pounds.
Johnny Bratton, Chicago, and Jimmy Anest, New York, six rounds, 140 pounds.
Collins Brown, Chicago, and Buddy Rose, Cincinnati, six rounds, 160 pounds.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

KING CLANCY, National Hockey league referee, recently came across an old and virtually forgotten trunk in his attic and in rummaging thru it found a number of shares of stock he had purchased years ago at rock bottom prices. . . . He learned their current value was many times the purchase cost and disposed of them at a profit of several thousand dollars. . . . John Greene, regular guard on the Lions football team, coached Detroit's Eastern High school basketball quintet to second place in the Metropolitan league this winter. . . . Lt. (j. g.) Paul Brown, who will coach the Cleveland eleven in the All-America conference, has vivid memories of at least four games in which his Ohio State elevens played. . . . Two were with Michigan—a 20-all tie in 1941, when the Wolverines had Tom Kuzma and Bob Westfall, and the Buckeyes' 21 to 7 triumph in 1942. . . . He never will forget, either, the 33 to 0 decision his men scored over Southern California on the Pacific coast and the welcome 20,000 fans gave the returning conquerors. . . . No. 4 is the storybook 29 to 26 defeat of Illinois in 1943. . . . When the final gun sounded the score was 26 to 26, but there had been an Illini foul on the last play and a game can't end that way. . . . The teams had jogged to the dressing rooms when it was ruled there must be one more play. . . . John Stungis, who never before had attempted a field goal in a game, booted one from the 30 yard line for victory on the extra play. . . . Following James Byrnes' ban on horse racing, the value of Santa Anita stock dropped from $37,500 to $20,000 per share.

Milo Theodorescu, the Romanian boxer, gained a new name when he was admitted to American citizenship. . . . Now it's Milo Frankie Roosevelt. . . . Bernard Docuser, the sensational Filipino boxer who has been out of action with an injured ear, will return to the ring next Monday in New Orleans against Tommy Rotolo of New York City. . . . The Southeastern conference will name its own football officials from now on, having withdrawn from the Southern Football Officials' association. . . . Jess Fatherree, Louisiana State basketball coach, has been notified to report for army induction Friday. . . . The Detroit Lions are considering Utah as a training site next fall. . . . Ford Frick, president of the National league, shoots golf in the 80s. . . . The Professional Golfers' association has completed a new motion picture short titled "Golf Stars in Action." . . . Pvt. Tommy Thompson, the Philadelphia Eagles' one eyed quarter back, has been decorated for valor near Verdun. . . . Tommy captured a Nazi and has the latter's pistol to prove it. . . . A blood clot formed behind one of Thompson's eyeballs when he was hit by a stone as a child, but to all appearances the eye is normal. . . . How Thompson ever got into combat duty with this handicap is puzzling some of his friends in the National Football league. . . . Mort Cooper, Claude Passeau, and a few other big leaguers rate 13 as their lucky number, but with Catcher Al Lopez of the Pirates it is No. 12. . . . Al wore it on his uniform last summer and some thought it was just because Al lives at 1210 12th av. down in Tampa, Fla., but it turned out to be Al's 12th 100-game major league season, tying him with Gabby Hartnett for the all-time National league record.

SOLDIERS' FIELD LEASED BY NEW CHICAGO ELEVEN

Keeshin Signs for 10 Year Period.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

John L. Keeshin's Chicago eleven of the All-America Football conference will play its home games in Soldiers' field. The Chicago trucking magnate annouced yesterday that he has obtained a permit to use the huge lake front stadium for a 10 year period. The agreement was approved by the board of commissioners of the Chicago park district.

Keeshin said he plans a heavy schedule of night games in September and October. This, he believes, will give a maximum number of fans an opportunity to watch the team. It also would avoid conflict in dates with the city's two National league squads, the Bears and the Cardinals.

Still Bidding for Coach.

At the same time the Chicagoan revealed he is negotiating with at least three outstanding college coaches. Keeshin's acquisition of Soldiers' field will give the city its third site for professional football when the All-America begins operating. The Bears are perennials in Wrigley field and the Cardinals' home is Comiskey park.

This is the first time Soldiers' field has had a regular football tenant since Notre Dame used its facilities 15 years ago while its new stadium was being built. Soldiers' field perhaps is best known nationally for the heavyweight championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney in 1927, but it has been the site for many thrilling intercollegiate football games.

Lake Front Site Largest.

Its seating capacity can be increased to 100,000 with special installations. As such it will be the largest plant in professional football.

This is the sixth playing grounds announced by the All-America conference. The Cleveland team, which will be managed and coached by Lt. (j. g.) Paul Brown after he returns to civilian life, has arranged to play in the Cleveland municipal stadium, which will house 83,000.

Home of the San Francisco club, owned by Anthony J. Morabito and to be coached by Buck Shaw, will be Kezar stadium, which can accommodate upward of 60,000 spectators. Triborough stadium, where the New York team will play, holds 48,000. Buffalo's municipal stadium has a capacity of 53,000.

The Orange bowl, obtained by Harvey Hester for his Miami club, seats 38,000. Hester also has exclusive professional football rights for the proposed new Orange bowl to be built after the war. Plans call for this stadium to hold 75,000.

FARR PAYS $45 FOR BREAKING SAILOR'S NOSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Tommy Farr, British boxer who survived 15 rounds with Champion Joe Louis, lost a legal battle today. He was fined $20, plus $21 costs and $4 witnesses' expenses, for breaking the nose of a sailor patron in the Brighton hotel bar he manages.

The row is said to have started when John Bottomley and four sailor companions called Farr a "third rate fighting punk" after he had asked them to leave the bar, as it was closing time and they were using objectionable language.

NELSON SHOOTS 65; WINS $5,000 GOLF PLAY-OFF

New Orleans, La., Feb. 13 (AP).—Byron Nelson helped himself to a $1,333.33 war bond Valentine eve gift today, shooting a 7 under par 65 to defeat Harold (Jug) McSpaden by five strokes in an 18 hole play-off round for the New Orleans Open golf championship.

Byron Nelson.

It was Nelson's first title in the seven tournaments here and his fourth triumph of the winter season. For McSpaden it was his third second place finish in six previous New Orleans opens.

Nelson's Play Sharp.

Playing under tee-up winter rules on a course made slow by heavy rains over the week-end, Nelson equaled the course and tournament record for 18 holes set by Henry Picard in the 1941 tournament.

Nelson putted at 14 birdies, three eagles and one par. He got five of the birdies, missed the three eagles and bagged the par. He putted for eagles on the second, sixth and 18th from 8, 8, and 20 feet, respectively, but missed by 6 inches or less and consequently got the birdies, giving him eight birdies, eight pars and one bogey for the round.

Good, but Not Good Enough.

McSpaden, after falling into a 284 tie with Nelson at the end of the regular 72 holes of play yesterday by turning in one bad round, also shot masterfully today, having pars on 12 holes, four birdies, and two bogeys.

The cards:

MOSCONI ADDS TO LEAD; ENTERS SERVICE MAR. 16

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 13 (AP).—Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia, who is defending his world pocket billiard championship against Ralph Greenleaf of Detroit, had a double run of luck today.

Mosconi took both afternoon and night matches to add to his substantial lead and then announced his Audubon, N. J., draft board had notified him to report for induction March 16. This will enable him to finish his 50 block match with the challenger, which will end Feb. 25 in New York.

Mosconi took tonight's match, 125 to 106, to give him a 772 point lead with 30 of 50 blocks completed.

Springfield (Ill.) Citizens Tribune, finals.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Come ahead, Cleveland, Memphis, Milwaukee, and Omaha!

That goes too for Nashville, Minneapolis, Muncie, Los Angeles, Gary, Oklahoma City, New Orleans, and Pensacola. Bring on your best Golden Glovers, and bring them on swinging, for Chicago will be ready for them, when the ablest punchers and sharpest boxers of 28 cities in 23 states climb into the Chicago Stadium ring for the Tournament of Champions on Feb. 26, 27, and 28.

Such was the challenge issued yesterday by the eight young Chicagoans who won local championships Monday night in the Marigold Gardens ring. This eightsome of boys from the Savoy Athletic club, the Catholic Youth organization, and Madison Athletic club took a well deserved rest yesterday after the triumphs which thrilled the capacity crowd at Marigold Monday.

Boyd and Baylark Repeat.

They'll be back working hard before the week is over, preparing against the invasion of a regiment of the nation's best glove wielders, who hail from a territory embracing California, Florida, Minnesota, Ohio, Texas, Tennessee, and Louisiana.

Two defending champions of last year, Jackie Boyd of the Madison A. C. and Luke Baylark of the Savoy A. C., opened and closed the championship division in Monday's struggles with victories which proved that there was no mistake about their 1944 conquests. Young Boyd weathered a furious first round assault by Don Uyeda of the C. Y. O. to win a clean cut decision. The giant Baylark indicated that he was the happiest party in the Marigold Gardens when he leaped out of his corner after earning a decision over Joe Lindsay, C. Y. O. entrant and a very difficult party to handle.

Six Represent Savoy A. C.

Proof of Chicagoans' interest in Golden Gloves, as revealed in Monday's rapid sellout at Marigold, strengthened yesterday with the announcement that all $3.60 tickets for the finals in the Stadium on March 9, have been sold out. These were placed on an over-the-counter sale, together with Tournament of Champions tickets, on Monday, but

DODDS PRAISES LORD AND PASSES UP TRACK FAME

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 13 (AP).—Gil Dodds, observing that distance runners certainly were turning in slow times in the east's indoor track meets, said today a little wistfully that he could be cleaning up in the mile run.

Gil Dodds.

Then he hastened to add that he couldn't race for medals and serve the Lord, too, so he's preaching.

Dodds, world's record holder for the indoor mile, departed for the west today in the last leg of an evangelistic journey that has carried him to southern and southwestern cities.

Calls Christ Greatest Coach

The track star, who gave up competitive sports altho told that his greatest glory was yet to be gained, had spoken to a youth rally of 1,800, who braved rain and cold to hear him term Christ as the greatest coach and name the Apostle Paul as the greatest assistant coach.

"I learned from Paul," said the slight, curly haired champion runner, "the importance of getting rid of excess weight to be a track man; I also learned from him that in the game of life we must get rid of the excess weight that is sin."

Tells of Athletic Career.

He quoted from Hebrews: "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

Dodds recounted events of his athletic career, using all to illustrate his gospel theories. He told of the boy who wanted him to wear a crucifix in the mile run but Dodds said he refused, then later wore it in the 1,000 yard race. He won both and asserted this indicated one shouldn't, and didn't need to, call on the Lord for worldly gain.

At the conclusion of the rally, more than a score of youth flocked to the stage and professed their faith in Christ.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 13 (AP).—The Chicago Blackhawks' attempt to vacate the National Hockey league cellar which they have tenanted continuously thru a greater part of the season met a stern rebuff tonight before a crowd of 7,500 in Boston Garden when the Bruins beat them, 3 to 2.

As the result of tonight's game Boston strengthened its grip on the fourth and last playoff berth in the standings and at the same time the Blackhawks were dropped to three and one-half games behind Boston with 13 games remaining on the Chicago schedule. The Blackhawks will meet the New York Rangers, whom they had hoped to dislodge from fifth place tonight, in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

Herb Cain Makes First Goal.

Harvey Bennett, in the Boston cage tonight as a substitute for the ailing Paul Bibeault, kept Chicago scoreless for almost 50 minutes of play and was credited with 13 total stops. Mike Karakas, Chicago goalie, made 34 stops.

After being held at bay thruout the opening session the Bruins scored after drawing their first and only penalty during the 10th minute of the second period. With Gino Rozzini in the penalty box for interfering, the Blackhawks launched their first determined drive and Herb Cain poke-checked the puck away from Defenseman Joe Cooper in center ice and made a successful breakaway against the defenseless Mike Karakas.

Horeck Sets Up Two Chicago Goals.

Within the next six minutes Bill Cowley caged Dit Clapper's rebound and Armand Gaudreault gave the Bruins a 3 to 0 lead in a three-man rush with Rozzini and Jack Shewchuk.

Pete Horeck set up both of Chicago's speedy goals, the tallies coming with a spare at 39 seconds in the final period. He first dropped a puck inside the Boston defense for McDonald, who ruined Bennett's shutout hopes by faking him perfectly. Then Horeck bounced the rubber off Bennett's pads and Cully Dahlstrom made good on the rebound.

With five minutes left the Blackhawks threw five forwards into action and, with 44 seconds to go, they pulled out their goalie to have six mobile stickmen fighting for the tying point.

MARQUETTE IS BEATEN, 75 TO 65, BY GREAT LAKES

Gene Berce, forward, set two basketball scoring records at the Great Lakes Naval Training center last night as he and his Marquette mates were defeated by the Bluejackets, 75 to 65, for the Sailors' 28th victory.

Berce scored 33 points, more than half of his team's total, which set a new scoring record for the drill hall. Thirteen of these points resulted from 14 free throw attempts, another record for the training center.

The Sailors led, 36 to 33, at the end of the first half and were paced by Paul Cloyd, forward, who scored 20 points. Lineups:

SUBURBAN SWIM CONTEST TO BE HELD SATURDAY

New Trier Is Favorite to Triumph Again.

BY DAVID CONDON.

Suburban league swimmers will compete in the league swimming meet at New Trier High school, Winnetka, Saturday, with a chance that some league records may be broken. New Trier already has won the team title in dual meet competition, but Saturday's meet will crown the individual champions. Only individual records made in the official league meet are recognized.

New Trier has won the meet 13 consecutive times, and is in the role of favorite again. . . . The Winnetka school also holds six of the seven varsity records, and six of seven novice records. . . . The other varsity record belongs to Oak Park. . . . Highland Park registered for the other novice record. . . . This meet should be a preview of the state meet to be held next week in the New Trier pool.

Coach L. F. Slimmer, whose Proviso High school wrestlers have won state championships every year but two since the meets have been organized, believes the Buc squad is headed that way again. . . . The Bucs have established an impressive record this season, altho tied by Tilden Tech of the City league. . . . Proviso is expected to give a good account at the sectional tournament, Feb. 23 and 24, when it will be host to 11 other schools.

Boosters of the Kaneville basketball team believe it has established some sort of a record, even if it is 36 straight losses over two seasons. . . . The Kaneville team hasn't won a game since the 1942-'43 season, but the team members believe they have a good reason. . . . They seldom have more than eight boys on their squad, which includes the entire male student body. . . . This year they have seven boys in school, all basketball players.

Students at Lyons Township High school, La Grange, have tagged their their basketball players with a set of nicknames they believe tops any in the West Suburban league. . . . Six of the team members are called "Wacky," "T. P.", "Weed," "The Jaw," "Fatty," and "The Gorilla." The sports editor of the Lyons Lion reports that Bob [The Gorilla] Rettig is usually seen frantically trying to stop fast breaks. . . . Don [Weed] Ward's pet habit is rebounding with both feet on the floor, while the ambition of Jack [Wacky] Prather is to become a bull fighter.

Gage Park, Kelly Junior Teams Win

Basketball play in the City league yesterday centered around the junior division, with Gage Park winning its seventh straight in the central section by routing Lindblom, 63 to 27, as Frank LaPorte scored 16 points. Gage Park led, 33 to 18, at the half.

Tilden, second place team, was idle, and Farragut moved into third place after defeating Harrison, 62 to 29, for its fifth victory in eight games. Perry Gantman scored 31 points as he paced the Farragut attack.

Phillips dropped half a game behind Harrison by losing, 33 to 26, to Kelly.

In the west section, Marshall won its eighth straight by beating McKinley, 42 to 20, as Sheldon Cherny scored 11 points.

Wells continued to hold second place by defeating Medill, 42 to 23, for its fifth in seven, while Foreman moved into fourth place with a 48 to 28 victory over Kelvyn Park.

GOLDEN GLOVERS ON PROGRAM FOR WAR WOUNDED

Wounded war veterans at Vaughan General hospital last night watched a special fight program of four bouts, in which Golden Glovers and boxers from the Catholic Youth organization appeared.

Tom Hickey, who won the city novice 126 pound Golden Gloves title on Monday, scored a three round decision over Tom Clarke. Dudley Taylor, light heavyweight, beat Don Lambert; Bob Shubinski, lightweight, won over Rudy Pellini, and Larry Wheeler, welterweight, defeated Leo Langford in other three rounders.

Fight Decisions

LAST NIGHT.

At Brooklyn, N. Y.—Marvin Bryant beat Joe Acosta [10]; Sidney Miller beat Milton Kessler [8]; Ralph McNeil stopped Joey Puig [2]; Eddie Saunders stopped Buddy Bailey [1].

Illinois to Bid for Big 10 Mat Title Saturday

The University of Illinois will be the ranking favorite Saturday when Northwestern university acts as host to the Western conference wrestling championship meets in Patten gymnasium. The Illini, undefeated in three conference dual meets, hold a victory over Michigan, defending champions. The meet will be a one day affair with preliminaries starting at 10 a. m. The semi-finals will be held at 2 p. m. and the championship matches at 8 p. m.

Illinois, paced by two undefeated competitors, Bob Burwell at 121 pounds and Roland Harkness at 165 pounds, defeated Michigan, 21 to 10; topped last year's runner-up Purdue team, 15 to 9, and Saturday beat Indiana, 22 to 6. The only Illini loss this year was a 27 to 3 defeat by the Iowa Seahawks.

Ohioan Is Heaviest.

Two undefeated middle weights will lead Purdue. They are Robert Folk at 145 pounds and Bob Roberts at 155. Roberts took third in his weight class at last year's conference meet. Among the individual wrestlers George Bollas of Ohio State seems the best bet on the card. At 345 pounds Bollas is undefeated to date.

Northwestern's chief claimant to honors will be Duane [Red] Hanson, undefeated at 145 pounds this season. Indiana has Hugh Wilson, the defending champion in the 155 pound class. Wisconsin's Bill Hill will be a strong contender in the 128 pound bracket.

Swimmers in Action, Too.

The two visiting teams will be paced by a pair of iron men. Robin Middlemas of Wisconsin won the 100, 220, and 440 last Saturday as the Badgers were losing to Illinois, 50 to 34. Bob White, Hoosier freshman, also won three firsts but his team dropped a 51 to 33 decision to Purdue.

Irish Battle Seahawks 2d Time Tonight

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 13 [Special].—The Notre Dame basketball team will return to its home floor tomorrow night after a month absence, when the high scoring Irish quintet meets the Iowa navy preflight school Seahawks.

Notre Dame already holds a victory over the Seahawks, having dealt them one of their three defeats of the season on Jan. 10 by a score of 49 to 44. Probable lineups:

| Iowa. | | Notre Dame. |
|---|---|---|
| Baggott | F | Dee |
| Holland | C | Boryla |
| Pugisy | G | Gilhooley |
| Klein | G | Hassett |

PRIMA BOWLERS HOPE TO BOOST LEAD TONIGHT

The leading Prima Beers, with 12 victories and three defeats, hope to strengthen their position in the Classic Bowling league tonight in Congress Arcade when they meet the Washington Shirts, three games out of first place.

The Keeley Half and Half, runner-up team, two games behind the Primas, will meet the Congress Arcades. The Monarch Beers, who are tied with the Washington team, will oppose the Thompson Restaurants, winners of the first half season title. Johnny Small of the Monarchs still leads in individual standings with 203 plus, followed by Bud Wright, Paul Krumske, and Joe Sinke, all of the Monarch Beers.

Gears Quintet and Fort Wayne Meet Tonight

The American Gears, Chicago's representative in the National Basketball league, meet the Fort Wayne Zollner Pistons, pro league champions, at the Coliseum, 1513 S. Wabash av., at 9 p. m. tonight.

If the Gears can upset the Pistons, as they did in their last contest here, the Chicago team can be assured of a place in the league play-offs at the conclusion of the scheduled season. Vying for top honors in the league scoring standings is Stan Patrick of the Gears, who at present is in third place.

PLAN DISTRICT GOLF ACTIVITY

C.D.G.A. Votes to Continue Relief Work

The Chicago District Golf association last night pledged itself to another season of war time golf in its first 1945 meeting of officers and directors in the La Salle hotel. Under President Lowell D. Rutherford of Medinah, and his war time predecessors, Thomas G. McMahon of Skokie and Maynard G. Fessenden of Bob o' Link, the C. D. G. A. has contributed approximately $100,000 to the recreational funds of veterans' hospitals and the Chicago Service Men's centers.

The board agreed to hold three special sessions in the near future for presidents of member clubs, caddy chairmen, greenkeepers and green chairmen. The first full list of 1945 committee chairmen and cochairmen also was announced at last night's meeting. Instead of a single tournament chairmen for all C. D. G. A. events, special chairmen were appointed for each individual event.

The complete list of chairmen follows:

CHICAGO GLOVES CHAMPIONS SEEK MORE VICTIMS

were exhausted by yesterday afternoon. Other tickets for the Tournament of Champions and the finals are on sale in The Tribune public service offices, 1 S. Dearborn st., between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., and in the lobby of Tribune Tower, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

The C. Y. O. nominee for the Tournament of Champions, Joe Plummer, bantamweight, is a graduate of the 1944 novice ranks, wherein he won the title at the same poundage. The other Chicago winners—Wray Carter, featherweight; Bernard Paige, lightweight; Caesar Douglas, welterweight; James Burkes, middleweight, and Leroy Scales, light heavyweight—are, like Baylark, members of the Savoy A. C., which won the team trophy again. The south siders scored 23 points, against 14 for the C. Y. O. and 13 for the Madison A. C.

GARY TEAM NAMED

Five thousand boxing fans witnessed the crowning of the Gary Post-Tribune's eight open division Golden Gloves champions in Memorial auditorium last night, three of them repeaters from last year's squad. Eight novice division champions also were crowned.

The eight open division winners will compete in the Tournament of Champions in the Chicago Stadium Feb. 26, 27, and 28.

Scottie Wins Best in Show at New York

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—For the first time since 1911, a Scottish terrier, Shieling's Signature, won the coveted best in show award of the Westminster Kennel club exhibition, completed in Madison Square Garden late tonight after two days of competition embracing 2,653 dogs and 102 breeds.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Snethens of Allison Park, Pa., the doughty little coal black Scottie, which will be 3 years old May 19, earlier had triumphed in the terrier variety group to become one of six group victors in the finals, witnessed by some 10,000 spectators. The home bred winner is by Ch. Shieling's Salute-Ch. Shieling's Symphony.

Wins Another Title, Too.

As all six final contestants were American breds, Shieling's Signature automatically added that title for the show to his triumphs.

Winners in the five other variety groups were:

Working—Ch. Dictator Von Glenhugel, Dobermann Pinscher, owned by Capt. and Mrs. Bob Adamson of Arlington, Va. Sporting—Ch. Stockdale Town Talk, American solid black cocker spaniel, owned by C. V. Van Meter of Van Nuys, Cal. Hound—Ch. Marjan II., Saluki, owned by El Retiro kennels, Irvington-on-Hudson. Toy—Ch. Udalia's mei-ling, pug, owned by Dorothy Wagstaff, New York. Nonsporting—Ch. Blakenluzon, standard poodle, owned by Blaken kennels, Stamford, Conn.

Purchased Sight Unseen.

The Dobermann was bought sight unseen by mail in 1942. Capt. Adamson, U. S. M. C. R., now in Washington, paid Breeder John Cholley $150 for the dog, then 5 months old, to give his wife for Christmas.

Illinois, Ohio Meet Friday in Champaign

Illinois' 71 to 48 victory over Indiana Monday night, when the Illini set the team scoring record for the Western conference basketball season, prepares the way for the battle in Champaign Friday night between Illinois and Ohio State which points the direction of the championship race. Each of these rivals has lost one game and the Buckeyes have a percentage tie with Iowa with seven victories while Illinois has won five.

The loser will not be eliminated from consideration, but scarcely can hope for more than a share of 1945 honors. Iowa, safely past Purdue Monday night, 48 to 43, largely because of efficient long distance shooting, now has only four games to play and none with Ohio State. Iowa's test logically should be its final game at Iowa City with Illinois, the quintet which holds the only decision over the Hawkeyes this year.

Buckeyes Also Meet Hoosiers.

Iowa's other opponents are Wisconsin, in two games, and Minnesota. Ohio State travels from Illinois to Indiana for a Saturday appointment with the Hoosiers. If Ohio State is successful on this road trip, the Buckeyes will complete defense of their 1944 title at home Feb. 23 and 24 against the same opponents.

Friday also is basketball's big night in the fight for midwestern honors as De Paul meets Great Lakes in the second game of the Stadium double header. The Blue Demons have won 17 games and lost to Illinois, but they took the return contest with the Illini.

Leading Scorers Meet.

Michigan will complete its schedule in the opening game in the Stadium that night against Northwestern. The two lineups include the leaders in the individual scoring race in the conference. Max Morris of Northwestern leads with 142 points in nine games. Bob Geahan of Michigan has scored 110 points in 11 games.

I. A. C. Plans Full Post-War Sports Card

A post-war athletic program to provide assistance for returning veterans of this war was launched last night in the Illinois Athletic club. The plan was outlined by Livingston E. Osborne, vice president of the club, at the first of a series of monthly dinners which are to be held to promote its post-war athletic program.

Osborne, who also is state director of conservation, said "At one time the I. A. C. held the most enviable position of any club in the country for the promotion of amateur sports events. For many years it led every club in producing the best swimmers and track men. We intend to reëstablish that record at the end of the war. Returning veterans must be given every consideration, and I think that it is the duty and obligation of organizations like the Illinois Athletic club to make special provisions for these men."

KIRK OF ILLINOIS NEW THREAT IN SCORING RACE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Max Morris of Northwestern still is far ahead of his rivals in the Western conference basketball scoring race, but a new factor is Walt [Junior] Kirk of Illinois.

Statistics disclosed that altho Morris has a 142 point total for nine games—32 points ahead of second place Bog Geahan of Michigan—his 15.7 average is only a shade better than the 14.5 pace Kirk has set scoring 87 points in six games. All the sharp shooting Illini guard needs to challenge Morris is a few more 17 point performances such as he turned in as his team trounced Indiana, 71 to 48, Monday night.

The husky Wildcat center has only three games left, including Northwestern's final against Illinois Feb. 24. The Illini have six games remaining. Two are against Ohio State and one against Iowa's Hawkeyes, currently deadlocked with the Buckeyes for first place.

Illinois Tops in Scoring.

Judging the caliber of Illinois' remaining competition, the odds favor Morris to stave off any stretch threat by Kirk.

Third behind Geahan, with 101 points in 11 games, is Purdue's Myrwin Anderson. Another Boilermaker, Paul Hoffman, and Al Kralovansky, Indiana, are tied for fourth at 93. Another deadlock exists for sixth spot between Clarence Hermsen of Minnesota and Clay Wilkinson of Iowa at 90. Rounding out the top 10 point makers are Des Smith of Wisconsin with 85 and Jim Copeland of Indiana with 83.

Illinois' scoring burst against Indiana enabled it to displace the Hoosiers as the top offensive team with a 52.5 average. Defensively, Ohio State moved into a first place tie with Iowa. The conference pace setters each have yielded 308 points for a 38.5 average.

Two Teams Almost Thru.

Altho Purdue leads in total points with 515 and has two players among the first 10, the Boilermakers have played 11 games and close their conference schedule at Wisconsin Saturday night. Michigan also closes this week-end, playing its 12th game against Northwestern, which presages a sharp drop for second place Geahan in the individual standings by the time all precincts are reported. The race proper ends March 3. Leading individual scorers:

GREENBERG WILL PLAY AGAIN IF HE'S IN SHAPE

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP).—Capt. Henry B. Greenberg of the United States army air corps, the American league's most valuable player in 1935 and 1940—said today he intends to return to baseball after the war "if I'm in shape." Greenberg is 33.

The former Detroit Tiger player refused to answer other baseball questions, declaring he would be willing to discuss baseball again "when the last out is made in the big game."

F. D. R. TO FIGHT SEPARATION OF MONEY PLANS

Acceptance of Fund Alone Doubted.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

President Roosevelt's message to congress made clear that the administration will insist on acceptance of the Bretton Woods program without modifications. Administration forces in congress, anticipating efforts to separate the related plans for creation of a world monetary fund and international bank, are expected to resist attempts to consider each proposal on its individual merits.

The President described the Bretton Woods plans as basic to his entire program for post-war international collaboration. Without them, he said, other plans for coöperation would not work.

Two Held Inseparable.

The President did not suggest specifically the form of the legislation that he expects congress to pass, committing the country to the two global money schemes calling for initial subscriptions by the United States of nearly 6 billion dollars. However, he made plain that he regarded the two schemes as inseparable and as essential to his other proposals.

Legislation binding the United States to the two agencies is expected to be introduced in congress later this week. Sen. Wagner (D., N. Y.) announced that he is preparing such legislation.

If considered separately it is not believed that the 8 billion 800 million dollar world monetary fund would stand much chance of congressional approval. It has been more severely criticized than the other proposal for a 9 billion 100 million dollar international bank for reconstruction and development.

Inflationary, Bankers Say.

The most devastating criticism of the fund was by a special committee of bankers who characterized it as a dangerously inflationary scheme which violates the principles of sound credit. The committee, representing the American Bankers' association, recommended rejection by congress of the fund and incorporation of some of its purposes in the international bank. The only recognition by the President of the criticism the fund has aroused was his comment in his message that the fund "is not perfect."

The President's espousal of the proposals was couched in general terms. He did not touch on the most controversial features of the fund which, among other things, extend credit to subscribing countries on an automatic basis.

Presented as Complete Plan.

The proposals are presented to congress as a completed program, which if turned down would jeopardize all other plans for securing world peace, it was pointed out by those who studied the President's message. It was recalled that previous discussion of the proposals by administration spokesmen was carried on at what is known in government English as "the technical level." With public debate on the proposals greatly restricted up to now, the critics of the program believe that the only way in which the plans can be considered on their merits is thru discussion in congress.

GRAINS ADVANCE 1 TO 2 CENTS IN HEAVY TRADING

Grain prices moved upward steadily yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, led by rye. Strength in securities, inflation prospects, reported failure of the supply of box cars to show an increase on western railroads, and a tight cash grain situation led to short covering and buying of futures by commission houses and professional traders. Altho profit cashing appeared from time to time, closing sales were near the day's top prices.

Rye futures closed 1⅞ to 2⅛ cents a bushel higher, wheat gained 1¼ to 1⅞, corn, 1 to 1¼, oats, ⅞ to 1⅛, and barley, ⅝ to ⅞ cent.

Ceiling prices prevailed for choice quality cash wheat, corn, oats, and barley because of inability of railroads to furnish cars to move the grain to terminal markets. However, grain for deferred shipment from the country sold well below current open market prices.

Fox Brewing Property Yields 2 More Oil Wells

Two more oil wells have been brought in in the West Edmund field in Oklahoma owned by Peter Fox Brewing company, Milton F. Fox, vice president, disclosed yesterday. This raises the total of wells in the area to 52, of which 15 are wholly owned by the company.

Chicago War Orders Near Record Total

Reflecting accelerated demand from the battlefronts for critically needed supplies, last month's new contracts for war material in the Chicago ordnance district were the second highest since shortly after Pearl Harbor, Col. John Slezak, district chief, disclosed yesterday.

New orders placed by the district in January totaled $458,984,000, compared with $155,074,000 last December, and $289,958,000 in January, 1944. The peak since the war started was $496,393,000 in June, 1944.

Total Nears 6 Billions.

Col. Slezak said January orders primarily were for all types of ammunition and for tank automotive items. Included was the International Harvester company 45 million dollar contract for the production of M-4 Sherman type tanks.

Active contracts in the district as of Jan. 31 were valued at $3,218,680,000, and the total awarded since the beginning of war production in 1941 amounted to $5,951,865,000. Col. Slezak said the ratio of contract terminations continues low in comparison with new contracts.

"Emphasis is still on ever increased production in this district of practically all types of orders," he asserted. "This district has 74 per cent of its production classed as critical, compared with 33 per cent last June. This figure shows the tremendous production load Chicago industry is confronted with in ordnance."

More Workers Needed.

He said many plants in Chicago producing critical war material are hampered by insufficient man power, and that it must continue to use the available man power to the utmost.

"At this point in the war it is more imperative than ever before that workers remain in their war jobs," he emphasized. "We are constantly kept aware of the terrific responsibility we have to perform by continued appeals from the men in charge of supplies on the battlefronts for more and more war materials."

ILLINOIS POWER TO BUILD LARGE ELECTRIC PLANT

Monticello, Ill., Feb. 13 (Special)—Illinois Power company will begin work this fall on an initial 11 million dollar installation of a central electric generating station on the east bank of the Illinois river near Havana, Ill., H. E. Steinhoff, vice president, disclosed today.

Plans for the complete project, involving an 8 year program, have not advanced sufficiently for an estimate of the total expenditure, it was explained. Completion of the first installation, consisting of two 40,000 kilowatt turbo-generator units, is scheduled by late 1946.

Approval by the war production board of the company's application cleared the way for the initial construction which with completion of the major part of the project by 1950 will make the company independent of outside sources for electric power to serve its northern and central divisions. It has been buying part of its needs from Commonwealth Edison company and Central Illinois Light company.

MILLION SMALL NEW BUSINESSES HELD U. S. NEED

At least 1 million new small business establishments will be the principal need of the United States to assure high employment after the war, Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development, said last night in the Stevens hotel. He spoke at the annual dinner sponsored by the executive program of adult education of the school of business, University of Chicago, under the direction of Willard J. Graham.

"Secondarily we need bold, smart plans for expansion by existing businesses," Hoffman said. "These must be ready to go if we are to prevent mass unemployment from widening the area of control by government."

Emphasizing the need for more small business enterprises, Hoffman said there are only 200,000 employers of eight or more persons in the country. He shaded President Roosevelt's estimate of 60 million jobs needed after the war, setting the goal at 53 to 56 million. Unless these are provided by private enterprise, however, the government will step in and try to do so, he warned.

OFFER SENTINEL RADIO STOCK AT $7.25 PER SHARE

Offering of 150,000 shares of $1 par common stock of Sentinel Radio corporation will be made today at $7.25 a share by a banking group headed by Blyth & Co. Of the stock, 75,000 shares represent new financing by the company, which will add the proceeds to working capital. The other 75,000 will be for the account of a stockholder.

A group headed by Courts & Co. will offer 102,424 shares of $3 par common stock of Delta Air corporation, priced at $22.50 a share. The company operates air lines principally in the southern states.

PULLMAN GETS READY FOR BIG RAIL CAR SALES

Plans New Luxury Train Models.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Moving to provide the railroads with instruments with which to meet their expected severe competition after the war, the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company yesterday announced that when the war ends it will be ready to manufacture passenger equipment of startling new designs and luxury. Luxurious day-night coaches with seats that fold to permit full length sleeping, club cars providing dancing and movies, observation cars with broad plate glass windows, electric brakes for smoother stops, and numerous other innovations will be offered.

Wallace N. Barker, vice president, said that "several million" dollars will be spent on a modernization and construction program to permit the building of much needed new passenger equipment as soon as authority is granted to resume such work.

Will Not Delay War Work.

The program has been arranged so that it will not interfere with production of war material, but will help the company provide jobs for returning war veterans and for its own employes engaged in war work.

Barker explained that the program concerns all six of the company's plants and provides for new construction, installation of new equipment, renovation of buildings and machinery, and other measures to increase plant efficiency.

Pullman-Standard has shown top railway executives mock-ups or detailed plans of the new equipment which will be built after the war and already has received tentative orders. Recognizing that post-war airline and highway equipment will offer the railroads strong competition, Pullman-Standard has sought to design new equipment which will sell itself to the public on sight and thereby help the railroads to retain customers gained during the war and win new ones.

More Conveniences Sought.

Much of the new equipment is designed to attract persons who can be induced to travel only by low cost and unusual convenience which make train trips a real pleasure. It includes:

1. A combination bar-lounge car designed for transformation into a smart night club and movie theater. The forward half contains a cocktail bar and soft cushion seats. At night seats are folded against the wall, clearing a 9 by 20 feet floor for dancing to music provided by a concealed phonograph. The rear half is an ultra-modern observation lounge and at night a movie theater.

2. A day-night coach with seats that can be folded into a bed about the equivalent of a chaise-longue chair.

3. A dining car arranged for diagonal seating so that patrons can leave and enter without disturbing the others.

4. A new "threedex" coach designed for suburban operation with seats for 112 passengers at three levels.

Utmost in Convenience.

New type sleeping cars will provide the utmost in convenience at low cost and it is expected that they will eliminate the old open section sleepers.

Mechanical and structural improvements will include devices for loading and unloading baggage, better brakes, better coupling to eliminate starting and stopping jolts, hot box alarms which buzz and flash when bearings become overheated, better air conditioning, advanced type trucks which reduce car sway at high speeds and deliver a quieter ride and better insulation.

Barker said that about 30,000 passenger cars are in use on the railroads, of which only about 2,500 are of the light weight streamlined type.

U. S. Steel Subsidiaries' Shipments Dip in January

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—Shipments of finished steel products by subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation in January totaled 1,569,115 net tons, a decrease of 198,485 tons from December.

Batting Average in the 6th War Loan

Ickes Combs Bureaus for a Fuel Saver

Interior Secretary Ickes, who also is war administrator of petroleum and coal, is searching thru one bureau after another in Washington, D. C., for somebody who can save thousands of tons of coal in Chicago by authorizing a larger flow of water from Lake Michigan to the Lockport electric power plant, he wrote Mayor Kelly yesterday.

The dim-out of outdoor electric signs and window lights, which started Feb. 1, will save approximately 130,000 tons of coal a year in this area. An additional 72,000 tons, more than half of what is saved by the dim-out, could be conserved by raising the Lake Michigan diversion rate from 1,500 to 5,000 cubic feet a second, which would double the electric output at Lockport, engineers said.

Would Cost Nothing.

Mayor Kelly wired this suggestion last month to Ickes. The mayor explained that the temporary increase in diversion would relieve coal loads on railroads, would correct high water conditions on Lake Michigan, and would cost nothing.

Ickes' reply was received yesterday by the mayor. The secretary of the interior has found that his miscellaneous burocratic powers do not include the jurisdiction to conserve coal in a manner as simple as giving his nod of approval to an increase in diversion.

He's Still Working On It.

He wrote to the war department, he said, but was advised that the war department could not act in the diversion matter.

But Ickes still is trying.

"Altho I doubt that the proposal can be put into effect," he wrote, "I am advising the office of war utilities of the possibilities of your suggestion for the further consideration of that office."

Persons close to the mayor, however, intimated that he may refer his diversion plan to President Roosevelt, when the President returns to Washington from Yalta.

WAR TRUCK TIRE OUTPUT PASSES 40 MILLION MARK

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—The American rubber industry has produced more than 40 million heavy duty truck tires since Pearl Harbor, the Rubber Manufacturers association said today. Rapid expansion of the synthetic rubber industry to a capacity of a million tons a year made record tire production possible.

The tire industry boosted plane tire production from 33,000 in 1939 to 1,417,000 in 1944. Passenger car tire production dropped from 50 million in 1941 to 2½ million in 1942, but increased substantially in 1944.

In addition, the industry made 75,920,000 pounds of "camelback" for recapping tires of civilian cars in 1941 and during 1944 produced four times that amount.

United States stocks of crude rubber increased from 125,800 tons at the end of 1939 to a peak of 629,000 tons at the end of the first quarter of 1942, the association said. About twice as much crude rubber as synthetic was used in the first quarter of 1943, but by the third quarter of 1944 the industry used 70,884 tons of synthetic rubber against 18,766 tons of crude.

Call Chicago Junction Rail Bonds at Maturity March 1

James J. Walker.

James J. Walker, former mayor of New York, has been elected president of Majestic Records, Eugene A. Tracey of Chicago, president of Majestic Radio and Television corporation and chairman of the board of Majestic Records, a new subsidiary, was announced yesterday. Walker previously had been elected a director of the parent company.

D. Cameron Peck, secretary, was elected a vice president of Bowman Dairy company; F. M. Bremmer, assistant secretary, was elected secretary, and J. M. Gullans was appointed assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. E. J. Larson, assistant salesmanager, was promoted to sales manager of the fluid milk division.

Dr. Walter Gropius, chairman of the department of architecture at the graduate school of design, Harvard university, will speak at a meeting Feb. 23 in the Palmer House sponsored by the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Institute of Design, and the Chicago plan commission.

Jewelry wholesalers and retailers in the middle west will confer today with Virgil B. Zimmerman of the Washington offices of the OPA on pricing of a recent shipment of Swiss watches. The meeting will be in the war agencies building, 226 W. Jackson blvd.

The Associated Credit Bureaus of America voluntarily canceled its conference scheduled for Thursday and Friday, said Harold A. Wallace, general manager and secretary. A previous report that the government denied permission was in error, he said.

Charles A. Bailey, chief lubrication engineer of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation Gary works, was elected chairman of the American Society of Lubrication Engineers. E. J. Ehret, district representative of the Farval corporation, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Stanton E. Winston, director of the Midwest Power conference, announced that its application to the war committee on conventions has been denied and the conference scheduled for April 9 and 10 in the Palmer House has been canceled.

Roland D. Doane has been appointed salesmanager of the Ingersoll Steel and Disc division of Borg-Warner corporation, R. C. Ingersoll, division president, said.

OPA FILES FOUR SUITS CHARGING EXCESSIVE RENT

The OPA yesterday filed four suits in Municipal court, alleging rent overcharges. It asked $100 treble damages from Mrs. Cora Lee Johnson, 4743 Indiana av.; $315 from Miss Clara Kurland, 1210 Wrightwood av., against whom overcharges of $5 to $10 monthly were alleged for two apartments at 2608 N. # PAY-AS-YOU-GO URGED AS BEST CONFIDENCE AID

Theory of Big Debt as Benefit Assailed.

Ask Debt Limit Hike

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13 (AP).—Legislation raising the public debt limit to 300 billion dollars, about seven times the pre-war level, was introduced today by Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] of the house ways and means committee.

Public faith in America's financial status could receive no better stimulus than a return to a program of "living within income" as quickly as possible after the war ends, Roy A. Foulke, vice president of Dun & Bradstreet, said yesterday. The national debt will reach 251 billion dollars next June under budget estimates, he reminded, and exceed 300 billion one year after the war in Asia ends.

Attacking the slogan that "public debt is a public benefit" as a dangerous sophistry, Foulke in a brochure issued by his company called for a prompt return to the basic economic policy of Alexander Hamilton that no debt should be incurred without a definite plan for its "extinguishment."

Phrase Termed Ambiguous.

Foulke questioned the logic of apologists for a large public debt and challenged implications of the statement that "we owe the debt to ourselves." The phrase is ambiguous, he asserted.

"While carrying connotations of the same individuals, it actually refers to different entities," he said. "If the size of our national debt should make no difference because 'we owe it to ourselves,' we would run into the interesting sophistry that the federal government would need to incur no liabilities. The simple fact is that this trite saying has neither logic nor simple economic reasoning behind it. If it had, war loan campaigns would not be needed."

Based on Confidence.

Public acceptance of the government's promise to pay interest and redeem its bonds at maturity is based on the same kind of confidence that business men place in a commercial transaction when they venture capital for profit after weighing the risks, he said.

"The only alternative to this every day theory of sound economic credit is to assume that as a sovereign nation we may do what we will, that we may freely abrogate any or all contracts, that we may devalue our funded debt, legislate lower rates of interest, refuse to redeem bonds on demand, break the existing contracts under which the various issues of outstanding securities of the federal government have been sold, again revalue our currency in terms of gold. As a sovereign nation we so have the right to do."

Film Company Earns Less on Peak Business

Business of Universal Pictures company reached an all time peak in its fiscal year ended Oct. 28 as operations were extended to many persons in foreign countries who never had seen an American movie before, J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders. Net income decreased despite increased revenues from both domestic and foreign operations.

J. Cheever Cowdin.

Motion pictures have followed troop movements and natives along the way also have watched the pictures, said Cowdin. Dark skinned South Pacific islanders, peasants in the Italian mountains, and Frenchmen in small Alsatian villages have seen and acquired a taste for motion pictures, he said.

"Starved for Entertainment."

Pictures again are exhibited on a commercial basis in liberated European areas and reception by a public "long starved for entertainment" has exceeded all expectations, he said. The public there has taxed the capacity of all theaters despite relatively higher admission prices.

Universal has reopened offices in France and other liberated countries and is in the process of reorganizing its European business on a normal basis, said Cowdin. Altho large balances of foreign exchange are being accumulated in liberated territories, the value of these currencies in dollars or when they will be received is uncertain.

Latin American business continued to gain, he said, and demands for pictures in Central and South America exceeds exhibition facilities. Revenues from foreign operations amounted to $19,175,000 in the fiscal year, an increase of $1,760,000 over the preceding year.

Revenues Rise 5 Million.

Total rentals and sales of Universal pictures yielded a record $51,561,504, against $46,478,527 a year earlier. Domestic operations gained $3,323,000 to $32,386,000. Net income was $3,412,701, or $5.15 a share, compared with $3,759,968, or $6.57 a share. The number of shares outstanding increased materially during the year. Taxes aggregated $9,639,542, equivalent to 74 per cent of earnings before taxes.

Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., had net income of $716,110 in the three months ended Dec. 31, first quarter of its fiscal year, compared with $699,763 a year earlier, said Ward M. Canaday, chairman. Sales in the quarter totaled $49,976,525. Unfilled orders on Dec. 31 were at a record high, he said.

Montgomery Ward Sales Top Year Ago 27 Per Cent

Sales of army occupied Montgomery Ward & Co. rose 27.4 per cent in January, final month of Ward's fiscal year, to a record high for that month of $45,633,255, compared with $35,810,167 a year earlier, the company said yesterday. Sales in the 12 months ended Jan. 31 rose 4.6 per cent to $663,519,316 from $634,268,877 in the 1943 fiscal year.

STOCKS SURGE TO NEW TOP IN BROAD MARKET

Advance Is Biggest Since March, 1943.

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—In one of the broadest markets in the last year, stocks today pushed to a new 7½ year peak with gains of fractions to more than 2 points spread thru nearly all departments.

Buying demand had accumulated over the holiday and gave the list a general lift at the start. Rails, motors, and steels were exceptionally strong. Both war and peace issues rose and prices at the close were near the highs. Large blocks of low quoted stocks—Columbia Gas was up a shade on a 25,000 share turnover—raised volume to approximately 1,800,000 shares, compared with 1,180,000 Friday.

Funds for Investment Big.

Sentiment was aided moderately by results of the Big Three parley which was in line with expectations. Purchasing was based partly on inflation psychology evoked by the belief huge amounts of idle investment funds eventually would have to find employment in securities. Dividends and earnings propped individual issues.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite climbed 0.8 point to 60.5, equaling the high mark of Sept. 16, 1937. The advance was the largest for this barometer since March 29, 1943. Rails and industrials each rose 0.9 point. Of 964 issues traded, 692 advanced, only 128 declined, and 144 were unchanged.

Standard Oil of Ohio, again reflecting the stock split proposal, had a delayed start on a 7,500 share block, up 3½ points at a new high, and finished with a net gain of 2¾.

RAIL BOND RALLY BROAD.

New York, Feb. 13 (AP).—A broad rally in a long list of low to medium priced rails boosted the bond market substantially today. Gains of the carriers ran from major fractions to more than 2 points. Largest gains came in the final hour. Sales expanded to $10,340,000.

More than 60 individual issues closed up a point or more. Included were most of the listed bonds of the Baltimore and Ohio, Illinois Central, Katy, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Rock Island, Big Four, Lehigh Valley, Third Avenue Railway, Morris and Essex, and St. Louis-San Francisco.

CHICAGO PRICES CLIMB.

Prices rose yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Turnover of 72,000 shares included a special offering of 12,188 common shares of Standard Dredging corporation completed at 4¾. Brokers received a special commission of 25 cents a share. Most active issues included Athey Truss Wheel, up ¾; Admiral corporation, up ⅝ to a 1944-'45 peak of 11⅛, and Chicago corporation common and Commonwealth Edison unchanged. Point or more advances to new highs were made by Illinois Central, New York Central, General Motors, and Central and South West Utilities preferred.

NATIONALIZATION MOVES.

Please tell me the status of recent moves in Argentina and Chile to nationalize certain utilities owned by American and Foreign Power company.—D. P.

A commission investigating the company's utility concessions in Argentina recently recommended dissolution of virtually all its Argentine subsidiaries. It charged the companies with violations of commercial law and suggested that the government should proceed to nationalize the public utilities "as soon as economic possibilities permit."

Markham Cheever, company executive, said that in the cases of law violation charged the Argentine attorney general had given an opinion to the country's Supreme court "in favor of the company's position."

Steps have been reported in the last year or two by several Argentine provinces to expropriate local properties of the company. Its subsidiaries have provided one or more utility services in '166 Argentine communities. It is presumed that the company would be compensated for any properties taken over by public authorities.

In Chile a bill introduced in the finance committee of the house of representatives calling for total expropriation of Compania Chilena de Electricidad, electric power subsidiary of A. and F. P., has been withdrawn by its sponsor. He said that he did not wish to delay a government bill providing only for the purchase by the government of the street car lines owned by the company.

BIG RUN OF LIGHT CATTLE FAILS TO WEAKEN DEMAND

Farmers continued to unload cattle in abnormally large volume and at unusually light weight yesterday, altho the total received was not as big as a week ago. Receipts were 22 per cent larger than on the corresponding day last year.

Chicago again received more than its normal share of aggregate cattle receipts, handling 18.9 per cent of the 20 market total, against 17.2 a week earlier and 16.7 a year ago. Demand for almost all classes of cattle was broad. Some well finished 1,515 pound steers from Iowa sold at $17, the top.

Hog receipts were smallest for a Tuesday in two months. Ceiling prices were paid for practically all stock offered. Sheep and lambs sold steady.

$5,000 or $5,000,000 —IT'S YOUR ESTATE

You may have accumulated a large fortune or only a modest sum—but, whatever its size, your estate deserves careful planning and the services of a capable executor to carry out your plans efficiently and economically.

The American National Bank and Trust Company stands ready to serve you whether your estate is large or small. The knowledge, experience and understanding of our Trust Officers is at your disposal—it is our business to help you develop the plan most suited to your particular circumstances, and to administer your estate to the best interests of those you wish to protect.

Executor's fees are modest and are subject to approval of the probate court.

Our Trust Officers are always available to discuss this matter with you and your attorney. Why not stop in to see us?

[A copy of our new booklet, "Modern Safeguards For Your Estate," will be mailed on request. Write our Trust Department or phone Franklin 9200.]

UNIVERSAL PICTURES COMPANY, INC.

reports to the public

For eight consecutive years, public patronage for Universal pictures has increased. It is the patronage, by millions of moviegoers in this country and throughout the world, that enables this company to earn "its living" and a return to its stockholders on the capital they have invested in the enterprise. As a consequence, it is felt that a substantial part of the public can be expected to have an interest in Universal's progress during its past fiscal year.

STAR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Stars are a most important asset to a motion picture company and Universal's program for developing new star personalities continues to meet with success. The big majority of the company's pictures are built around its own stars. Universal has 49 players under contract, including some of the biggest box office names in motion pictures. Most of them are the product of its star development program.

Universal has been fortunate in the past in developing such top-ranking stars as Deanna Durbin, who eight years ago was an unknown young singer; Abbott and Costello, a night club act that has become the nation's most popular comedy team; Maria Montez, who from a role in a minor Western picture has blossomed into a top drawing card at the nation's box offices, and Donald O'Connor, an engaging youngster who has become a favorite of young and old alike.

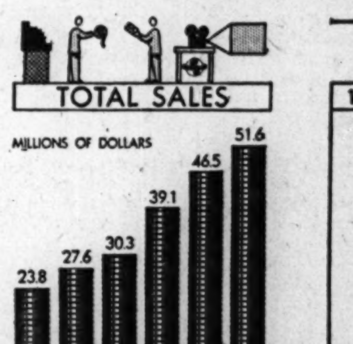
In addition, Universal has under contract a number of other stars of proven box office value developed through this program. These include Susanna Foster, now starred in "Frisco Sal"; Turhan Bey, who will appear opposite Maria Montez in "Sudan"; Ella Raines, featured in "The Suspect," and Robert Paige, who has scored a hit opposite Deanna Durbin in "Can't Help Singing." Then there are Ann Blyth, David Bruce, Louise Allbritton and Peggy Ryan, to mention only a few.

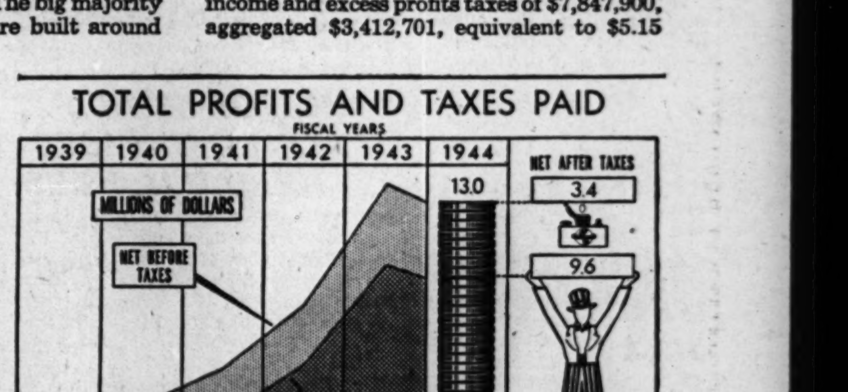
On the horizon for the future are other personalities who give promise of going far. Yvonne De Carlo, an unknown chosen from thousands of girls in a nation-wide search for the lead in "Salome, Where She Danced," is one. Another is Rod Cameron, who, rising from roles in minor Western pictures, now has a leading part in the same motion picture. Still another is Charles Korvin, who has already "clicked" in his first starring picture, "Enter Arsene Lupin."

FINANCIAL PROGRESS

Reflecting the entertainment value of Universal productions, the drawing power of its stars and the favorable market for motion pictures, rentals and other income from operations increased to $51,561,504 in the fiscal year ended October 28, 1944, the largest amount in the history of the company. This compares with $46,478,527 in the preceding fiscal year.

Net earnings, after provision for Federal income and excess profits taxes of $7,847,900, aggregated $3,412,701, equivalent to $5.15 per share on the number of shares of stock outstanding at the end of the fiscal year. This compares with $3,759,968 in the preceding fiscal year.





Net working capital was further strengthened, the total increasing from $16,094,906 to $18,798,687. The ratio of current and working assets to current liabilities was 2.84 to 1.

The company's capital structure was strengthened and simplified during the past year as a result of the sale of $7,500,000 of 3¾% debentures, due March 1, 1959. The proceeds from the sale were used to retire the company's outstanding bank loans and its 5% Convertible Debentures, due 1950.

Taxes of all kinds totalled $9,639,542 for the year. This was equivalent to approximately $2,741 per employee in the United States, to 43 cents of every dollar of wages and salaries and to $14.55 per share of stock.

Last year the payment of dividends was placed on a quarterly basis, the company paying a total of $2 per share for the year. Since the close of the fiscal year, it has declared another quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share, payable January 31, 1945.

Universal has continued to place service to the nation in the war effort as a foremost consideration in its activities. Through the War Activities Committee of the Motion Picture Industry, it has contributed, without cost, 2,021 16mm. prints of feature pictures and 1,275 prints of short subjects to the Army for showing to troops abroad.

NEED MONEY?
IT'S COMMON SENSE TO SEE
COMMONWEALTH
Every day hundreds of Chicagoans call on Commonwealth for help in solving their financial problems. By far the larger part of them are sent to us by satisfied Commonwealth customers who, when money troubles arise, agree that it is common sense to see Commonwealth.
LOANS TO BOTH OFFICE AND FACTORY WORKERS
At Commonwealth we make loans primarily on your personal integrity and honesty. . . . It makes no difference whether you work in an office or a factory . . . or whether you be married or single . . . man or woman, you are eligible for a loan at Commonwealth on your auto, furniture, or just on the strength of your job. Loans $20-$100-$200 or more. No credit inquiries ever made among your friends or relatives.

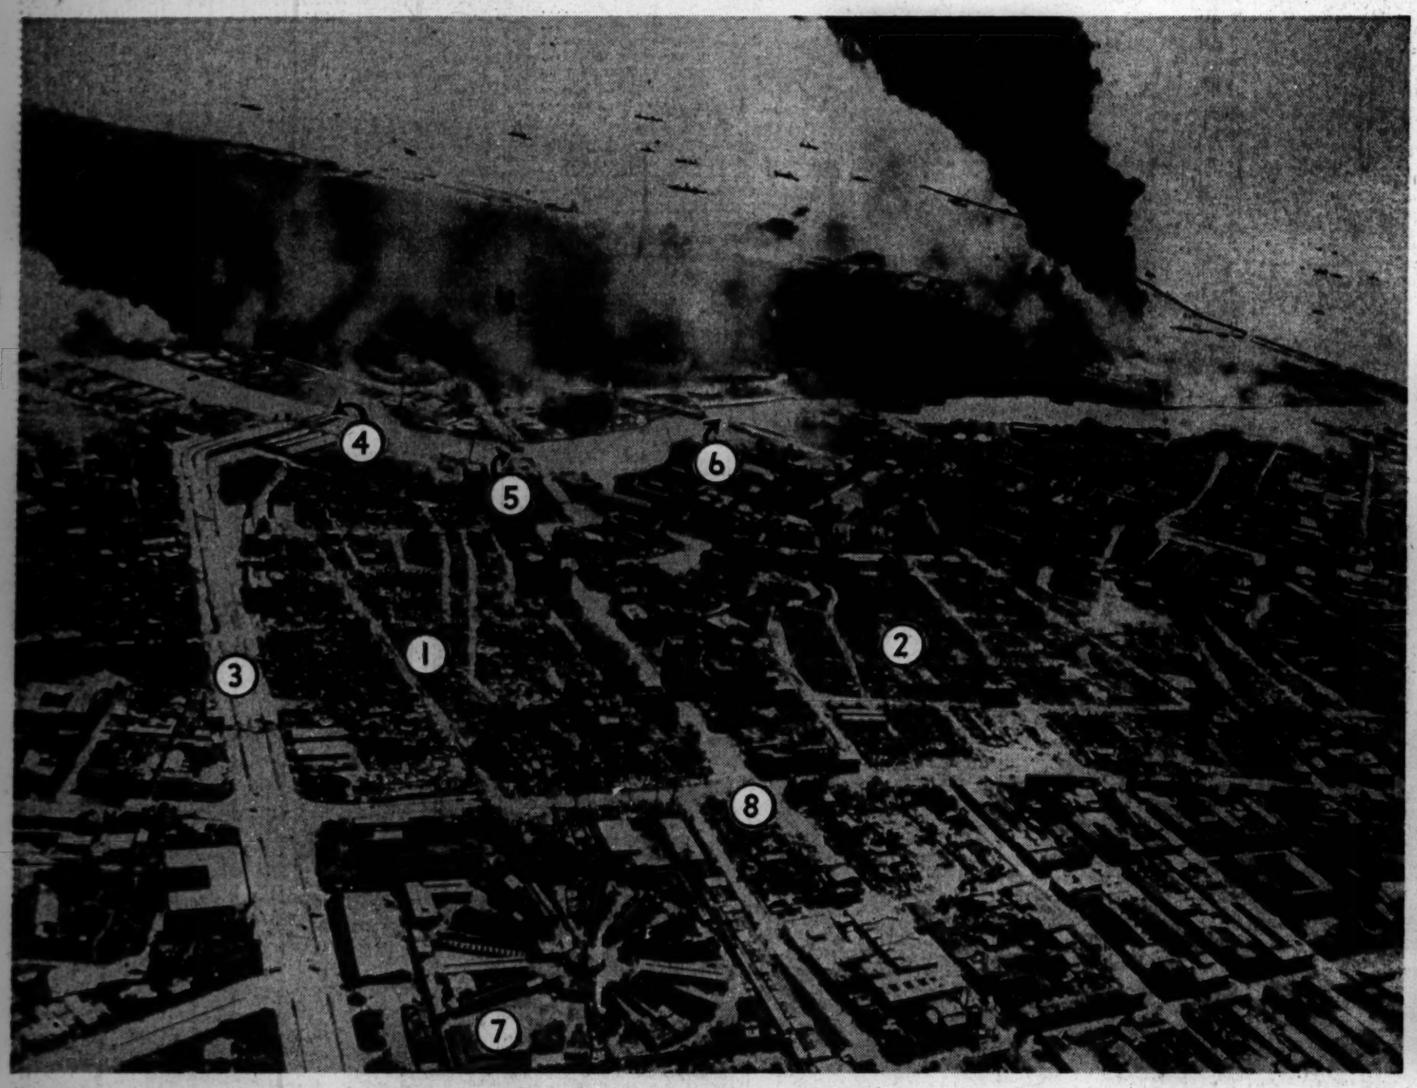
U. S. Escort Carrier Lost in Philippines Battle—Picture Shows Widespread Damage in Manila



Ruins of Manila after fires and demolition charges set by the Japs had ravaged the Philippines capital. Smoke still rises from Engineer's Island (upper right) in picture taken Feb. 7. The Quiap (1) and Santa Cruz (2) districts have been burned over. Quezon blvd. (3) leads to Quezon bridge (4). Destruction of Santa Cruz (5) and Jones (6) bridges can be seen. Bilibid prison (7) was internment site for many Americans. Street running from (5) to (8) is Rizal av. In the harbor (background) are many sunken Jap ships.
